ARTICLE VII

1. The Bylaws committee & Nominating committee shall consist of 3 people.

2. Per Arizona department of revenue current definitions "Casual sales are not taxable. In a service business, an item may be sold on a casual basis. For example, an accounting business may occasionally sell a reference book to a client. However, if you regularly make sales and/or maintain an inventory of tangible items for sale, you are engaged in retail sales and are liable for transaction privilege tax on those sales. If, on a regular basis, you sell items at swap meets, craft fairs, etc., you owe transaction privilege tax and must obtain a license even if you consider your sales a part of a "hobby". Members holding an Arizona tax number are eligible to participate in Arts & Crafts shows. The Association is not responsible for paying your sales tax or filing any state forms.
