QUERIES ANSWERED

In April issue (No. 210) Peter Day wrote article our an "NEW IDENTITY. BUT WHOSE?" which referred to perfin the LP/LD After used publisher's advertisement card. on a member reading the article. Reg Powell showed me another example of the same perfin. It was off cover but the interesting thing about most it was the piece the stamp had been floated off, which provides a clue to the user.

London By inspection of the Street Directory discovered we possible The London Property Recovery & Accident user, well with This fits fragment Assurance Co. the illustrated "E" the above, except the at end of the second line. for this Another difficulty is that company's address is in SW rather than EC, but they may have had sub-offices London Insurance Companies with EC addresses included :-

> London Phoenix of Paris Life Co., London Plate Glass Co. Ltd., London & Provincial Marine & General Ltd. London & Provincial Assurance Co. Ltd.

The original suggestion was that the perfin belonged to a publishing house, so the possibilities should include :-

Laundry Press Ltd., Lindley Percy , Locomotive Publishing Co. Ltd. London & Provincial Publishing Co. Ltd.
