FULL BIO

Elijah John Bowdre is a next-level motivational speaker, global trade expert, and new-era public servant, chronicling the phenomenon of the Fourth Industrial Revolution. As the Chairman of the Miami-Dade County CryptoCurrency Task Force, he holds the distinction of being the highest-ranking crypto public official in America. Bowdre is the President and Co-Founder of the U.S. Crypto Policy Alliance and a key author behind Florida's first state blockchain bill, Miami-Dade County's Blockchain Board ordinance, and Miami's crypto payment policy. His pioneering work has shaped the integration of municipal crypto policies and federal blockchain legislation.

Bowdre is also the creator and host of "TheBitPoint," a crypto news show, where he explores how technology can improve the human condition. He is increasingly seen as a thought leader in the art, music, and tech communities across Asia and the United States. His experience spans over a decade, during which he has created, operated, and consulted businesses in mainland China, all while being fluent in Mandarin. His blockchain enterprise journey began in 2012.

He is the founder of the "World Class" US-to-China study abroad program, which has brought over 300 underrepresented students to China. Bowdre has received a federal commendation from the U.S. Consular General of Hong Kong and was a featured presenter at Harvard Business School's 42nd H. Naylor Fitzhugh Global Leadership Conference. Additionally, he was named a top 30 under 30 Millennial Leader by the National Urban League.

In public service, Bowdre has generated millions of dollars in direct and indirect support as a policy advisor, campaign manager, and intergovernmental legislative aide. He is a passionate advocate for shelters for abused women and children, workforce housing, student technology education, and entrepreneurship training. He has held various leadership roles, including Vice President of the Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce and Officer of the Miami-Dade County Millennial Advisory Board.

From Wall Street to the Great Wall, and from Hong Kong to the Port of Miami, Elijah John Bowdre is a sought-after international motivational speaker, corporate leadership trainer, China trade expert, and blockchain consultant. A Florida A&M University alumnus, his early career in finance involved conducting due diligence on hedge funds and private equity firms for marketing to ultra-high-net-worth clients at top New York investment banks. In response to the global financial crisis, Bowdre launched his management consulting firm, partnering with major enterprises in Shanghai, where he provided U.S. companies with customized business solutions based on complex market data.
