

First National Banks

Harry Rickard (#1802)

This group of patterns is a very good example of how designers were able to make the same letters -- FNB -- into many different arrangements so that each individual bank or branch could be identified.

WINONA, MN
F116

UNKNOWN
F117

FT. SMITH AR
F120

There are 23 different First National Bank perfins listed in The Catalog of United States Perfins for FNB. Each is a different pattern. Some, really do look alike until fitted onto the catalog picture.

PORTLAND OR F124

BOSTON MA
F126

The F124 and F126 patterns may look alike; however F124 has 5 diagonal holes in the letter "N" and F126 has 6 holes diagonally.,

UNKNOWN CA
F122

KANS. CITY MO
F123

WILCOONA PA
F128

SAN ANTONIO TX
F134