Who Are We?

The Holy Spirit Broadcasting Network is led by God to reach the lost, disciple the saints, edify believers, and equip the churches through the usage of media. We accept the revelation of the Triune God given in the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments and confess faith in the Gospel message of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. We assert that the Biblical doctrines of salvation, grace, and faith are crucial to walking in God's love, victorious Christian living, and world evangelism. We will ensure that all participating individuals, groups, ministries, and churches will uphold the same values.

Our Vision

Our Vision is to create, develop, and present good anointed, prophetic, inspired, and supernatural content in a spirit of excellence into every household around the globe, reconciling all people back to God, through Jesus Christ, by the power of The Holy Spirit.

Our Mission

We are led by The Holy Spirit of God to reach the lost, disciple the saints, edify believers, and equip the churches through the usage of various media types. This ministry endeavors to reach every household to hear the Gospel of Jesus Christ so that all people may believe in Him by calling upon His name to be saved. Through spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ unto the whole world, we further endeavor to build ministries, to break down denominational, racial, cultural, and traditional barriers, and to help people overcome the attacks of the enemy.

The HSBN Magazine “Global Fire” is here and declaring God’s glory all over the world!

More are crying out for revival but there can be no revival without the preaching of the Cross and the Resurrection of Jesus Christ by the fire of The Holy Spirit of God!

The Gospel is not for debate.

The only solution or remedy is God’s transforming power through His Word. Dr. Andrew Bills, Apostle and Founder of HSBN always says, “Anyone not concerned about reaching the lost are lost themselves and in need of redemption!”

If you really read and hear the words of the Great Commission by Christ then you will come to the realization that casual Christianity is unacceptable to God.

Always seeking the face of the Lord in search of new and different ways to lead people to Christ and make worldwide disciples is clearly at the forefront of the Holy Spirit Broadcasting Network.

Thanks for reading and enjoy our magazine!

“Have You Ever Had A Dream But Never Acted On It?”

By Apostle Dr. Andrew Bills

Have you ever had good intentions but never took the first step towards implementing them?

Before your dreams become lost and irretrievable, isn't it time for you to be healed and spiritually refreshed so you can recapture your vision and find greater purpose and fulfilled joy?

A dream or a vision is usually a succession or series of images with clarity, vividness, order, significance, imagination, ambition, desire, aspiration, and thoughts which can impact your ability to reach others.

So, wherever you find yourself in life, there is always room for improvement. And God is now calling you to go forward because He has something more for you.

It doesn't matter what you have achieved, accomplished or attained, there's an exciting new challenge ahead for you with new victories to be won. So, you need to be pursuing the dream that God has placed within your heart.

In Deuteronomy 1: 6 & 8, God said to Moses and Israel, “You have stayed at this mountain long enough. It is time to break camp and move on. Go... Look, I Am giving all this land to you.”

God spoke to Moses at Mt. Horeb and told him that the nation of Israel had stayed too long at that place and that it was time to arise and move forward. They had grown used to where they were; perhaps even thinking it had become their permanent home.

They had stayed at mount Sinai, or Horeb, almost a year, receiving the law, erecting the tabernacle, numbering the people, ranking them in military order, and preparing them for an orderly march. So, God ordered them to move onward because He had something else greater and better in store for them: “The Promised Land.” So, God commanded them to depart and proceed to the nearest borders of Canaan.

Just like the Israelites, too many believers have become accustomed to their daily routine or rut. Have you become used to the place that The Lord only wanted you to pass through?

He has something far greater, glorious, awesome and more exciting in store for you, so it's now time to arise because you can't get there unless you first leave where you are.

The land the Lord had placed at the disposal of the Israelites for them to take possession of, was the land that God had sworn to their patriarchs, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. God had promised that He would give it to their posterity. Do you know what The Lord has promised you today that obey Him?

Then it's time for you to arise and step out in faith and leave the place of certainty for the place of promise. It's time to launch out into the deep and leave your familiar place or comfort zone, because you have sat where you are too long. It was never God's intention for you to remain where you are and not grow and go forward.

There are over eight-thousand promises throughout the Bible and God wants you to simply to learn how to trust Him and depend on His Word.

Now Christ has given believers everything that we'll ever need to face every new challenge and spiritual battle on this side of eternity. All you need to do is to allow The Holy Spirit to direct your path, believe in His Word, step out in faith, begin to do the things that you've envisioned, stop making excuses and never look back.

Remember, you'll never achieve unless you fully believe. And it's God's Will for you to go forward and possess new lands.

THEREFORE, HAVE FAITH IN GOD!

You are invited to watch Apostle Dr. Bills on his weekly broadcasts called, "The Holy Spirit Live" program where he interviews different guests and then on his Bible Teaching program called, "Global Fire." Also follow, "The Holy Spirit Fellowship Hour."

“When Tragedy Strikes”

By Dr. Sharon Norris Elliott

The whole idea behind “unexpected” is that it’s unexpected. Duh! And no one likes to talk about the ultimate unexpected occurrence—the premature death of a parent or spouse. But although none of us wants it to happen, we’re all praying that it doesn’t happen, and we don’t want to talk about it, life shows us no matter what we do, we have little to no control over when our loved ones will (I’m going to say it) die. In addition to holding a healthy, realistic understanding of death, preparation goes a long way toward softening the gut punch that will follow the receipt of the shocking news of your loved one’s demise. Trust me, I know. At the writing of this article, I’m only 2 months past the death of my husband. The items we had worked through saved a tremendous amount of frustration, but the things we hadn’t thought of are still being figured out.

(Note: If your loved one has already passed away suddenly, I am so, so sorry for your profound loss. Incorporate as much of #1 and #2 below as possible but moving straight to #3 will probably be more immediately helpful.)

#1 - Change. I believe 99% of the things we worry about never come to pass and the other 1% is going to happen whether we worry about it or not. With that in mind, death is one of those 1% happenings. So, the first thing to do is change our attitude about death. Face and erase the fear of death by understanding it as a part of life. Our faith in Christ takes away the dread because the death of the body is the beginning of a much better existence that will last for eternity. Paul shares this fact in II Corinthians 5:8 when he asserts, “We are confident, yes, well pleased rather to be absent from the body and to be present with the Lord” (NKJ).

#2 - Communicate. Next, start talking with your family members about death. Approach the subject gently, letting everyone know that no one is sick right now; however, you understand death to be a reality and accurate information about it is important. Start talking about it in a casual way. Discuss what the Bible says about Heaven and the glories of eternal life. Secure children's books that discuss the subject on the kids' levels. For example, my children's book, Mommy Cried This Morning explains, "Our bodies weren't created to just fly away through space, [Pop] had to leave his body here to see God face to face. The part of him that loved us will live on in memory. He now no longer lives in pain; he's happy as can be."

In addition to the explanations about death, read about and discuss emotions such as anger, sadness, apprehension, doubt, fear, loneliness, and grief. Ensure all family members have words to use to express their feelings and take time to encourage that expression whenever necessary. Grief takes many forms and lengths of time. Never discourage family members and friends from giving voice to their emotions. Getting those feelings out is healthy. We will find that others become freed to vent their feelings too, and everyone can move toward healing.

Finally, all adult family members should write an advance directive communicating their final wishes and understand that the immediate next of kin carries the legal right to carry out those crucial final decisions on behalf of the dying loved one. For example, in the event of no further cure from a medical perspective, my husband James did not want his life to be prolonged by machines. Although heart-wrenching, my responsibility was to be sure the hospital, doctors, family members, and friends understood and respected his desire.

#3 - Connect. Third, start reaching out to the necessary professionals and companies to gather information and get a name of the person who can help you.

- See an attorney to help you draft your living trust.
- Call the Social Security Administration to find out about your standing. For example, for married couples, if both people draw social security benefits, when one spouse dies, the living spouse will continue receiving whichever person's benefit was highest.

- Check with your bank or other investment companies to discuss your retirement income or standing.
- Purchase life insurance. When someone dies, life insurance policies pay off quickly and since death is an extremely expensive event, cash in hand is extremely useful. Insurance was there for me when I still needed to pay for the programs and flower arrangements for the service.
- Make pre-need arrangements with a mortuary and a cemetery. When we first got married, James and I bought a pre-need plan. Upon his death, just one call to the mortuary that already had our arrangements on file got things moving. What a relief it was to know that everything I needed to cover the expense of his funeral was covered except for the few things the cemetery would not allow us to pay for in advance.

#4 - Change, Choose, and Commence. Next, make appointments and actually start filling out paperwork that gets your preparation underway.

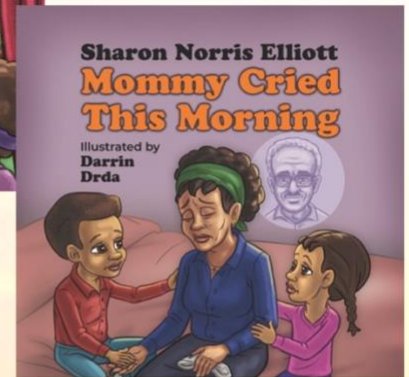

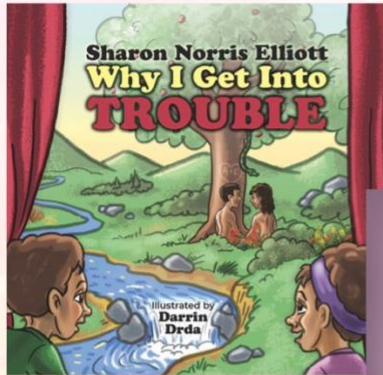

- Single people with adult children, choose one of your children to be a signer on your bank account. Nothing will need to be transferred when you die. Your child will then simply take over using the accounts. James and I had joint bank accounts, so now I alone control those accounts. As a widow now, one of my sons will be a signer on my checking account and the other will be a signer on my savings account.
- Married couples - Change ownership paperwork to both names. This includes your mortgage; other properties and real estate; your cars, motorcycles, and boat titles; your IRAs and bank accounts; health insurance; safety deposit boxes; and savings bonds. Couples will also save themselves a lot of headaches if the following are also in both names: regular monthly bills (water, gas, trash collection, phone, internet service, cable television service, etc.), and credit cards. The idea is anything you can think of that you would have to transfer to the other person's name when one spouse dies, put both names on it while you are both still living.

Note: Individual credit card accounts belong to each individual person. If the living spouse did not open that account, he or she is not responsible to have to pay the spouse's debts.

Children's "I Really Need to Know" Series

Whether you're married or not, decide who you will choose to be beneficiaries for all accounts you leave behind. You can divide the amounts by percentage among multiple beneficiaries. For example, your remaining spouse could receive 50% and your five children can receive 10% each.

#5 - Celebrate. Finally, breathe a sigh of relief and celebrate the fact that you can live with the comfort of knowing when death does happen—expectantly or unexpectedly—the business surrounding the event is already taken care of. You can use your energy spending time with your family and friends and enjoying the pleasant memories of your loved one who has moved from earth to Glory.

“The Awakening -An Encounter and Experience With God”

By Apostle Marion Warner

My mission is for the Body of Christ to awaken to God and get in position; to prepare for the movement of God. God has instructed me to take The Awakening to the nation. This means all types of churches, organizations, ethnicities, ages, and genders, who hear the voice of God to be a part of his will for the body of Christ. It is time for all for churches (leaders) to come together in prayer and receive encouragement and instruction from God. God has summoned (an authoritative call or notice to appear at a specific place for a particular purpose or duty) and for you to attend this gathering.

He desires that his leaders would awaken (to become conscious of something, vigilant – keenly watchful to detect danger or trouble) in this season. God has a movement (a change of position or location of troops or ships; a series of actions or activities directed or tending toward a particular end) that he does not want us to miss.

Those who are obedient to this call will be a part of one of the greatest movements of God ever seen or experienced. It is my desire along with God that you will be awake and in position to execute (to perform or do) what God has called you to as a leader to do in the Kingdom of God.

Wow! It's a new year. A time to embrace new things including changing bad habits and creating good ones. Sometimes the thought of the bad habits or bad situations of the last year can be overwhelming. But I have good news, you are not alone. There is help to make this new year a successful one. One that you can look back on in years to come and smile. The word of God says in Isaiah.

Encountering The Divine

By Pastors Edwin & Rhoda Rideout

In 1995, Pastors Edwin and Rhoda Rideout entered full-time pastoral ministry with the Pentecostal Assemblies of Newfoundland and Labrador (PAONL). They pastored with the PAONL for eleven years. During that time, they both were Ordained. In 2006, they joined the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada.

Before embracing full-time ministry, Edwin spent twelve years in managerial roles with an engineering firm and the Government of Newfoundland and Labrador. This extensive experience endowed him with a rich reservoir of leadership skills, which he now brings to his pastoral role.

Edwin's educational journey is a testament to his commitment to the ministry. He earned a Bachelor of Theology from Masters College and Seminary in Toronto, Ontario, a Master of Divinity from Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and a Master of Arts from Acadia University in Kentville, Nova Scotia. His scholarly background underscores his dedication to spiritual growth and leadership.

In September 2008, Edwin and Rhoda commenced their ministry at the Family Christian Centre (FCC), and under their guidance, the church has flourished and expanded significantly. They have both been the driving force behind visionary initiatives such as the Legacy Counselling Centre, the Wheaton-Penney Childcare Centre, and the Single Parent Mercy Ministry. These new ventures exemplify their commitment to nurturing strong and healthy families within the community.

Known for his boundless energy and unwavering passion, Edwin is a vibrant presence within the congregation and the broader community. His preaching and teaching style are characterized by directness and relatability, echoing the heartfelt desire for people to encounter Christ and embark on a transformative journey of discipleship.

Tim Enloe, Author/Conference Speaker and foremost teacher on the Holy Spirit, recently had this to say about Edwin's leadership:

"Pastor Edwin Rideout has a proven track record of leading growing churches that are both community relevant and spiritually vibrant. He is a gifted communicator who speaks from deep personal conviction and Christian experience.

Pastor Edwin knows firsthand what Living Generously means, and by leaning in, you may never be the same!"

Jeremiah Raible, Effectiveness Coach at ABNWT District PAOC, recently wrote about one of Edwin's published articles, "This is so good. You take complex spiritual issues and handle them so well. Thanks for sharing." Edwin will release his first book in 2024, Living Generously: Mysterious Joy.

Through captivating storytelling and insightful reflections, he unveils the obstacles that often hinder a generous heart—the hoarding culture, doubts about the recipients, or the fear of inadequacy. He skillfully guides us toward a mindset shift, showing how even modest contributions can significantly impact those in need.

Rhoda is convinced that it is all about relationships, intentionally living life in a manner that naturally leads lost individuals into a relationship with God. She passionately believes that with God, nothing is impossible!

D.L Moody once said, “The world has yet to see what a man or woman completely sold out to God can do for Him.” Rhoda has a certificate in Pastoral Ministry with an emphasis on Pastoral Counselling. She brings tremendous relational and organizational skills to her role. If you have a ‘talent’ – and we all do – she will spot you in a crowd, and before you know it, you’ll be engaged in some significant Kingdom service.

Her idea of relaxing is a bottomless cup of Starbucks, a great book, and both while preferably relaxing on the deck of a cruise ship. She also invests much of her energy in her relationship with Edwin, their three adult children, and their four amazing grandchildren. For her, Family is second only to God!

The Family Christian Centre: Located in the heart of Fort McMurray, Alberta, Canada, an epicenter of Canada's oil industry, Family Christian Centre (FCC) is far more than just a congregation of 1,800 members; it's a vibrant community. The population here is youthful and filled with energy, much like the spirit that permeates FCC itself. At its core, FCC is dedicated to introducing the Kingdom of God to a world in need, sharing the hope they've found in Jesus, and extending it to as many people as possible.

Central to FCC's mission is a deep commitment to worship and spiritual growth. Their regular worship services are dynamic experiences featuring powerful sermons and dynamic praise and worship sessions inviting individuals to connect with God profoundly. Worship at FCC is characterized by passionate contemporary music, creating a meaningful and uplifting atmosphere that resonates with congregants.

Its unwavering dedication to youth and family ministries truly sets FCC apart. Recognizing the significance of nurturing faith in the next generation, FCC offers many youth programs, children's ministries, and family-focused events. These ministries create a safe and supportive environment where young people develop their faith and character and form lasting friendships. But FCC doesn't confine its mission to the four walls of its church building.

This congregation is actively engaged in community outreach and service initiatives, helping those in need.

Another defining characteristic of the FCC is its extensive involvement in mission work and global outreach efforts. They passionately support missionaries across Europe, Africa, Asia, South America, and even in Canada's far North. For ten consecutive years, FCC has consistently ranked among the top five Missions giving churches in the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada. Their global perspective reflects a steadfast commitment to making a positive impact that transcends the boundaries of their local congregation.

In summary, the Family Christian Centre in Fort McMurray, Alberta, is not merely a church but a vibrant and welcoming community dedicated to sharing the message of hope in Jesus Christ. Their commitment to worship, spiritual growth, youth and family ministries, community outreach, and global missions is a testament to their passion for making a profound impact locally and globally. FCC is not just a church; it's a beacon of hope and inspiration for all who walk through its doors.

Wounded By My Dad, Set Free By My Father

By Apostle Danny Roman

I grew up desperately needing validation from my father. All I ever wanted to do was to please him. In school I made the highest grades and I became a great athlete. I excelled in sports.

I received scholarships from the best colleges and sports programs but it was never enough. No hugs, pat on the shoulder or even an encouraging word. He never told me that he loved me.

My dad passed away when I was in my early twenties. My desire to be the best to do the best was suddenly gone. His death eliminated all of my desires to be the best in school and sports. I spent years trying to please my earthly father.

Dad never expressed any joy for any my accomplishments, so I felt he was not pleased with me. The sting of not measuring up to his expectations was a heavy burden to bare, so I turned to alcohol and drugs to numb the pain of not being enough. It led me to live a destructive life.

Although, I completed my education and began my teaching career I carried a lot of baggage. I was spiraling downward filled with emotional pain and I was lost with no direction and no self-worth. I was angry at the world, bitter, critical and hard to get along with.

When I met my wife Roseanne, I never healed from the trauma. She was broken just as broken as I was. We had our first born son who was born with severe brain damage. We found out that he would never live a normal life. Our marriage suffered greatly from that revelation and I turned my pain into more anger, more alcohol and drug use.

One day Roseanna turned her life over to God and became a Proverbs 31 woman. For the next seven years, she spent time in prayer and studying the Bible.

Roseanna loved me through all of my verbal abuse and all of my mess. Finally, she had enough and with lots of faith, prayer and trusting God she gave me a ultimatum that I either change or the marriage was over. I knew she meant business, especially after I was arrested with a threat losing the possibility of losing my teaching credentials. Finally, I gave my life to Christ.

I spent many hours with the Lord allowing him to minister to me about my identity and who I was in HIM. This changed my way of thinking and it radically changed my life. I became a new creation. In Galatians 3: 29 it says, "If you are Christ's, then you are Abraham's seed and heirs according to the promise." We have the blessings of Abraham not just rich but very rich, with silver, gold, influence, blessings and righteousness. The devil wants us to look at ourselves in the flesh, but we are not in the flesh, we in the spirit. Our real identity is created in righteousness and holiness. Don't depend on your feelings! Jesus says we are forgiven, accepted, redeemed, and declared righteous and so much more.

Our identity in Christ is an important of our relationship with God and is not based on our education, economics, wealth or social status but rather having an intimate relationship with the Father. Those who know God intimately have a detailed knowledge of him and are chosen for greater purpose.

I had no idea that I was about to receive my freedom from addiction of over 20 years! While I laid paralyzed on the floor, I felt the love of God wrap around my entire body. I felt the heaviness leaving me and I weeped out loud. I stood up feeling lighter, as if weight of the world seemed to lift off my shoulders! I realized that it was the demons of bondage leaving me. I haven't taken a drink or used any drug from that day ever!

Over time, I realized Jesus bought me with a price. It was his blood that He shed for me. My Identity is now solely in HIM. My value and worth was given to me from before the foundations of the world existed and before I was in the womb of my mother it was then Christ accepted, approved me, and most important validated me.

It was my Heavenly Father's validation I was seeking all along, and it was HIS acceptance that set me free!

God wants you to know that in Romans 8: 28 it will come to pass in your life and everything will work together for your good, even the horrific things, the traumatic things, the heartbreaking things, it will all work together for your good!

God created man in his own image on the 6th day, so we can't take any credit or glory. Man's duty is to enjoy the finished work of creation. We are a spirit man and God breathed life in us. He is spirit and he blew his spirit in us. We are a spirit being. As long as our word lines up with the word of God, we can speak things into existence. The things we see are temporal, the things we don't see are eternal. Faith is more real than the natural. If you live by sight alone you will limit yourself.

Holiness is having the mindset and posture of Jesus. 1 Peter 2:5 says, "You also, as living stones, are being built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ." I never knew this because I was carrying a Spirit of Rejection. God says we are chosen. In Ephesians 1: 4 says, "He chose us." He says we are a Royal Priesthood so we are valuable. God says we are holy and belong to him and that is what makes us more valuable!

Isaiah 43:4 says, "You are precious to me. So through their faith in me, they will have their sins forgiven and receive their place among Gods chosen people." You don't feel capable? In 2 Corinthians 3: 5,6 it says, "The capacity we have comes from God, it is he who made us capable of serving the new covenant. Do you still feel you can't do anything? "You can do everything through Christ who gives you strength. Who are you going to believe? The accuser of the brethren or the God who says you can. God is saying go and serve me that is who you are!

When I gave my life to Christ I was struck down on the church entryway floor and was slain in the spirit.
