Roaming Artist's Show

for this Labor Day weekend

The Camano Roaming Artists are again having our annual Labor Day Show August 31 and September 1, 10am. to 4pm. each day at the Island County Multi-Purpose Center, 141 East Camano Drive. Camano Island.

Around 15 to 20 artists Plein Air paint two to three times a week at beautiful locations from Marysville to Mount Vernon. Artists paint in a variety of mediums.

Our featured artist is Roger Frost with one of his beautiful watercolors, "Camano Rose". "I found the colorful contrast of the rose bush with the interesting trees behind and the natural rural wildness of the gardens a fascinating subject to paint. Retirement in 2010 allowed me to study drawing and watercolor painting, something I had always wanted to do since my younger years. I need to be creative, landscapes are my favorite subject, watercolor my favorite medium, and plein air my favorite challenge".

Joan Penewell has donated a beautiful watercolor for our raffle, "NW Backroad". "The inspiration for my painting came from a drive in early fall. I love the contrast between the deep dark greens of the evergreens and reds and yellows of the vine maples and the challenge of interpreting the scene with watercolors."

STANWOOD HIGH SCHOOL CROSS COUNTRY HOSTING INAUGURAL AUCTION DINNER

The Stanwood High School Booster Club is excited to announce its inaugural Cross Country Auction Dinner. This highly anticipated event will take place at the Camano Center (606 Arrowhead Rd), starting with doors opening at 4:30 p.m., dinner at 5 p.m., and the live auction kicking off at 6 p.m. The dinner — which features a silent auction, dessert dash, and live auction — is the only major fundraising event for the Cross Country team for 2024. Cross Country coach Mike Evans said, "The funds we raise will not only help cover essential expenses but also enhance the overall experience for our athletes. We're incredibly grateful for the opportunity to come together and show our support for the team." The funds raised will help cover travel and entry expenses for major cross country competitions, purchase new uniforms and travel gear, upgrade team equipment, add a large 10-foot by 20-foot team tent for meets, and establish a scholarship fund for our dedicated Cross Country athletes. Tickets: $25 plus $1 online fee (Available for purchase at <https://tinyurl.com/SHSXCtickets>) took place at Steve Hawley and Glenda Brown's lovely home at the edge of Camano Island's state park. The theme we chose for August was "Moving" which was appropriate since we are moving from the Conway Muse to the Camano Island Lutheran Church's Pioneer Hall, 850 Heichel Road. Thanks ahead of time to the church for their generosity. Our next meeting will take place at the iconic church with its white steeple just off SR 532 as you drive onto Camano Island: today at 6 pm. This month's theme is "Manifestation." Put your thinking caps on for upcoming themes, plus several games have been suggested like a Liar's Contest where we make up tall tales. PS Another church offered its premises to us: Conway Lutheran Church, 18101 Fir Island Road, Conway. Perhaps northern Lit Labbers would consider having meetings there.

THE LIT LAB

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5

OPEN MIC

6:30 pm – 10 pm @ Conway Muse Hayloft. Come in and join us! 6 PM we open, open mic begins at 6:30. Please hang out outside until 6, as to let everyone get comfortably set up. Food is still welcome to come in with you or be delivered.

Giraffe hearts pump twice as hard as a cow's heart, in order to get blood to its brain.

DIY: SIDEWALK CHALK "POPS"

Sidewalk chalk is a great way to encourage imagination and physical activity (hopscotch, tic-tac-toe, toy car racetracks, hangman, bean bag toss, checkers, etc). Mix up a batch of your own colorful DIY sidewalk chalk "pops."

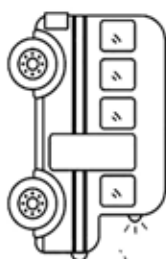

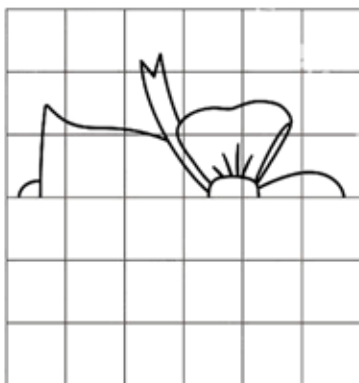

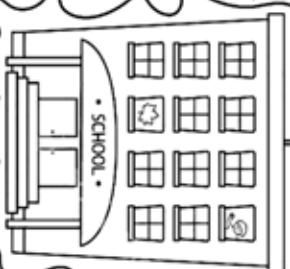

Materials: Plaster of Paris, tempera paint (neon works best), silicone pop mold, wood craft sticks, plastic cups and plastic spoons. You'll also need cold water, scissors and measuring cups (not pictured).

A few important notes before we begin: 1. Do not put Plaster of Paris down your drain! It will harden in your pipes and cause damage. You can rinse very small amounts off your measuring cups and such, but get the majority of the excess (wet or dry) in the trashcan. 2. This can be messy. I would recommend doing it outside. 3. Cold water means between 40-50° F. Yes, it matters. Chill enough water in your fridge for 30 minutes prior to starting. 3. Older children may help with the mixing, but little ones probably shouldn't.

Begin by cutting down your craft sticks to about 3" long. You will need one plastic cup for each color you wish to make. Since my mold has eight spaces, I decided to mix eight different colors. Fill each plastic cup with 1/3 cup cold water. Add 2 Tablespoons of tempera paint to each plastic cup. I measured the first one then just eyeballed the rest. Since my paint set only had six colors, I created the purple (pink+blue) and aqua (green+blue) myself. Use your plastic spoons to gently stir the water and paint together. Don't worry if it remains a little chunky or separated—it will smooth out in the next step. Add 2/3 cup Plaster of Paris to each plastic cup. This is where it got messy and I learned my cups were a little too small. Stir until thoroughly combined. Ideally, your mixture will have the consistency of thin yogurt. Carefully pour your colors into the silicone mold. Gently tap the mold on your work surface to release any air bubbles. After two minutes, the plaster will begin to firm up. Insert your craft sticks (cut side down) into the middle of the chalk "pops." They should be easy to place without having to push hard or hold them up. Setting these out in the hot sun is a great way to cure them quickly. After an hour, you will be able to carefully remove them from the mold. Leave them in the sun to continue drying. Most sources recommend waiting 24 hours for the plaster to fully cure. This will ensure a nice solid chalking experience. Source: www.projectnursery.com.

Artist of the Week

JEREMY ABBOTT

Local musician, Jeremy Abbott recently released a new album "Tide Shift", that contains a song about Camano Island, titled "Camano". Listen on Spotify (<https://open.spotify.com/album/4IJ3T7KN8pylr5NL-3WSQLE>). JAM is a Pacific Northwest reggae fusion band. Blending reggae, rock, blues and electronic tones, Jeremy Abbott delivers genuine vocals and finds a unique sound. "It matters what you put in your ears. Music should make you think, make you celebrate, it should have something to say. I'm on a mission to connect people together, dig deeper into the heart, and reveal what's important." - Jeremy Abbott <https://jeremyabbott.net/music/>

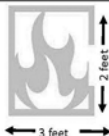

Outdoor Burning Checklist

Outdoor burning is permitted only when there is NOT a county wide burn ban. Please refer to the Snohomish County Fire Marshal's website for more information.

Only recreational fires are permitted within the city limits of Stanwood. A recreational fire is defined as a cooking fire or camping fire using charcoal or firewood

Fires may not be greater than three feet(36 inches) in diameter and/or two feet (24 inches) in height. The location of the recreational fire shall be at least 25 feet from a structure.

A water source must be immediately available whenever the recreational fire is lit.

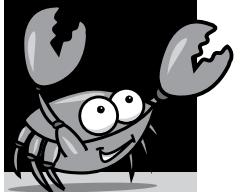

The fire must be constructed of a noncombustible material such as concrete or metal. (Example Fire Pit, Outdoor Oven, Chiminea)

NO garbage, household trash, lumber, building construction waste, or demolition debris may be burned. If smoke is determined to be a nuisance to neighbors, the fire must be extinguished.

Research Shows Good Brain Health is Connected to Better Hearing

Recent research suggests there is a link between hearing properly and brain health.

When left untreated, hearing loss can lead to:

Social Isolation & Depression

Fatigue

Cognitive Decline

A recent study showed that hearing intervention slowed down loss of thinking and memory abilities by

48%

over 3 years

in older adults at increased risk for cognitive decline*.

ANNUAL PLASTIC PLANT POT EXCHANGE

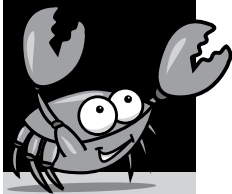

10am - Noon. Tired of buying new plastic plant pots every year? Concerned about adding to the plastic waste problem? Consider REUSE instead! Donate pots or take pots for your future plantings. WSU Extension Island County Waste Wise program is hosting their Annual Plastic Plant Pot Exchange on Saturday, September 7th from 10 am to 12 noon on Can Ku Rd, behind CASA and Island Transit on Camano Island. Home gardeners, organizations, and volunteer groups are encouraged to come gather what they need. If your group is having a plant sale next spring, this is a great time to stock up on your free pots! If you are bringing pots to share, they should be 4" or larger, without any dirt, tags, or wire. No "pony packs" or flimsy starter pots or trays, please. WSU Extension Island County Waste Wise volunteers will be on hand to assist you. Contact Heather Teegarden at heather.teegarden@wsu.edu for more info.

FULL OF WORDS: A 4-WEEK WOMEN'S WRITING CIRCLE

4 Week Series (Free) Every Tuesday from - Sep 17 - Oct 8, 12:30pm - 2pm at the Camano Island Library Meeting Room. Women Only. 16 yrs and older. Our writing circle will use a timed writing process to help open the door to telling our stories and to uncovering the themes we each want to write about. Using poetry to lead us into our writing, we write three times in one session, writing as fast as we can, pen never leaving the page. By writing quickly we are hoping to push past our inner judgements, performance ego and all the ways we stay trapped in our critical voice. This writing practice is about allowing your mind and heart and body to tell the truth imperfectly on the page without judgment. It's about your pen saying yes to writing about this or that or the next thing as it moves through you. After each writing period we read what we've written aloud to the group. We don't critique, we just listen. This technique can be both therapeutic and a wonderful way to help us get to the chewy nougat of what we are living and feeling. As a writing process it can be both intimate and powerful. You do not need to consider yourself a writer to join the writing circle, all you need is a desire to write, to read your work and to listen. Our groups will be small, a minimum of 5 and a maximum of 8 writers (including the facilitator). We will meet weekly (for 4 weeks), 90 minutes per session. Registration is required. If you have questions or would like to register please email the facilitator, (Joyce) at fact@msdeadlines.com.

REOPEN THE CABINS AT CAMA BEACH

SEND YOUR COMMENTS TO WASHINGTON STATE PARKS AND RECREATION COMMISSION

Public comments need to be submitted to the Parks Commission by September 27, 2024. More than one comment can be submitted during the comment period. If you want these cabins to reopen you need to let the State Parks Commission know how important and unique these cabins are to you. The Parks Commission will decide whether or not to permanently close the cabins at Cama Beach State Park at their October 10th meeting in Clarkston, WA .

SENDING IN COMMENTS TO PARKS COMMISSION

1. In a web browser search for "wash state park commission cama beach project" .
2. Select the link to "Cama Beach Project - Washington State Parks - WA.gov" .
3. Scroll down to "Community participation" and click on "Online Public Comment Form" .
4. Add your Comments and click on "Submit" .

Also send your thoughts and comments to our State representatives, Senator and Governor to let them know what you would like to see happen to the cabins at Cama Beach State Park. To send an e-mail to WA State Legislators go to leg.wa.gov and select the elected official and then click on their name.

Senator Ron Muzzall District 10 (360) 786-7616

E-mail governor.wa.gov

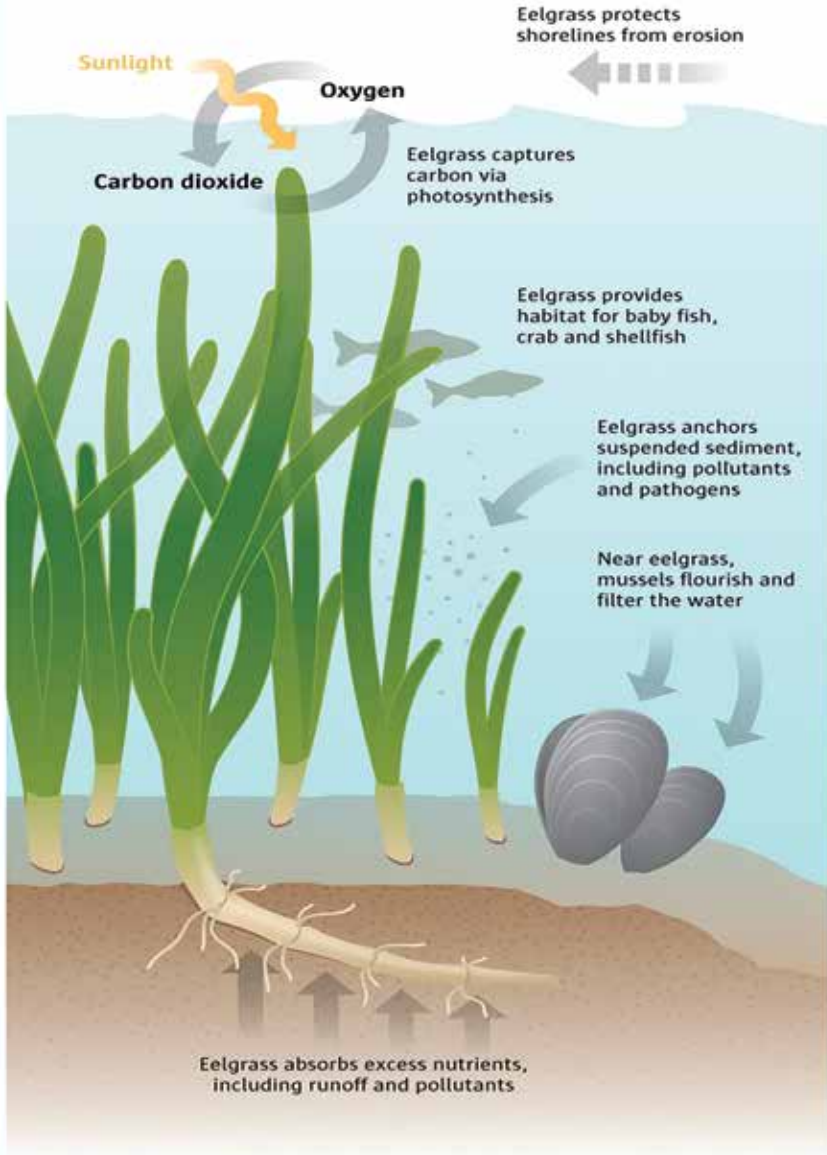

If you live in a different district please write to your legislators letting them know the importance of these cabins to the State not just Camano Island.

TOPICS TO DISCUSS

1. Share your story or personal experiences at Cama Beach State Park.
2. The resort is on the National Register of Historic Places along with the Pre Contact Tribal site. Both sites are important, and both sites should be protected. Since the resort reopened in 2008, State Park employees have been respectful of the Tribes and procedures are in place to protect any culturally sensitive areas. Cama Beach is unique. As a large, intact 1930s saltwater waterfront fishing resort on the National Register, it is a time capsule of the more recent history of Camano Island and Puget Sound. It is living museum that people can use. At one time there were many resorts like this one around the Sound. This resort is the only one left and it allows visitors to step back in time. The Tribes could be doing educational programs about their history at the Park, but have chosen not to.
3. State Park management's implication that somehow there was careless indifference in cases of accidental disturbance of graves did not happen at Cama Beach State Park. The implication is not true. Prior to the Park opening $2 million of archaeological survey work was completed to help protect the culturally sensitive areas. Work requiring digging that has happened at the Park since the opening in 2008 has not found any significant discoveries.
4. State Park management has not done a good job of maintaining and fixing problems at the Park. They are right, making temporary fixes isn't good enough. They need to make the necessary repairs. The systems that need repair, the septic system and the fire suppression system can and should be fixed. The septic system can be repaired. State Park management has yet to tell us what needs to be done and what the cost is for the repairs. The fire suppression system is also fixable. Again what needs to be replaced and what is the cost? If State Park management fixed these systems the cabins could be reopened.
5. The sea wall, like the other systems at Cama Beach, has needed work for several years. The sea wall is about 2100 feet in length. Some portion of 1500 - 400 feet needs repair. State Park management should have addressed this issue years ago. Now they claim they can't because of sea level rise. FEMA had federal money available for repairs, but State Parks did nothing to access the money. State Park management should be doing all it can to protect the site from sea level rise, but they have shared no options or costs with the public.
6. How does State Parks management decide to permanently close cabins without providing what the costs are to fix the systems that need work? The cabins have generated $1 - $1.5 million in revenues each year. Some of that revenue could be used to do the repairs. In addition the cabins at Cama Beach are a big attraction for the Island and the money spent by visitors is very important. In 2023 there were 273,000 visitors to the Cama Beach State Park. According to a Park Study those visitors spent about $8,829,000 in the area and created 71 full and seasonal jobs. State Park management has not discussed the loss of this income to the area in their discussion of closing the cabins. The decision to temporarily close the cabins has already had a serious impact on businesses who are dependent on Park visitors. And given the expected population growth in the region having good public access to the waterfront and rentable cabins on the beach would seem to be highly desirable.
7. Cama Beach State Park is a wonderful and unique place. The decision by State Park management to permanently close the cabins at the beach is ripping the heart out of this Park. It is the cabins on the beach where visitors can spend time listening to the waves at night, looking at the stars, building special memories with their families, and learning about the bygone eras of Puget Sound that makes this Park so special. Ask the State Park Commission to get the cabins reopened as quickly as possible. Then, we can work together on the longer term issues

The superpowers of eelgrass

Eelgrass beds provide ideal nurseries for fish, crab and other animals. They anchor sediment, cycle excess nutrients and sequester carbon from the atmosphere. In Puget Sound, scientists found that mussels placed near eelgrass had 65% fewer pathogens than mussels placed in areas without eelgrass. The exact filtering mechanism is unknown and invites further research.

BREAKING OUT OF THE LOONY BIN

This past weekend I drove upriver into the foothills east of Bellingham to visit my old friend from the Seattle days when we were both young and drove bus to the same elementary school. She and her biker beau had built a cabin on the Nooksack and I had even helped put up the roof. Funny how we both ended up living in shacks far off the beaten path, but then again, probably why we were friends in the first place.

Melinda lived in my ghetto house for a few months, about the time I hit the road for the island but before the house was sold. She came with her golden lab and I left with Dr. Gonzo, the fiercest dog I ever met and the beast that kept our larcenous neighbors from acting on their urges in regard to breaking and entering the two years or so I lived there. I didn't bother locking doors back then, not with Gonzo on the inside.

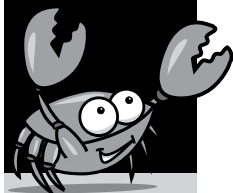

But we left and Melinda stayed. She was mid-bath one afternoon when she heard a crash down below the upstairs bathroom and heard voices yelling at her lab which had started barking wildly. So she grabbed a bathrobe and scooted downstairs and out the front door while the intruders were helping themselves in the back to whatever they could find, not much in that house, trust me. Her plan was to barefoot it over to the hospital catty-corner, find a phone and call the police.

Which is exactly what she did. But when she headed back outside, a nurse asked her where she thought she was going. Home, Melinda told her. And the nurse, shaking her head, called a couple of orderlies to prevent that from happening. You aren't going anywhere, she told Melinda, except back to your room. Now, what Melinda didn't realize in her haste to get to a phone, was she'd flown into the cuckoo's nest, the psych unit of Providence Hospital and there was no way the good custodians of the mentally ill were going to allow her to just waltz out of there barefoot in her bathrobe.

She tried explaining there was a robbery underway back at her house across the street, she told them how two intruders had hurled a potted plant at her dog on the stairs, she even mentioned she had been in the tub, why she was dressed in a bathrobe and no shoes. But these folks had heard it all before, they weren't falling for that old line. No, ma'am, you need to get back to your room. Probably need an extra couple of sedatives.

Well, in the end Melinda finally convinced them she wasn't totally crazy --- and if you knew Melinda, you'd know how hard that would be --- and by the time she got herself released from the mental ward the police were at the house and the thieves were long gone. Nothing much was stolen, not too much damage done, her dog was okay and the only thing hurt was maybe her pride. I brought the ferocious Dr. Gonzo back down to prevent repeat psych ward incarcerations and shortly after got the house sold. You ever wonder why I left the city, and Melinda too, maybe that was exactly why....

DUNGENESS CRAB TACOS

Fresh caught Dungeness crab tacos topped with homemade corn salsa and cilantro lime crema, Enjoy!

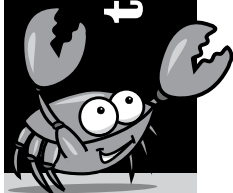

CORN SALSA: 2 ears corn on the cob; 2 c. cherry tomatoes, sliced in half; 6 green onions, thinly sliced; 1/2 c. cilantro, chopped; 3 T. finely diced jalapeños, seeds & membranes removed; 5 cloves garlic, pressed; 2 T. extra virgin olive oil; 1 lime zest and juice; 1/2 tsp. salt

CILANTRO LIME CREMA: 1 c. sour cream; 1/4 c. mayonnaise; 3 cloves garlic, pressed; 1/2 c. cilantro; 1 lime zest & juice; 1/2 tsp. salt

TACOS: 10-12 corn tortillas; Extra virgin olive oil for brushing; 2 c. fresh cooked crab meat (about 2 whole Dungeness crabs); 2 c. shredded white sharp cheese or mozzarella or combo

DIRECTIONS: 1. CORN SALSA: Shuck the corn on the cob. Cut the corn kernels off the cob and place in a medium bowl. 2. To the bowl, add tomatoes, green onions, cilantro, jalapeños, garlic, lime zest and juice, olive oil and salt. Gently toss to combine. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use. 3. CILANTRO LIME CREMA: In food processor or blender, add sour cream, mayonnaise, garlic, cilantro, lime zest and juice, and salt. Process until creamy, but green flecks are still visible. Pour into a small bowl, cover, and place in the refrigerator until ready to serve. 4. TO ASSEMBLE THE TACOS: In a large nonstick skillet over medium heat, brush olive oil on one side of a tortilla, flip and brush the other side. Once the corn tortilla is crisp, flip and immediately top with a handful of cheese and crab. 5. Once the cheese has melted and the crab is warmed, remove the taco to a serving plate. Repeat these steps with the remaining tortillas. (I use two skillet at the same time making the cooking time faster.) 6. Top each taco with corn salad and cilantro lime crema. Serve and enjoy!

A SURVIVAL GUIDE FOR COPING WITH AIRLINE TRAVEL

When Orville Wright first took flight over the beaches of Kitty Hawk, NC in 1903, he couldn't have imagined that a century later, millions of people the world over would be getting into shouting matches with ticket agents, security screeners and baggage handlers over the nearly universal frustration caused by his invention. Thanks for the 12-inch gash in the side of my brand new suitcase, Orville.

The first rule of air travel is simple: Don't fly if you can possibly avoid it. But sometimes air travel is unavoidable. If you simply must book a flight, here are a few helpful tips to reduce your stress level. These just might help you resist your urge to strangle the Delta Airlines ticket agent in Concourse C.

Packing: If you absolutely must fly I recommend packing light, so that you can fit everything into a carry-on and avoid the delay of waiting for your luggage at baggage claim on your arrival. It may force you to make some difficult decisions – like which to leave home: your sun lamp or your snow cone machine. Hard choices, I know.

If packing for a longer trip, a carry-on might not always be an option. You may need a larger suitcase. By FAA guidelines, your luggage can only be one of five colors: black, grey, blackish grey, greyish black or navy blue. It's easy to mistake your bag for someone else's, so make sure it stands out by attaching a brightly colored neon orange strap securely to the handle. Once the luggage comes down the carousel, your bag will be easy to spot. Yours will be the one missing the brightly colored neon orange strap – as well as its handle.

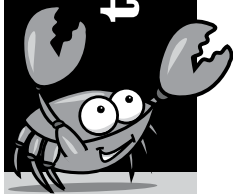

Boarding: For many of us, the most exhausting part of air travel is waiting in all those long lines. When going through TSA Security, you will usually have several lines to choose from. It's important to know which is the slowest. Here's a simple rule of thumb: The slowest line will be whichever one you decided to get in.

Your line will inevitably be the one stalled by the traveler who barely speaks English embroiled in a twenty-minute heated debate with the TSA agent (who also barely speaks English) arguing that the army surplus bowie knife he tried to sneak through is a gift for his seven-year-old niece. Just accept your fate and just pick a random line. Then start taking off your shoes, socks, belt, overcoat, shirt, slacks, and underwear for the TSA screener. But leave your glasses on – unless they're your night vision goggles.

As you board the plane, it's important to be patient. The time it takes to reach your seat will vary between ten minutes and a week-and-a-half. The delay is typically caused by some 350-pound dude in camo pants and mullet haircut who will spend 15 minutes trying unsuccessfully to cram a carry-on the size of a small bison into the overhead rack.

The flight: To get a good seat, you need to book far in advance. But because you foolishly booked only 11 months before your departure date, congratulations, you got the last row on the plane. If your luck is like mine, you'll be seated in a middle seat right in front of the restroom, between that same 350-pound mullet head in camo pants and a 21-year-old first-time mom with her five-month-old baby on her lap. Your best bet is to get heavily sedated. And just pray you fall unconscious before the baby throws up on your lap.

Baggage claim: Upon arrival, head directly to baggage claim. Notice how it's been an hour and now the only bag revolving around the carousel is a black bag with a brightly colored neon orange strap – which oddly enough is not your bag. At this point, I recommend spewing a series of loud obscenities interspersed with the name of whatever airline you swear you'll never fly again.

Go to the lost luggage desk, where you will see a sign that reads "On break. Back in one hour." When he eventually returns, he'll display as much concern for locating your lost luggage as he has about Norwegian currency fluctuations.

You'll eventually be informed your luggage, which was supposed to arrive in Savannah, GA (airport code SAV) was misrouted to an airport with a similar airport code – Savoonga, Alaska (airport code SVA). If all of this still sounds like a bit too much excitement, there is one other way to take the hassle out of flying. Next time, take the train.
