

The Pantry Door

Published monthly by the Homer Community Food Pantry-November 2019

The Coordinator's Corner.

Haunted Coast Guard vessels, national television ads, and a huge donation of milk are a great way to begin a season of Thanksgiving.

The Food Pantry has also launched a new Volunteer Orientation video which was presented during the last week in October. If you would like to learn more about the many services of the Homer Food Pantry, and how you may help, go to our website at homerfoodpantry.org and click on the Volunteer Orientation Video tab. Here are outlined the many ways you may wish to serve. Or, if you would rather make an on-line donation to the Food Pantry, there is a link for that as well on our website.

Dennis Weidler

A Special Thanks...

...to Safeway.

They donated over 200 gallons of milk over a two week period. Fortunately, it was Across The Bay Day and Smokey Bay Air delivered 32 gallons to the three villages across the Bay.

Haunted Hickory Yields Big Donation.

The Coast Guard's Haunted Hickory has become a highly anticipated Halloween destination. This year was no exception. Over 1,300 visitors came on board to be frightened...or at least thoroughly entertained. As in the past, admission was a donation of canned or non-perishable food items bound for the Homer Food Pantry.

Through the teamwork of the Coast Guard, Coast Guard Auxiliary and Food Pantry volunteers, nearly 3,000 pounds of food came rolling into the Homer United Methodist Church parking lot on the Monday after the event.

A special thanks to Hickory Commanding Officer, Green for permitting and encouraging this annual event. Everyone had a great time and the Food Pantry's store house is re-filled.

Salmon Sisters Committed to Homer Food Pantry.

When you're about to shoot a national television spot, you always think to call the local Food Pantry. Right?

Well, the Salmon Sisters did just that. Our board Secretary Cinda Martin set up the video shoot in the Pantry at the request of the Salmon Sisters.

Cinda was interviewed at length

Board Secretary Cinda with Claire Neaton and Emma Laukitis.

about the services the Pantry provides. The Coordinator was filmed receiving a large wooden box filled with salmon.

And, before they left the Salmon Sisters pledged an entire pallet of canned sockeye salmon to the Food Pantry!

It was a great day, lots of fun and the Food Pantry is the beneficiary.
