

2ND EXODUS CHECK LIST

Below is a list of practical applications that are necessary to consider before your relocation. Checking the boxes below means it is even more expedient for you to begin to, if you haven't already, to do the inner work YHWH is requiring from each individual as we prepare ourselves to bring forth fruits worthy of repentance and receive His Holy Spirit. "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of Elohim, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto YHWH, which is your reasonable service. <sup>2</sup>And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of Elohim." – Romans 12:1-2

This return requires full submission to YHWH and a commitment to forsake self. It is important to have begun the introspection of your own heart and mind, to know what you need to forsake before your relocation. We will continue to shed as we go and strive for perfection in Yahoshua, who is the author and finisher of our faith.

<input type="checkbox"/>	1. Decide to leave – determine how much time you need to prepare and implement a timeline in accordance (be realistic but also intentional).
<input type="checkbox"/>	2. Secure your passport – all international travel requires a government issued passport (with at least 6 months remaining before expiration). If you are not traveling alone, everyone must have a passport. *This process could take longer than expected, possibly 16 to 18 weeks or longer, so we recommend this be a top priority once making the decision to relocate.
<input type="checkbox"/>	3. Research the destination you plan to travel to – international travel and relocation isn't as simple as getting there. Each government has its own regulations as to how long a foreign resident may stay, ranging from 1 month to 5 years to 10 years. You are leaving with no plan to return, so it's important to investigate what countries will fulfill your long-term need. This can be arranged through citizenship options as well as extended visa options.
<input type="checkbox"/>	4. Gather visa information – we recommend exploring visa options in your destination of choice by visiting the embassy website. The options vary from country to country, so don't assume it's the same for all places. Some countries require a visa prior to landing, while others can be obtained in the airport prior to entering the country. Also, the time allotted will be based on the time available to

<input type="checkbox"/>	5. Investigate ever-changing Covid-19 requirements – Covid-19 requirements and restrictions are determined by the country of origin, and change frequently. Some countries have begun to lift test requirements and no longer require a negative PCR test result for entry. Countries requiring negative PCR test results vary with the time frame for accepting the results, ranging anywhere between 72 to 120 hours prior to arrival. You want to make sure to plan your flight around your negative PCR results to ensure you don't incur additional fees taking a test in the airport; consider layovers and potential flight delays as well. It is best if you can fly out the day you receive your results. We recommend ordering and using an At-home Covid-19 test, see options here. These tests are noninvasive and self administered; they can be ordered and stored until needed for your departure and the results will be sent to your mobile device (though you should have a printed copy with you as well). Make sure to confirm a test is required to enter your country of interest before ordering. For specific information concerning Covid-19 restrictions and requirements of suggested land bordering countries, visit His Vine of Wisdom's COVID-19 Related Downloadable PDF's.
<input type="checkbox"/>	6. Book your flights – with the above information it's safe to say you can now book your flight. Consider covid results and arrival requirements, and research flights accordingly. The best airline, departure city and type of ticket will depend on your destination. Also, determine whether your trip will require travel health insurance, as some destinations do. We recommend securing travel health insurance for at least 30 days independent of entry requirements into the country of your choosing. See options below. www.SevenConrners.com, AllianzTravelInsurance.com, and AAA.com

<input type="checkbox"/>	7. Decide what to pack – Returning to the ancient path will require sacrifice and shedding, both physically and spiritually. You are embarking on the life of a wanderer, begin to shed your lifestyle and downsize to essentials. We recommend knowing the weight requirements of your checked luggage, as well as the allotted free luggage amount before you begin to pack. Note that additional weight and luggage will incur a fee. Also, consider packing and traveling with industrial storage totes/bins (see here), they may cost more initially ($280), but they are great for organization, hold more than traditional luggage, and double as long-term storage. It may be possible to ship items to your destination, though we do not recommend this without securing an address. For a list of suggestions or ideas of essentials to travel with, visit His Vine of Wisdom’s FAQ.
<input type="checkbox"/>	8. Arrange your living accommodations – Once you’ve determined where you are relocating to, you should begin researching places to stay. Our recommendation is that you arrange hotel or Airbnb accommodations for 2 to 4 weeks upon arrival to allow you the opportunity to explore your living options before making a more permanent housing arrangement. For housing, etc. in Egypt visit OLX. You can also look for Jordan and other countries at the bottom of the page (bottom menu).
<input type="checkbox"/>	9. Secure finances – If you are currently employed you should begin saving money solely for the purpose of your new life abroad; this includes the initial flight and associated fees, as well as living accommodations in your new destination such as housing, food, water, etc. If you are not employed, we recommend finding employment, whether that be online or a traditional workspace. You want to avoid leaving with nothing (if you can help it), it’s incredibly irresponsible. If you reside in the US, look into any government relief assistance like stimulus checks, covid relief, and unemployment that you may qualify for. If you are eligible for retirement, you should retire and take a lump sum distribution. Be sure to

<input type="checkbox"/>	10. Settle any legal matters and financial debt – Settle any legal ties you may have before leaving. This can include anything from car loans to court orders (i.e., child support arrears, felonies, divorces, etc.). As for financial ties, if it's possible, pay off any debt, at the very least, make sure to secure funds to continue to pay remotely. Some debts, like child support, could affect your ability to travel abroad, others may result in an arrest warrant, and you don't want to be an international fugitive, so be sure to seriously inquire on any of the aforementioned if you believe you may be affected. For more information, visit His Vine of Wisdom's FAQ's, Miscellaneous questions and Legal Matters, located under 'Other Downloadable PDFs'.
<input type="checkbox"/>	11. Relocating with children – Do you have full, legal custody? Travelling with a minor overseas is considered kidnapping without the written consent of both parents. If you are a single parent, consider pursuing and settling legal options to obtain full custody and child support if you haven't already. Sign up for any government benefits i.e., the child tax credit and stimulus checks you may qualify for and ensure your accounts are available to accept direct deposits. Additionally, research schooling options for your children, whether it be in the country you will relocate to or some form of home-schooling that can be done online or maintained by the parent.
<input type="checkbox"/>	12. Maintain your US phonenumber – If possible, keep your current phone plan so you can continue to handle any business stateside that may be associated with your phone number. Alternatively, you can secure a US mobile number using one of the options provided in the link below. This will ensure you can continue to
