

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Introduction

The Jamie Boone Project (“we,” “our,” or “us”) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal information. This policy explains what information we collect and how we use it.

Information We Collect

We may collect personal information when you make a donation, fill out a contact form, subscribe to email updates, or request information. This may include your name, email address, mailing address, phone number, and donation details. Payment information is processed securely through third-party payment providers. We do not store full credit card numbers on our website.

How We Use Your Information

We use your information to process donations, respond to inquiries, send updates (if you opt in), maintain donor records, and improve our website. We do not sell, trade, or rent your personal information.

Website Data

Our website may collect basic usage information such as IP address, browser type, and pages visited. This helps us understand how visitors use our site and improve user experience.

Cookies

Our website may use cookies to enhance functionality. You may disable cookies in your browser settings if you prefer.

Third-Party Links

Our website may include links to external websites, including mental health resources. We are not responsible for the privacy practices of those sites.

Children’s Privacy

We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under 13 without parental consent. If you believe a child has provided personal information, please contact us.

Updates to This Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy as needed. Any changes will be posted on this page with the updated effective date.
