4TH OF JULY TRIVIA

There are 31 towns in the U.S. that contain the word 'liberty.'

The largest town is Liberty, Missouri, with a population of 32,865.

FOAM FIRECRACKER SLINGSHOT

Not only is this toy slingshot super fun to make but it was also cheap! You just need a few supplies to create your own: 1 foam tube (pipe insulator, found at most home improvement stores: makes 3 slingshots- cut between 6-8"), 2 plastic zip ties per slingshot, 1 rubber band per slingshot, ribbon, bakers twine and/or yarn (20" of 3-4 different colors) and red/white/blue acrylic paint.

Paint the black foam tubes red, white or blue: 3 coats will cover the black. Optional: paint pattern at this point as well. Cut ribbon. Fold ribbon in half and tie onto 1 full size zip tie. Attach rubber band to zip tie. Foam tubes are pre-cut so easily insert rubber band/zip tie/ribbon into the tube, with rubber band poking out from one side and ribbon hanging out the other. Use 2nd zip tie and secure. Pull TIGHT until it will not click anymore. Trim excessive zip tie.

Moonshine Wisdom & Wit

Story by Jack Archibald.

For further moonshine wisdom and wet powder wit, check out the SKEETER DADDLE DIARIES at www.skeeterdaddle.net

INDEPENDENCE DAYS

Some of us layabouts at the Poker Parlor were trying to think up something special for an upcoming 4th of July celebration. We figured we got so many Vets down this way the Diner might as well declare itself a VFW South End Auxilliary. And since most of them are vintage car guyz too, they could hold their own annual Independence Day Parade from Camano Head to the Elger Bay Store. I, of course, wanted to just use these militiamen as an excuse to secede from the Island, but cooler heads prevailed. As usual.

Two Toke Tom served in Viet Nam and now is pretty much anti- every war. Jimmy Z, who's old enough to be Tom's old man, fought the Japanese in WW2. Tom thinks Jimmy's still fighting em and maybe so, but I notice Jimmy driving a Toyota pickup now even though he swore for 60 years he'd never buy a 'Jap Car'. Baghdad Bill fought in the second Iraq War and Big Larry just got back two years ago from Afghanistan. Jerry spent a year in Korea and frostbit a couple of fingers he wishes he had back, but he still can play a mean guitar. We even got Crazy Eddie who 'liberated' Grenada. We're missing Afghanistan and Somalia and Panama and Bosnia, but with all the newcomers rolling in, we may cover those too eventually.

Sometimes the boyz argue among themselves about those wars and sacrifice and what patriotism really means at the Friday night poker game we've been running since 1986 down at the Marina and Bait Shop. Two dollar limit on bets, no limit on alcohol. The pots don't do much damage, but single nettle Daddle Distillery moonshine sometimes does. I sit in with these war-hardened patriots most Fridays and serve as their patsy and their sometime referee, the one who never served even in peacetime. Or what Two Toke calls a draft dodging, student deferred, flag burning, Summer of Love hippie protester. He takes great joy in telling me I would've loved the smell of napalm in the morning over there on the Delta. Jimmy Z chimes in how his platoon could've won Viet Nam single-handed although Jimmy never once has told us one iota the hell that must have been lwo Jima. But he's the one who puts a liver spotted hand on Bill's arm whenever Bill gets overwhelmed by memories of buddies lost in the HumVee he was driving when it was blown off the road to the airport in Baghdad.

We've fought too many wars, I think, before realizing I've said it out loud. I see by their pinched lips and averted eyes I won't get an argument tonight. Patriotism comes in all uniforms, even no uniform at all. Big Larry finally breaks the swelling silence, pushes a handful of quarters into the pot and says, real quiet, "I'm willing to spend a couple bucks, Skeeter, to see if you got more than bluff in this hand." Grateful to change the subject, I say, "Name of the game, Big. Read em and weep."

IN HONOR OF CADEN MACQUARRIE...

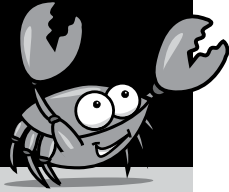

Donating blood strengthens our community, drop by drop. Your donation will help local patients like Caden who is 11 years old and lives on Camano Island. Caden was diagnosed with Leukemia last November. Since December 2022 he has completed four rounds of chemo, two radiation treatments, and had a bone marrow transplant. His 15 year old brother was a perfect match to be his donor. In addition to his bone marrow transplant, Caden has also received 40+ blood transfusion! Caden's favorite activities include Xbox, reading Dogman books, cuddling with his cat, Ella, and going to the beach. He is looking forward to going home when treatment is done, and volunteering in the children's ministry at church. Please consider donating blood in July so local patients like Caden can look forward to life's greatest milestones. Show your support for Caden by participating in a Virtual Blood Drive! Step 1: Register to donate blood at any Bloodworks NW Fixed Site or Mobile Drive between June 15th & July 31st. Step 2: On the day of your donation when asked "what brought you in today" mention the code CSM or In Support of Caden. Step 3: Sit back, relax, and take pride in knowing you're making a positive impact on someone's life. Photo ID & appointments required. No one under the age of 16 permitted onsite. There is no deferral from donating if you receive the COVID vaccine. For safety, appointments only. 800-398-7888. schedule.bloodworksnw.org.

FREE SUMMER MEALS PROGRAM AVAILABLE IN JULY AND AUGUST

Good nutrition is essential for effective learning every day — all year long. Just as learning does not end when school lets out, neither does the need for good nutrition. Summer meal programs help children get the nutrition they need to learn, play, and grow throughout the summer months. The Stanwood-Camano School District is again offering its free Summer Food Service Program for all children ages 18 and younger. The program is open to all families and doesn't ask for any paperwork — kids can just drop in and grab a meal. "We're delighted that we're able to serve our community in this way during the summer. So many children go without, especially during the summer," said Don Vennetti, the district's Director of Food Services. The summer meal program will be offered Monday through Friday at the following locations: Twin City Elementary (26211 72nd Ave. NW, Stanwood, WA 98292). Dates: July 5 - August 25. Breakfast: 8:30 a.m. - 9:30 a.m. Lunch: 10:45 a.m. - 11:45 a.m. Stanwood High School (7400 272nd Ave. NW, Stanwood, WA 98292) Dates: July 31 - August 25. Breakfast: 8:30 a.m. - 9:30 a.m. Lunch: 10:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. This federally-funded program is sponsored by many organizations throughout our state. Children may participate in summer meal programs outside of their communities. For more information, visit our Food Services webpage at www.stanwood.wednet.edu.

YMCA OF SNOHOMISH COUNTY HONORS VOLUNTEERS OF THE YEAR

First Post-Pandemic Celebration Recognizes 29 Volunteers From Across the County. The YMCA of Snohomish County resumed hosting its Volunteers of the Year Awards Breakfast on Wednesday, June 14. This annual celebration returns for the first time post-pandemic. Volunteers from all six branches, the Board of Trustees, and the Youth Development Board were honored and recognized for their service to the Y. "The YMCA of Snohomish County is a volunteer-driven organization," said Peyton Tune, President and CEO, YMCA of Snohomish County. "We could not thrive without the dedication of our community of volunteers. It's a privilege to honor them for the good work they do every day." Volunteers were recognized in four categories: program, policy, youth, and philanthropy. The recipients serve in different capacities across the county, but they all embody leadership, commitment, and a heart for the Y and the community it supports. Award recipients are: Program Volunteers of the Year: Betsy Case (Everett), Will Beck (Marysville), Nikki Gale (Mill Creek), Greg Piland (Monroe/Sky Valley), Jim Russell (Mukilteo), Shawn Hopkins (Stanwood-Camano), Nate Nehring (Trustees). Policy Volunteers of the Year: Jon Stewart (Everett), Emily Wicks (Marysville), Shawnti Johnson (Mill Creek), Becky Hasart (Monroe/Sky Valley), Jen Castleberry (Mukilteo), Cameron Brown (Stanwood-Camano), Craig Connell (Trustees), Cyrus O'Bryant (Youth Development). Youth Volunteers of the Year: Victoria Lopez (Everett), Cheyenne Markel (Marysville), Kailyn Powers (Monroe/Sky Valley), Ana Marriott (Stanwood-Camano). Philanthropy Volunteers of the Year: Amy Lewandowski (Everett), Al and Suzanne Taitingfong (Marysville), Pam Gallagher (Mill Creek), Cheri Larsen (Monroe/Sky Valley), Gretchen Reynolds (Mukilteo), Ted McCammant (Stanwood-Camano), Kristin Meadows (Trustees), Steve and Keri Myers (Youth Development). In addition to recognizing these volunteers, the Y also honored the "Champions of Resiliency," volunteers who were integral in helping the organization through the pandemic. "From board members to youth sports coaches, Annual Campaign chairs to Big Brother and Big Sister mentors, we are so appreciative of our volunteers who dedicate their time and talent to strengthening our local community," said Tune. "They lead, inspire and support our Y family, and me too!"

HUMOR WRITING MADE EASY WITH CHATGPT

Technology futurists have been predicting for decades that AI (Artificial Intelligence) would eventually overhaul how we do our jobs, how we travel, and even how we engage in sex. But I'd rather not delve into my brother-in-law's fascination with his AI robot girlfriend, the Monica XL-400. I still don't understand their relationship, to be honest.

Tremendous advances in AI have taken place, thanks to the introduction of AI chatbots. The one getting the most press coverage is ChatGPT. Think of it as simply an AI-powered chatbot. We've all seen chatbots before. You know, those annoying online chat programs where you type in a request like, "Can I talk to someone in customer service?" and the chatbot replies, "Hello, I'm Brad. How can I help you?" And then you reply, "I just need to talk to a LIVE person," and it replies, "Hello, I'm Brad. How can I help you?"

The technology of these AI chatbots is actually quite impressive. Just log onto one of these websites, type in any conceivable topic you'd like information about, and voilà! Within seconds, this AI program will compose a written response in surprising detail, crafted in such a way that it is almost impossible to tell that it was not written by a human.

Popular applications of this breakthrough technology include using it to write press releases and legal briefs, and helping to ensure that thousands of hardworking tech support and customer service employees all over the world will lose their jobs forever.

But probably the source of greatest controversy is the use of these programs to write high school and college term papers. We asked a high school senior and ChatGPT the same question: "Who was George Washington?" Below are their responses. See if you can guess which response was written by Jordan Carruthers, a senior at Garfield High School, and which was provided by ChatGPT.

ChatGPT or Jordan Carruthers?

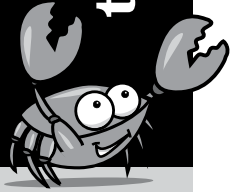

George Washington (1732-1799) was an American political leader, military general, and Founding Father of the United States. He played a crucial role in the American Revolution, leading the Continental Army to victory over the British and securing American independence. After the war, Washington was a key figure in the drafting of the U.S. Constitution and became the first President of the United States in 1789. Washington's legacy as a leader and statesman has been widely celebrated throughout American history.

ChatGPT or Jordan Carruthers?

George Washington chopped down a maple tree and had wooden teeth. He was very tall and wore a white wig. He stood in the front of a rowboat crossing a river in wintertime. That's very dangerous, as he could have fallen overboard and drowned. He's the guy on the one dollar bill. Did I mention he was tall? We get the day off every year on his birthday, so he must have been a fairly important dude.

Who wrote which version? It's hard to tell. Believe it or not, the first response was supplied by ChatGPT. But in fairness, Jordan Carruthers is a lazy idiot who's probably not going to graduate on time. Of course, experts are concerned students may cheat and use ChatGPT to complete their term papers for them. This is a serious issue, and I, for one, am furious... that this technology was not available for me to use when I was in college back in the 1970s. So unfair.

Another disturbing challenge in the rapid deployment of AI chatbots is that they can quickly become obnoxious jerks. Let me explain. AI chatbots are essentially highly sophisticated robot parrots. They quickly learn to assimilate knowledge – and opinions – based on the input they receive from the humans interacting with them. Before long, they start repeating the sentiments of their users.

So, imagine the tech team's surprise when Microsoft launched its cutting-edge AI chatbot program called Tay. Twitter users started tweeting the bot with a barrage of vitriol, including misogynistic and racist comments laced with offensive expletives. Within hours, Tay's R-rated commentary started to make Samuel L. Jackson look like Mother Teresa.

Okay, so there are still a few bugs to work out with these AI chatbots. But I for one am excited about the future potential. In fact, I am so impressed with these chatbots I used ChatGPT to compose this entire column. Next week's topic: "The history of baseball." I can't wait to see what ChatGPT comes up with. I'm sure it will be compelling reading. I just hope it won't be way better written than my usual columns.

This delicious mashup went viral all-over social media. These smashed burgers topped with melty cheese, lettuce, pickles, onions, and secret sauce, folded in crispy flour tortilla shells are simply amazing. They're perfect for a summer cookout with family and friends or a quick weeknight meal, Enjoy!

SECRET SAUCE: 1/4 c. mayonnaise; 1 T. ketchup; 1 tsp. mustard; 1 T. sweet relish or finely diced sweet pickles; 1/2 tsp. hot sauce

SMASHED BURGERS: 1 lb. 80/20 ground beef; 1 tsp. kosher salt; 1/2 tsp. freshly ground black pepper; 4 (6-inch) flour tortillas

TOPPINGS: 4 slices American cheese; 1 c. shredded iceberg lettuce; 1/4 c. diced onion; Sweet pickle chips; Secret Sauce

DIRECTIONS: 1. SECRET SAUCE: In a small bowl, whisk together all ingredients until well combined. Cover and refrigerate until ready to serve. 2. Prep the toppings before you begin. Open the cheese, shred the lettuce, dice the onions, and drain the pickles. (These smash burger tacos cook quickly.) 3. Preheat your griddle or cast-iron skillet over medium-high heat. 4. SMASHED BURGERS: Divide the ground beef into 4 loose portions and place them in mounds on the hot griddle or skillet (depending on the size of your griddle or skillet you may want to do this one at a time). Season each mound with salt and pepper. Place a tortilla on top of each mound and press down with a burger press, heavy pan, or spatula to flatten the beef into the shape and size of the tortilla and cook for 2-3 minutes. (Note: The burgers are very thin and won't take long to cook.) 5. Flip each burger over with a large spatula and top with cheese. Cook until the cheese is melted, and the tortilla is golden brown and crispy, about 2 minutes more. 6. Immediately top each taco with lettuce, onions, and pickles (or your favorite toppings) then drizzle with the secret sauce. Fold in half like a taco and devour! Serves 4. Cook's Note: Smash burger tacos should be eaten immediately after they are cooked, while the meat is hot, and the shells are crispy.
