

At-home Covid-19 Test Kit Options

Negative Covid-19 RT-PCR test results are required for international travel and results are time sensitive. If possible, make sure to order your home-kit weeks in advance of your flight to ensure timely delivery. These home-kits can be kept and stored for months before use. Make sure to coordinate the time of taking the test with the airline requirements for departure. Keep in mind that an additional test may be required onsite based upon the country of your destination.

The 4 options listed below provide at-home kits that test for the presence or absence of RNA from SARS-CoV-2 (severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2), which causes the disease Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19). Each home-kit includes:

- Delivery right to your doorstep.
- An Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) from the FDA and is used with EUA authorized RT-PCR tests that meet FDA benchmarks for accuracy.
- Approved by airlines for international travel.
- Gentle, noninvasive, shallow lower nasal swab sample collection, which only enters the lower canal of your nostril (less than 1 inch). Designed to be easy for effective self-collection from home. We recommend a secondary method of transfer onto the Q-tip (i.e., finger or blow very hard on to the swab).
- Potential reimbursement if you have health insurance.
- Shipment of your sample, Monday-Friday, should be received by labs within 1-2 business days.
- Results are typically available within 24-48 hours after the lab receives your sample.
- An official lab report will be made available to you electronically, to serve as proof of your result.
