

I grew up dancing since I was able to walk, focusing on jazz and tap and then took ballet for many years until I joined my high school colorguard team. I've studied with Ormand School of Ballet under Jane Bradshaw where over the years, trained with various Russian Ballet Instructors that would come in. At age 19, I spent a week in St. Louis for the St. Louis Tap Festival and trained with Dr. Marion Coles from the Silver Belles.

After graduating I taught dance at a local dance studio to ages 2 to 8 years old in both tap and jazz. I ended up taking over my high school program at the end of my senior year and I've been at Flagler Palm Coast High School since 2006. I have transformed the team from a 1/2 year program with only colorguard to a full year program focused around both colorguard and dance.
