FREE PUBLIC TALK - THE SAMURAI CODE: HOW BUSHIDO CHANGES LIVES

2pm at the Stanwood Camano Community Resource Center (across from library). Bushido—the way of the warrior—is the code of ethics practiced by the samurai warriors of ancient Japan, a code which includes courage, integrity, benevolence, respect, honesty, honor, and loyalty. Through her own story of using Bushido to overcome a traumatic brain injury, Lori Tsugawa Whaley shows how the code can help people find hope, resilience, and fulfillment in our rapidly changing world. She explores examples of ancient warriors like Tomoe Gozen and Saigo Takamori, as well as modern-day samurai warriors like the Japanese Americans who survived incarceration during World War II. She shows how Bushido instilled a determination and perseverance in Japanese society that remains evident to this day.

PAPER JELLYFISH CRAFT

Recommended Materials: White Cardstock for Printing; Paint; A Paper Straw; Colored Paper or Card Stock; Scissors; A Glue Stick; A Paintbrush or Pencil; Download the Jellyfish Template: <https://www.artycraftykids.com/product/easy-paper-jellyfish-craft-template/>

Print the jellyfish template onto white card stock. Carefully remove the eyes from the template by cutting one straight line below the jellyfish. Cut the Surrounding Space into Squares. Next, cut around the eyes and put the scrap paper to one side. Cut the scrap paper into smaller square shapes. Apply Blots of Paint onto the Jellyfish Template. Apply several blots of paint to the top of the jellyfish. Take a Square and Scrape the Paint from Top to Bottom. Take a square and gently scrape the paint from the top of the jellyfish to the bottom. If the paint blots are positioned closely together, the scraper tool will pick up and blend the colors. Continue scraping the paint across the jellyfish and remove any excess paint by scooping it up with the square card stock. Texturize with Straw Prints. While the jellyfish looks lovely with its paint scraped make-over, Arty Crafty Kids may wish to explore texture by layering the jellyfish with circular prints. This effect can be created by dipping the end of a straw into a contrasting color and simply printing in a sporadic fashion across the jellyfish. Glue the Eyes onto the Painted Jellyfish. Glue a Row of Colorful Paper Strips. Select an array of colorful pieces of paper and cut the sheets into fine strips. Turn the jellyfish over, apply a generous helping of glue across the bottom of the jellyfish and glue a row of paper strips along the gluey area. Once full with paper strips, turn the jellyfish over. Take a paintbrush or pencil and carefully curl the ends of the paper strips around the "curler". Continue Curling to Complete the Paper Jellyfish Craft. Carefully remove the curled paper from the pencil/ paintbrush and move onto the next paper strips. Once all the paper strips are curled, the paper jellyfish craft is complete!

MAKE YOUR OWN SUN PRINTS

Use the sun to create a unique piece of art!

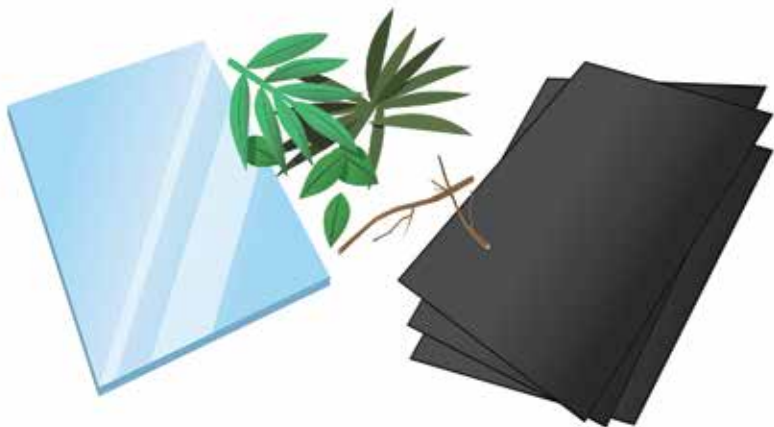

WHAT YOU'LL NEED:

- Black construction paper
- Leaves, sticks, or other objects to make prints with
- 8 x 10 pane of glass (from a picture frame), or some small rocks

HOW TO DO IT:

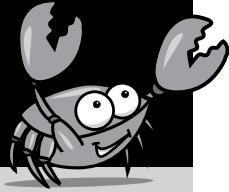

1. Start by collecting some objects to make prints with. Gather a few leaves or branches to start. You can also use other interesting objects you find in nature or around the house.
2. Find a spot outside that is in the sun for at least 4 to 6 hours. You may want to do some observations the day before you start to find an area that is just right!
3. Set up the paper in the sunny area and place the objects you want to print on the paper. Cover with the pane of glass or place small rocks on top of the objects to keep them from moving.
4. Wait 4-6 hours then check on your print! What happened? How do you think you would change your print next time? Could you make a whole scene or picture using this method?
5. You can use black construction paper or try this with paper specifically made for sun prints. This technique works because the sun's UV rays discolor the paper. It's pretty cool that even though the sun is 93 million miles away, it only takes 8 minutes for the light of the sun to reach the Earth!

CRYPTODADDLE

Undoubtedly there are those among you who think old Skeeter is a Neanderthal, burns wood for his heat, grows a garden for his food, hunts crustaceans for fun and meals. He doesn't have a real job, doesn't commute, refuses to own a cellphone, drives an old truck to the dump or the store once in awhile and still writes handwritten letters. He builds most of what he needs from banjos to boats, furniture to stained glass windows, sheds to houses. If this were the 1800's, you might think of him as a pioneer, but those times are long gone. Now he's just an anachronism. Or so you might think.

Let me dissuade you of that quaint and unfounded notion. Old Skeeter keeps up with the times, my friend, you best believe. Just because he uses a landline and eschews social media doesn't make him a troglodyte, no sir, he's a sly fox, careful to evade unwanted intrusions by the authorities or reality. He pays attention to the Trends and then, when least expected, jumps ahead of the Game. I'm talking, of course, about cryptocurrencies and non fungible tokens, block chains and hyper-encryption. And because you've been loyal readers all these years, I'm giving you front seat to the money making opportunity of your lifetime.

CryptoDaddle. Not just another cryptocurrency but a full service monetary alternative to the outmoded cash and credit card society that is, unless you haven't been paying attention like Skeeter has, completely primitive and obsolete. You might as well be carrying wampum in your wallets. CryptoDaddle is the investment opportunity for futuristic visionaries like yourselves, a chance to get in on the ground floor of what will be the gold standard of the 21st century. Combining NFT's with cryptocurrency, CryptoDaddle is an amalgam of digital artworks coupled with blockchained virtual monetary instruments, an elegant and lucrative hedge for those of you worried about inflationary trends, political upheaval and an increasingly unsettled global environment. NFT artworks of each and every creation of the Skeeter Daddle oeuvre will fast become the coin of the realm, gaining in value with each secure transaction. Finally aesthetics will dictate finance. And you, my friends, have the rare opportunity to ... well, without being too crass ... to cash in. Don't delay, the future is yours and so is the wealth. CryptoDaddle, far far ahead of its time. Like Skeeter hisself.

DOTTI BURTON

My career in painting began with watercolor classes which emphasized more realistic and traditional paintings. As I became more proficient and creative, I earned the "Northwest Signature" status. I developed an avid interest for acrylic paint and modern contemporary art. My passion in these areas increased with continued study of fine art in art galleries and museums world-wide. I have taught art classes for many years, and the best teaching method is to encourage students to use creativity and self-expression, rather than "look and copy" to produce results. My students respond to this method of teaching with excitement and gratitude. The next series of classes I will be teaching will begin in mid-September. Classes will be held at the Lincoln Retirement Community in Stanwood. The room is well lit and spacious and will provide a great venue for learning and developing new skills. This is a great time to sign up for Fall painting classes with Dotti. I look forward to teaching new and past students at this new location. Additionally, my art will be featured in the Camano Country Club Beach 1 Gallery during the month of September. The rest of the year you will find me at The Guided Gallery in downtown Stanwood or at my home studio on Camano Island. My Email contact address is: dottiburton81@outlook.com or contact me on my cell phone 206.714.3647. My website is www.dottiburton.com.

Paid for by the Committee to Re-Elect Janet St. Clair.

Thank you Camano Islanders!! With your support in the primary election, I emerged in the top two with a strong lead. Camano Islanders were loud and clear in their support and I garnered nearly 1000 more votes than in the 2018 election. I appreciate you. I look forward to serving Island County and especially the priorities of our island for another four years. Let's win in November. www.janetstclair.com

ROCKFISH SURVEY

WDFW invites you to take a survey about rockfish in Puget Sound. Populations of many Puget Sound rockfish species have declined dramatically over the last several decades, resulting in broad-scale changes to bottomfish fishing regulations. For three species, these declines resulted in listing under the federal Endangered Species Act in 2010. Since that time, state, regional, and federal managers have worked to expand public awareness about rockfish biology and ecology, fishing regulation changes, and actions that people can take to help rockfish recovery. These managers are now asking for your help to evaluate whether these outreach efforts are reaching the target audience and achieving their goal of increasing overall awareness of rockfish biology and management. <https://survey.alchemer.com/s3/6838589/Rockfish-Survey>.

CIVILITY FIRST'S 5TH ANNUAL ART & PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST

Open To All Ages. Civility First... So We Can Work Together invites participants of all ages to submit an original artwork or photograph with the theme of Respect Others, Listen, & Be Kind. "We encourage all artists and aspiring artists who are concerned about the lack of civil discourse in our society to help spread the message through their artwork about the need to Respect Others, Listen, & Be Kind," said Board President Kate Bracy. Participants enter the contest in one of the following age categories: Children (12 & under), Youth (13-18), Adult (over 18). A cash prize will be given to the winner and two runners-up in each age category. The deadline to submit is September 16, 2022. Entries will be judged by the Pacific Northwest Art School in Coupeville. All submissions are to be mailed in an envelope and accompanied by a completed entry form (found at: www.civilityfirst.org/2022-art-contest.html). Mail submissions to: Civility First, P.O. Box 1571, Coupeville, WA 98239. Winners will be announced in October during Civility Month 2022. Winning entries will be displayed at the Clinton, Langley, Freeland, Coupeville, and Oak Harbor Libraries throughout the fall and winter of 2022/23. The Civility First website will also feature the winning entries as part of Civility Month. Complete information about the contest, entry form, and instructions are available at <https://www.civilityfirst.org/art-contest.html>. If there are additional questions about the contest, those interested can contact Civility First directly at civility1st@gmail.com.

RETURN TO PAID MEALS FOR THE 22-23 SCHOOL YEAR

Federal funding for no-cost breakfast and lunches for all students during the COVID-19 pandemic has ended. Some districts have been able to qualify for no-cost meals to continue due to poverty rates in the community. SCS D does not qualify to participate under the new federal Community Eligibility Provision. This means the district will return to paid breakfast and lunch meals for students for the 2022-23 school year. We encourage parents/guardians to apply for free or reduced meals to determine National School Breakfast/Lunch Program eligibility. Completing a meal application takes less than 10 minutes, and parents only need to complete one application per household. Information about free or reduced meals is available on our district website (www.stanwood.wednet.edu).

CAMANO ISLAND QUILTERS-ACCEPTS DONATIONS

Camano Island Quilter Guild will accept in kind donations of quilting related items which are used for our community outreach programs. Thread, rulers, notions, rotary cutters, self-healing mats, scissors; Quilting books, patterns; Sewing machines, cutting tables. Contact us via e-mail info@ciqguild.org to coordinate pick-up of items from a guild member. We are a 501(c)3 Non-Profit organization.

STANWOOD-CAMANO SCHOOL DISTRICT

NEW DESIGN - SCHOOL DISTRICT LOGO

The Stanwood-Camano School District has adopted a new district logo. Earlier this year, the district held a logo design contest among students in grades 6-12. Stanwood High School student Haelee Watson's design was ultimately chosen among more than 130 entries. Her design featured the "parent and child" snow geese, sun, and waves, which also, at the same time, form a book. The design was refined into its final version in consultation with the student by staff members at Madak. This Stanwood-based marketing firm generously donated its services to this project. The district will be transitioning to the new logo over the next few months as it rolls out the new District Strategic Plan simultaneously.

The Case Against Marriage Equality for Left-Handed People

It's time patriotic, flag-waving Americans stand up for our God-given right to oppose any minority group that makes us feel slightly uncomfortable. Join me in opposing the misguided policy of marriage equality for left-handed people.

Now, before you start getting all tied up in knots, I'm not saying that all left-handed people are bad. I'm just saying, why take the risk of letting them marry? If we do, the odds are their innocent children may grow up to be left-handed too. We need to stop this epidemic – for the children.

I honestly don't mind if someone is left-handed – just so long as they don't behave left-handedly around me. Thankfully, southpaws represent only a tiny sliver of the American population – less than 11% of our nation's 326 million people. So, it's not like we need to interact with their type on a daily basis – unless we are forced to leave home to get groceries.

Have you ever met a left-handed person you really trusted? Me neither. And I should know. I'm married to one. There is no shortage of hysterical – I mean historical – reasons for treating left-handed people differently. Those reasons date back more than 2,000 years. In ancient Rome, the Latin word for "left" was sinistra. It's where the modern term "sinister" comes from, which, according to Webster's Dictionary, literally means "threatening or portending evil, harm, or trouble; ominous."

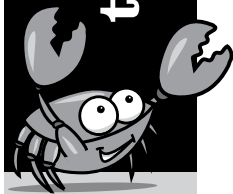

Ever notice how if someone gives you a left-handed compliment, that's considered a bad thing? And why do most batters prefer not to go up against left-handed pitchers? I have no idea why. Not really sure what my point was here. But it's interesting, don't you think?

Still not convinced left-handed people are morally defective? Check out these alarming statistics: Left-handed people are 37% less likely than right-handed people to remember their own mother on Mother's Day, 53% more likely to want to hurt baby kittens, and a shocking 78% more likely to hate God (who, by the way, is right-handed). I could have cited several more paragraphs of statistics like these, but I did not have time to make them up before this month's Funny Times publication deadline.

I am tired of hearing bleeding-heart liberals whine that left-handers are just like normal people. I know that left-handed people are just not quite right. Don't get me wrong. I don't hate left-handers. I just don't want them to breed. I love left-handed people, despite their obvious imperfections and subversive intentions. I have found that some of my closest friends are left-handed. And when I have discovered this fact, I usually downgraded their friendship status to casual acquaintance.

I have no idea why some people choose the left-handed lifestyle. I'm not sure what neural misfiring occurs inside their brains to make them turn left. I've tried repeatedly to reach out to these people (using my right hand, I should add) and have pleaded with them to behave like normal right-handed Americans. But in almost every case, they flat out refused to even consider changing their lifestyle.

When I've asked why they refuse to act like the other 90% of us, they'll toss out a dubious explanation like "I was just born that way." But they're not fooling anyone. They could switch any time they want. Just like I switched from combing my hair back to combing it forward, to hide my receding hairline. Nobody forced me to do that, you know.

So, America, it's time to sign my petition to return the laws of this great land to a simpler time (like say, the Salem Witch Trials) and ban marriage equality for left-handed people – before one of them attempts to marry your child.

It's too late for me. Sadly, I unwittingly married a leftie. It is a source of constant shame and embarrassment (for my wife). Thankfully, our kids appear to have escaped unscathed. They're both right-handed, just the way God intended.

CAPRESE BURGERS WITH HOMEMADE BASIL PESTO

Inspired by my favorite salad, these burgers are topped with fresh mozzarella cheese, beefsteak tomatoes, and homemade basil pesto, Enjoy!

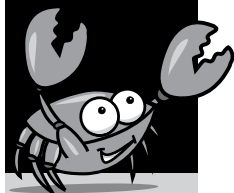

BURGERS: 1 1/4 lbs. ground sirloin beef; 1/2 c. fresh basil pesto, recipe below OR store-bought; 1/4 c. freshly grated Parmesan cheese; 1 1/2 tsp. Montreal Steak seasoning; 1 (8 oz.) ball fresh mozzarella cheese, sliced into 1/4-inch-thick slices

PESTO MAYONNAISE: 1/2 c. mayonnaise; 1/4 c. fresh pesto, recipe below OR store-bought; 4 ciabatta or hamburger buns, halved; 1 lg. beefsteak tomato, sliced into 1/4-inch-thick rounds; Basil leaves for garnish

HOMEMADE PESTO: 2 c. fresh basil leaves, packed; 1/2 c. freshly grated Parmesan cheese; 1/2 c. extra virgin olive oil; 1/3 c. pine nuts or walnuts; 3 med. garlic cloves, minced; Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste

DIRECTIONS: 1. BURGERS: Preheat an outdoor grill to medium-high heat. 2. In a large bowl, combine ground beef, pesto, Parmesan cheese, and Montreal steak seasoning. Form the mixture into four 4-inch-diameter patties, each about 3/4-inch thick. 3. Grill, covered for 5 minutes. Turn the burgers over and place a slice of mozzarella on top. Cook for about 5 minutes longer until the burgers are cooked through, and the cheese is slightly melted. Allow the burgers to rest for 5 minutes. 4. PESTO MAYONNAISE: In a small bowl, stir together the mayonnaise and pesto until smooth. 5. ASSEMBLE THE BURGERS: Grill the cut side of the buns until lightly toasted, about 1 to 2 minutes. Spread the pesto mayonnaise over the bottom of the grilled buns. Top with burgers, tomato slices, and some basil leaves. Cover with top buns and serve. 6. HOMEMADE PESTO: Combine the basil in with the pine nuts, pulse a few times in a food processor. (If you are using walnuts instead of pine nuts and they are not already chopped, pulse them a few times first, before adding the basil.) Add the garlic, pulse a few times more. 7. Slowly add the olive oil in a constant stream while the food processor is on. Stop to scrape down the sides of the food processor with a rubber spatula. Add the grated cheese and pulse again until blended. Add a pinch of salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste. Makes about 1 1/4 cups.
