The October 3, 1911 (Figure 1) posting from the Freight Claim Agent, Central Railroad Company of New Jersey at Liberty and Washington Streets, New York, New York and the October 15, 1915, posting (Figure 2) from the Purchasing Agents Office at 143 Liberty Street, New York, NY points to a minor error in the General catalog. The Catalog of United States Perfins. The general catalog, unlike the railroad perfins catalog does not include the word "company" in the users name. It is recommended that the next revision of the general catalog list the user of perfin pattern C294 to the more correct, "Central Railroad Company of New Jersey."

While the illustrations have been photographically cropped to fit these pages full sized photocopies were forwarded to John Randall, the US Catalog Editor, for evaluation. John agreed with the name correction.
