Welcome to The Crab Cracker! Here's What's Crackin'...

The Crab Cracker is a community magazine created BY local residents FOR local residents. It is a FREE publication printed every two weeks and distributed throughout the communities of Camano Island, Stanwood (and Warm Beach area), Silvana, and Conway. It contains an extensive calendar of events, original stories, feature articles, fun and interesting sections, community news and announcements, tide tables, and more. Please send us any material you want our communities to know about for possible entry into this publication. It is content provided from YOU that makes this publication the popular source of information and entertainment that all of our friends and neighbors enjoy.

BEACH 1 GALLERY RECEPTION FOR SONG ROTHWELL

5-7pm. In 1970, at age twenty she left her homeland in Korea to travel to the US to meet and marry her "pen pal" and American fiancé. To pass the time while her husband was at work, she took up drawing and discovered she really loved it. She went to Burnley Art Institute on Capitol Hill where she earned her Art Degree. She soon wanted to add color to her drawings and her friend gave her a piece of watercolor paper to paint on with her oil paints! It was the catalyst that launched her into her love of painting. Song admits the glory of God's creation is her inspiration. The beauty of the water, mountains and sky inspires her landscapes, beach scenes, and people interacting with their pets, and the outdoors. Her art will be displayed and for sale the entire month of August. The Gallery is open 7 days a week. We will be serving pop, wine, bottled water and bags of chips for the reception. 1243 Beach Drive, Camano Island.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 2

The Mechanical Bull

Until the 1970s, mechanical bulls were strictly used to train cowboys and rodeo competitors. Early practice bulls were basically large barrels suspended from four ropes. The mechanical version, however, was popularized by a Texas businessman who wanted to make his bars more popular.

FAIR CARNIVAL RING TOSS GAME

This is one of my favorite games to play at the State Fair. It is really easy to make, and very inexpensive. The ring toss game can be made with any size bottles and you can use almost anything that is round to toss at the bottles.

Items Needed: 12 Bottles; Deco Art paint – red and white; Sponge brushes; Card board box with dividers (you can make dividers out of cardboard too); Card stock to print sign; Mason jar lids or anything round to use to toss on the bottle; Red construction or scrapbook paper; Scotch tape.

Directions: Paint 6 of the bottles red and 6 white. You will need about 4 coats of paint on each bottle, be sure to let each coat dry for 10-20 minutes before applying the next coat. I used construction paper on the box instead of painting it, but you could paint it red too. Tape the paper to the box, completely cover it. Paint the dividers, 1/2 of them red, and 1/2 of them white. Place the bottles in rows and throw the rings around the tops, first 3 wins.

KNOCK EM' DOWN

For some reason the cups never got knocked down at the State Fair, but I promise these cups go down easily. You could use cans for this fun game too.

Items Needed: Red solo cups; Whiffle balls

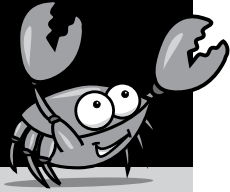

Directions: Stack 6 cups in a triangle. Knock the cups with the ball.

THE FIRST BANNERS HAVE BEEN HUNG ON THE 88TH AVENUE ARCH!

We present to you the work of Brian Perry's "Paddles Up" and Dale Mason's "Community" & "Culture". Brian offers a welcoming gesture that northwest coast canoe tribes use to greet guests and visitors while traveling by canoe. Dale combined elements of Stanwood like the Viking Village, The Granary, Pearson's House, The Floyd, Stanwood Camano Fair & Hamilton Lumber Smokestack to unite our community. Brian has also added metal paddle sculptures at the new Angel of the Winds RV Resort! (2nd Photo) as well as many other pieces donated to the native community. Big thanks to the City of Stanwood for their partnership on this project, allowing us the option to highlight local artistry in such a grand way. STANWOOD CAMANO FOOD BANK HIRES EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The Stanwood Camano Food Bank board of directors is pleased to announce that Sam Norris, who has been serving as the interim executive director, has been officially appointed as the Executive Director effective July 13, 2024. Sam has been an invaluable asset to the Food Bank during his tenure as interim executive director. His leadership, dedication, and vision have been instrumental in guiding the organization through a period of significant growth and transformation. "We are thrilled to appoint Sam as the official Executive Director," said Randy Serroels, President of the Board of Directors. "His passion for our mission, combined with his strategic mindset and proven leadership abilities, makes him the ideal person to lead the Food Bank into the future. Under Sam's guidance, we are confident that we will continue to expand our reach and impact in the community." Sam has a deep understanding of the challenges facing our community and a strong commitment to addressing food insecurity. Since joining the Food Bank last year, he has been a driving force for numerous initiatives, including important behind-the-scenes work to align the efforts of our talented staff and dedicated volunteers to best meet the changing needs of Food Bank users. "I am honored to be appointed as the Executive Director of The Stanwood Camano Food Bank," Norris said. "I look forward to continuing to work with our amazing team, volunteers, and partners to further our mission of alleviating hunger in our community. Together, we will build on our successes and explore new opportunities to meet our area's needs." Under Sam's leadership, the Food Bank has streamlined its process of serving food to people in need, oversaw efforts to maximize warehouse space, and expanded the offerings of the Thrift Store — which helps fund the organization. Sam's commitment to innovation and collaboration has positioned the organization for continued success and growth. "And a huge thank you to our donors. Your generosity this summer is helping us maintain services during this period of transition," said Norris, adding that anyone can donate at stanwoodcamanofoodbank.org or by mailing a check to P.O. Box 1285, Stanwood WA 98292. The Food Bank now serves more than 400 households each week and is helped by a growing team of more than 200 dedicated community volunteers. The first annual fair in the American colonies was held in 1641 in New Amsterdam (now New York City) to showcase farm products of the local area.

COMMUNITY MURAL

The Stanwood Farmers Market is partnering with the SCAAC to create a community mural on the market's storage facility directly behind the Stanwood Police Station. Community members of all ages can come by and participate in the live painting during market hours (2-6p) to be part of this creation! More info: 425-280-4150.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Reminder that we are again providing school supplies to all elementary students for this upcoming school year. We do this to ensure equitable access to quality school supplies and relieve financial burdens for families. School supply lists for middle school and high school students typically depend on individual class needs. Look for specific details about school supply needs of secondary classes via school e-newsletters and webpages later in August. However, many classes will likely need pencils, pens, highlighters, and notebooks. School starts Sept. 3! You can view and download the 2024-25 school calendar at <https://www.stanwood.wednet.edu/about/calendar>

DOES YOUR UTILITY BILL SEEM HIGH?

Make sure you don't have a water leak! The most common type of leak we see is with toilets. You can test your toilet for leaks by doing a dye test. Simply add a few drops of food coloring to your toilet tank and wait 15-30 minutes. If colored water appears in your bowl within that time, you likely have a leak. You can also contact the city at 360-629-2181 and ask to have your meter read. Water meters have a blue dial that when spinning, indicates a leak. If there is a leak between the meter and your home or structure, the city may adjust your water bill. The city also offers a Customer Discount Program for low income older adults, and/or individuals with disabilities. Visit <https://bit.ly/stanutilitybilling> to learn more.

APPLICATIONS FOR THE NONPROFIT HR GRANTS ARE DUE MONDAY, JULY 22

The Stanwood-Camano Area Foundation believes that healthy nonprofits create healthy communities. Many nonprofit organizations are not able to dedicate the resources needed to ensure they are managing their HR correctly. SCAF has contracted with Reverb, an HR consulting firm, to provide core HR services to four grant recipients. Reverb HR Starter Bundle and Foundations Kit: • 3 hours with a consultant • Legally vetted policies and employment documents from SixFifty • One time access/set up fee to Reverb's HR Starter Kit • On-Call Support available for an additional discounted fee of $202.50/hr (not paid by SCAF). Visit s-caf.org to apply. If you have any questions, contact Julie Vess: outreach@s-caf.org.

AS OF JULY 19, CAMANO SOLID WASTE NO LONGER ACCEPTING YARD WASTE

Due to unforeseen circumstances, as of Friday, July 19, Island County is no longer accepting yard waste at its Camano Solid Waste Drop-box and Recycle Park. Island County Public Works is evaluating safety concerns at that location. No date has been scheduled for resuming yard waste collection. Public Works suggests that Camano Island residents take their yard waste to the closest yard waste collection facility, which is Lenz Enterprises, 5210 State Highway 532, Stanwood. Also, Waste Management provides curbside collection of yard waste. We apologize for any inconvenience. For more information, contact Island County Public Works Assistant Director James Sylvester at 360-679-7336 or J.Sylvester@islandcountywa.gov

EGOTOPIA

Some of the Hotheads down at the Diner have been talking about seceding. We've always heard talk of Camano seceding from Whidbey, but some of these Firebrands are advocating something more than that. They want to make the South End a sovereign entity, sort of Freedom County South. Dig a canal from Elger Bay over to the east side, put up a gate and make our own island.

I admit at first I thought they were loony tunes, something out of a Jack Gunter movie, but I been thinking about it lately and I wonder if they're not onto something.

Sure, the taxbase would be smaller. At least til Tye Grocery gets its WalMart permit approved and the CostCo comes in right behind. Course we could charge tolls at the canal bridge to pay for essential services. Like the South End String Band. And all these valuable artists. After all, what would the South End be without its endangered wildlife? We could name ourselves what my old professor down at the Elger Bay Institute of Aesthetic Enlargement has always suggested: EGOTOPIA, a paradise for free spirits, fine artists, bohemians, tax dodgers, scofflaws, tree huggers, paganists, banjo players and xenophobes. Basically what we got now.

Working'll disappear. Traffic congestion'll go away since nobody'll have jobs or money. SUV's will rust and we'll make art projects out of the corroded carcasses. Eveybody'll be king of nothing.

If it gets too crowded, we'll annex Hat Island and impose our more spiritual way of life on them. Operation Liberate Hat Island, we'll call it. Make us an archipelago of anarchic artistic license. Bring em the news. Teach em the fine arts: macrame and mailbox decorating, stained glass and popsickle stick twirlers. You live in harmony with nature and your enlarged ego, the way we do, you'll realize pretty quick government isn't really necessary. Course in a few months, it'll probably look like Rwanda.

FAIR FACT:

Carnivals remain one of the safest forms of family entertainment. The Consumer Products Safety Commission reports more injuries from basketball pickup games, exercise equipment and billiard games than from carnivals. In fact, over 80% of all carnival ride related injuries are caused by "horseplay" and failure to follow the safety instructions.

CASA'S PET OF THE WEEK:

Meet MONICA! This sweet gal originally came in as a stray and is now ready to be adopted. Monica is an outgoing friendly girl who loves attention. She can be a little shy at first with new people, but once given treats, she is your best friend. She would do best in a cat free home and can be selective with her dog friends. A meet and greet is required with any resident dogs in the home before adoption.

Recreate Responsibly

TIP SHEET

Before you go:

Check what's open. Many state-managed lands are open for day-use only, but some local and federal lands may still be closed.

Stay close to home. This is not the time to travel long distances to recreate. And, if your chosen destination is crowded, go elsewhere or come back another time.

Be prepared. Restrooms may be closed or limited during the reopening process, so bring your own soap, water, hand sanitizer and toilet paper.

Feeling sick? Save your outdoor adventure for another day.

When you get there:

Practice physical distancing. Keep six feet between you and anyone who doesn't live with you. Leave at least one parking space between vehicles and boat trailers, and only launch one boat at a time.

Wear a mask and practice good hygiene. Keep your hands clean and avoid touching any high-traffic surfaces (such as in restroom facilities). When you must be in close contact with others, wear a mask that covers your nose and mouth.

Leave no trace. Always pack out what you pack in, including gloves and masks.

MARGARITA GRILLED SHRIMP

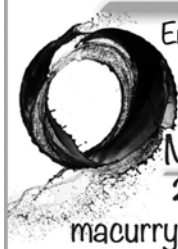

These grilled shrimp skewers are loaded with flavor and charred to perfection! Serve over a bed of buttered rice or summer salad, Enjoy!

SHRIMP: 1 lb. jumbo shrimp, peeled and deveined
MARINADE: 1/3 c. olive oil; 2 lg. cloves garlic, roughly chopped; 1 tsp. minced jalapeno; 2 tsp. brown sugar; 1 tsp. smoked paprika; 1 tsp. chili powder; 1 tsp. garlic powder; 1 tsp. onion powder; 1 tsp. ground cumin; 1 tsp. kosher salt; 1/2 tsp. black pepper; 2 tsp. tequila. optional
GARNISHES: Chopped cilantro for garnish; Lime wedges for serving; Buttered rice for serving, optional

DIRECTIONS: 1. Shrimp can be grilled with or without skewers. If using wood skewers, soak them in water for 30 minutes prior to grilling. 2. Place the shrimp in bowl or gallon size Ziploc bag; set aside. 3. MARINADE: In a pint jar combine the olive oil and spices. Using an immersion blender, process until smooth. You can also use a bullet blender, or food processor. 4. Pour the marinade over the shrimp to evenly coat. Cover or seal and refrigerate for 2 to 3 hours, tossing about halfway through. 5. If using tequila, drizzle over the shrimp and toss to combine. If using skewers, thread the shrimp onto the skewers. 6. Preheat the grill to medium-high. Make sure it's cleaned and oiled. Set the shrimp skewers on the grates and grill for 3 to 4 minutes on each side until the shrimp are pink and lightly charred. Smaller shrimp will take less time. 7. Transfer the shrimp to a platter or bowl and garnish with cilantro. Serve with lime wedges to squeeze over the shrimp.

WHERE'S WALLY? THE MISSING EMOTIONAL SUPPORT ALLIGATOR

Recently a quirky small news story caught my attention. It was about an elderly Pennsylvania man named Joie Henney, whose pet named Wally had gone missing. But Wally wasn't a Schnauzer, a Dachshund, or even one of those annoyingly persnickety Persian cats. You see, Wally is well, a little different. He's an emotional support reptile. To be more specific, an emotional support ALLIGATOR! I hear you. I didn't know that was a thing either. Wally is an eight-year-old alligator and, at last count, the last remaining emotional support gator in the world (and I'm going to go out on a limb here and guess he's also the world's first).

Mr. Henney did a road trip to Georgia in April 2024, and, as any caring pet owner might do, he decided to bring his pet along for the ride. But while he was visiting a friend, his scaly scallywag escaped from an enclosed pond and has not been seen since. Apparently, before his Great Escape, Wally and Mr. Henney had been inseparable. Mr. Henney took Wally everywhere – to friends' houses, restaurants, and even minor league baseball games. I don't know this for a fact, but I feel confident in speculating that Mr. Henney is not married.

When asked why he cares so much about this alligator, Mr. Henney insists his menacing-looking companion behaves more like a dog than a reptile – if you can ignore the minor fact that he has scales, a threateningly long tail that look like a dinosaur, and a bite force measured at 2,000 pounds per square inch – enough to crush a human skull like a Styrofoam cup.

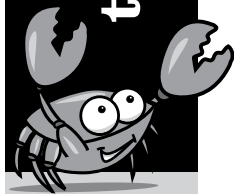

Mr. Henney asks people to look past his intimidating appearance – and that of his alligator. He explains that Wally "is just loveable. He sleeps with me, steals my pillows, steals my blankets." Sounds adorable, but I'd still caution against trying to spoon with Wally on the sofa – unless you feed him one of his favorite bedtime snacks first. I did some research and learned that gators like Wally love to snack on live snakes, turtles, and the occasional Yorkshire Terrier.

In an effort to help Mr. Henney reunite with his lovable lost lizard, I've crafted this helpful LOST PET poster. Please print out copies and circulate them anywhere you think Wally might have wandered off, such as a bowling alley, a Chinese restaurant, or Beaver Creek Elementary School.

PLEASE HELP ME FIND MY OWNER

Hello. I'm Wally. I'm an Emotional Support Alligator, and I'm lost. Will you please help me find my owner? I am actually very smart and will respond when my name, "WALLY," is spoken. I also respond to several other commands including Come, Sit, and Let Go of Her. My favorite things to do are snuggling with my owner, lying on the couch watching reruns of Everybody Loves Raymond, and doing an occasional Alligator Death Roll clenching my teeth on a plump, chewy river otter. If you see me, don't be afraid. I am very lovable. Honest! It is simply not true that all alligators are dangerous and aggressive. In fact, I am probably more afraid of you than you are of me. The only times I would ever attack a human are if it's mating season, my territory is being threatened, or I'm feeling a little hangry. I should be easy to spot. I am eight feet long, have 80 sharp teeth, each averaging two inches in length, and I can run up to 35 mph – so no, you can't outrun me. Don't even try. But you won't have to, because, I won't hurt you, I promise. Oh sure, I look pretty much like any other alligator. If you run into one of my cousins, they may not be quite as amiable as I am. Most of them still have an axe to grind about how you humans keep making them into boots, belts, purses, and wallets. Please help me find my owner. He's even put out a generous reward for my safe return. I'm not exactly sure what his reward will be. I'm hoping a nice, juicy baby panda. Yum! When you spot me, it will be easy to capture me. Just roll me over with my belly facing up, and I will go totally limp within 15 seconds. I have no idea why that works. It blows people's minds. But just to be sure, you might also want to have at the ready a tranquilizer dart gun filled with diazepam followed by an administration of succinylcholine chloride, in the remote chance the "roll me on my back" maneuver startles me. Please help me find my owner, won't you? If you do, I promise to show you my appreciation the best way I know how – by depositing dead snake remains on your door step. No need to thank me. It's the least I could do.

Research Shows Good Brain Health is Connected to Better Hearing

Recent research suggests there is a link between hearing properly and brain health.

When left untreated, hearing loss can lead to:

Social Isolation
& Depression

Fatigue

Cognitive Decline

A recent study showed that hearing intervention slowed down loss of thinking and memory abilities by

48%

over 3 years

in older adults at increased risk for cognitive decline*.
