

Prayer for my Children

Father I pray that you protect my/our children. Cover them with the blood of Jesus. I pray that your hedge of protection is over their lives and the angels are positioned on every side. I pray that when they leave the house that the angels are encamped around them wherever they may go. I pray that you protect the babies that are being carried in their mother's womb. Bless them to be healthy and normal. I pray that as they grow and develop and travel through the birth canal that you bless the birth. Your word says "before I formed you in the womb I knew you, and before you were born I consecrated you; I had appointed you a prophet to the nations."

I pray that your will be done in the lives of my/our children. I pray that as they develop in the stages of learning to talk, crawl, walk and run to grow into the young men/women that you have called and predestined them to be that your spirit rest within them; they will not depart from the teaching that they have received about your word. I pray that you bless their going in and coming out as they rise and begin their day. I pray that you speak to their hearts and spirit throughout their day. I pray that you give them favor at school, work and in areas of their lives. I pray that the fruit of the spirit will be a part of their attitude and incorporated into their daily lives. I pray that they honor and respect their parents. I pray that they also respect themselves and others.

I pray for their attitude to conform to the word of God and that they take on the mind of Christ. I pray that you help them to dare to dream and be all that you have called them to be. I pray for them to make wise decisions for their lives. I pray that relationships and anything that is not good for their lives be severed and removed from them. I pray that you bless their future, schools, teachers, friends, careers and spouses they will have. I pray that you will order their steps each day. I pray blessings and favor will overtake them. I pray that their speech will be edifying and encouraging to others. I pray that whoever encounters our children will know that they have been blessed by their presence and know that the hand of God is on their lives. I pray for success and fullness of life. I pray that they will be saved and filled with your spirit. In Jesus' name amen.
