

So here we are again. We are going to have to postpone lessons after Wednesday evening. We will just continue where we left off and complete the term when we can. I won't give dates for now as things may well change over the coming weeks. So, for now, we will see everyone who swims from Monday to Wednesday this week only. Really sorry once again for all the disruption and uncertainty!