Award Winning Brampton Dance Studio Established in 2006

Jade Jager Clark

Jade's Hip Hop Academy (JHHA) is one of the few studios of its kind in North America with an authentic research based curriculum for Hip Hop and street dance including Locking, Breaking, Popping, Waacking, House, Krump and Lite Feet. It is typical of the commercial dance industry to misrepresent and appropriate the above dance styles whom originate in Black and Latino culture. It is assumed that because there is no written syllabus that therefore there is no structure, technique or vocabulary when in fact the creators and pioneers are still alive and passing down history and knowledge orally. Jade Jager Clark has sought out creators and pioneers in order to learn from them directly and pass on the knowledge to her students thereby keeping the history alive in the next generation. Ms. Jade and her team of staff enjoy sharing the rich history, vocabulary and technique with students. She has been recognized as a successful BIPOC female entrepreneur and choreographer as the recipient of the Harry Jerome Young Entrepreneur Award 2011, Brampton's Art Person of the Year Award 2012 and Brampton Board of Trade International Ambassador Award in 2017.

JHHA is also well known for their spectacular performances on big stages for corporate, charity and sporting events. Since 2009 their performance company division has completed well over 300 shows. All instructors also bring the wealth of experience and knowledge of choreography and performance to all of JHHA's workshops as well.
