Shoals part of first-ever state dual credit programs through DWD

The Indiana Office of Work-Based Learning and Apprenticeship announced on April 8 a partnership with COSMOS, the collaboration of Shoals, Mitchell, and Orleans schools, in developing two Indiana State Earn and Learn programs in education careers and pre-nursing.

Starting with the class of 2025, students who participate in these programs will receive Ivy Tech dual credits, multiple nationally recognized industry certifications, and opportunities for paid work-based learning with local business partners.

Indiana State Earn and Learn programs, or SEALs, are one of the highest forms of comprehensive work-based learning programs available in Indiana and are celebrated as best practice across the state and country.

The April 8 ceremony was held at Gus Grissom Memorial Museum in Mitchell.

In 2020, the Indiana Office of Work-Based Learning and COSMOS began the planning stages of offering two new career and technical education opportunities to students. Typical of the innovative educational practices of COSMOS, the programs are collaborative between schools and industry and meet the local economic demands of the region.

The Education Professions SEAL will be the first of its kind for the Office of Work-Based Learning and Apprenticeship. The Pre-Nursing/CNA SEAL will partner with local health career providers like Trilogly and Ascension St. Vincent Dunn, providing students will clear options for post-graduation work and higher education obtainment. With both a teacher and nursing shortage hitting Indiana, students will have more opportunities to gain career insight and experiences while earning a wage and serving their community.

Superintendent of Mitchell Schools, Dr. Grant Comer, shared his thoughts on the project, "A core component of COSMOS' mission is the promotion of in-

Resident angry with city for telling her to get rid of her rabbits

BY COURTNEY HUGHETT
Martin County Journal Publisher

The Loogootee City Council meeting Monday night, April 12, centered around rabbits and building issues. Ashley Webster, of Loogootee, said she was approached recently by Building Commissioner Tim Hudson who told her she had to get rid of rabbits on her property. According to Webster, Hudson told her to remove them in seven days or he would remove them. Webster said that she was told that the rabbits were classified as a "beast of burden" which are prohibited in the city, according to the city's ordinance. Webster said rabbits do not at all fall under the definition of "beasts of burden". She said the rabbits are for 4-H for her kids, which is allowed under the city's ordinance. She does have rabbits she raises to eat but said those are kept at Lark Ranch, outside the city. Webster said she has been harassed by the building commissioner on behalf of Loogootee Mayor Noel Harty. She told the mayor that he should resign if this is the way he wants to run the city. She said Hudson is used as the mayor's "attack dog" and she deserves an apology for being yelled at on her property in front of her kids. She said it's not the job of the building commissioner to take away her rabbits. Webster said she called other cities around Loogootee and many of them allow rabbits as long as they are cleaned up after and cared for.

Mayor Harty told Webster that they have no issue with the rabbits if they are 4-H projects or pets. He added that everyone knows he is an animal lover.

Webster asked why she was threatened with a fine if this is the case.

The mayor said he was sorry if she was misinformed and added that he never yelled at or harassed her.

"I think I got failed here," said Webster. She asked if she is going to be left alone now about the rabbits.

Building Commissioner Hudson responded by saying Webster was never sent a violation letter and added "that's all I'm going to say."

Webster asked again if she will be left alone about her rabbits.

Mayor Harty said that he will meet with the city attorney and the building commissioner and report back to her.

Hudson talked to the council about hiring companies to clean up properties and then billing the property owner. Council Member Nolley said she feared getting stuck with a bunch of bills that are unpaid. Hudson replied that residents complain about nothing being done in the city with dirty properties and it falls back on him. He said he needs direction from the council on what to do.

The council agreed to approve the ordinance related to hiring outside companies to clean up properties.

Discussion then moved on to a burned house on North Oak Street. According to Hudson, a violation letter, via certified mail, has been sent to the property owner and the property will be labeled condemned. The property owner has not responded however Hudson said they did

Making A Difference

By Curt Johnson
MCCF Director

-- WHY THE MCCF? --

In previous columns I have talked about the endowments managed by the Martin County Community Foundation (MCCF) and various sources to fund those endowments, including donations from our community members who wish to improve the quality of life within Martin County. But why do people choose to give through a community foundation like the MCCF?

-- TEN REASONS --

We can give you ten reasons why the MCCF is a preferred choice for our donors.

--1-- We are a local organization with deep roots in the community.

--2-- We build endowment funds that benefit the community forever and help create personal legacies.

--3-- We provide a personalized service tailored to each individual's charitable and financial interests.

--4-- We multiply the impact of gift dollars by pooling them with other gifts and grants.

--5-- Our menu of fund types enables people to invest in the causes they care about most.

--6-- Our professional staff and board members have broad expertise and knowledge regarding community issues and needs.

--7-- We offer maximum tax advantages under state and federal tax law.

--8-- We accept a wide variety of assets and can facilitate even the most complex forms of giving.

--9-- We partner with professional advisors to create highly effective approaches to charitable giving.

--10-- We are a community leader, coordinating resources to create positive change and pulling together community members who care about our County.

-- IT'S ABOUT COMMUNITY --

Our community foundation is a non-profit, community corporation created by and for the people of our County. We are here to help our donors make a positive impact on our community. It's about making a difference.

-- IT'S SIMPLE --

The MCCF provides a simple, powerful, and highly personal approach to giving. We offer a variety of giving tools to help people achieve their charitable goals. You can give cash, appreciated stocks, real estate, wills/bequests, or other assets and receive the maximum charitable and tax benefits.

-- MORE INFORMATION --

For more information and ideas on ways to integrate your financial planning and charitable giving, please contact your financial advisor or the MCCF Director, Curt Johnson, at 812-295-1022 or mccf@cfpartner.org.

novation through partnerships," he said. "This program and the quality partnerships represented fits the mission's definition. The SEAL program will prove the greatest gains that can only occur when school and business collaborate, innovate, and work together. Greater gains will be possible through the continued encouragement and support of agencies like the Indiana Office of Work-Based Learning and Apprenticeship and the Governor's Workforce Cabinet."

Superintendent of Shoals Dr. Candace Roush added, "Small schools are often striving for ways to maintain their own identity but also provide the benefits and course offerings of larger schools. The SEAL program between the three schools continues to demonstrate that small schools can come together and share programs and resources in a very successful way."

Additionally, Superintendent of OCS James Ellis said, "Orleans Community Schools is excited about the opportunities that the SEAL program provides for the students in COSMOS. The partnership between Shoals, Mitchell and Orleans Schools has allowed all three school corporations to grow in ways that each couldn't by themselves. COSMOS will continue to seek out partnerships and opportunities that will benefit our students going forward. We are also thankful for the support that the Indiana Office of Work-Based Learning and Apprenticeship and the Governor's Workforce Cabinet have given to COSMOS and to its students."

Tina Peterson, President of Regional Opportunity Initiatives Inc. and a major supporter of COSMOS, said, "Working collectively, the three districts that comprise COSMOS have seen possibility where others might have only seen barriers. Working together, these three districts in neighboring counties have blurred the lines and sharpened their focus. They have shown that innovative pathways across districts can not only become a reality but also provide more equitable and accessible opportunities for students. We are inspired by the way COSMOS has leveraged the ROI Ready Schools initiative to provide pathways for students into high-demand, high-opportunity career fields available right here in the Indiana Uplands. It's a game changer for students, employers, and the region."

SEALs are Indiana's state-level apprenticeship and pre-apprenticeship programs. They are designed to deliver work-and-learn experience for participants along with the skills and certifications that employers value. These programs are geared toward both adult and youth populations and satisfy Indiana's new graduation pathway requirements.

For more information about the COSMOS SEAL, or SEALs in general, visit the OWBLA website at <http://www.in-wbl.com/> or email the Office of Work-Based Learning and Apprenticeship at wbl@dwd.in.gov.

PROM

will last until 1 a.m.

Due to the circumstances surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic, it was uncertain until recently whether the school would be allowed to host a Prom during the spring semester. Similar to last school year, the junior parents stepped up and prepared to host a Prom/Post Prom celebration in case the school was once again unable to sponsor the event. In light of those circumstances, the Simon J Graber building was previously reserved for the event and prepared to host LHS. With the safety of students in mind, it was determined that hosting both events at the same location would eliminate travel between the celebrations.

The school will provide transportation for any student who needs a ride to the dance. Should you have any additional questions regarding the Grand March, Prom, or Post Prom, please contact the Loogootee High School office at 812-295-3254.

The elementary principal recommended Rebecca Rollins and Leeza Adams to provide remediation for IREAD3 Students June 1 to June 4. The board approved. They also approved Mimi Hawkins, Megan Hawkins, Christin Johnson, and Sandra Hovis to provide summer school for students K-5.

The varsity girls to go to Bloomington League in June and play summer games in June and July

The Midwest Elite Basketball Camp will be held at Shoals for 5-12th grades June 21, 22, and 23rd.

3rd and 4th girls' basketball practice during April and May will be led by Megan Hawkins.

The high school volleyball team will go to Franklin College July 16 and 17 for camp and stay overnight.

The superintendent recommended the school allow the Covid online option to continue for the 2021-2022 school year for current students with at least a "C" average. The board approved.

Shoals Post Prom parents requested to use the practice gym for Post Prom on April 24. The board approved.

Superintendent Roush presented a resolution to oppose House Bill 1005, titled "School Choice Matters". The board approved.

The board approved the following fundraiser requests:

-Shoals Volleyball team to sell shirts March 24 through April 9.

-Class of 2023 to sell trash bags in bulk from April 26 until May 7. The anticipated funds will go towards prom, graduation, and the senior trip.

-Prom students to sell grand march tickets (up to 4) for $1 each. The anticipated funds will go towards next year's prom.

-Junior class to sell magazines. The anticipated funds will be used for graduation and senior trip.

Junior High Principal Austin Malone began with the upcoming ILEARN testing that the students are preparing for. The teachers have been in CPI this past week, that Dr. Roush was able to set up at the school in which Terra Boyd was the staff facilitator. To provide more STEM opportunities, the Purdue Extension office will be at the school for about four weeks for their Clover Gaming Connection beginning on Monday. Rox Request is always open for donations as well as the need for more Cass counselors which is open to anyone who is interested. NWEA scores have seen great improvement among the students. A big thank you to Lorna Troutman for providing ice cream to all students the day before spring break, Terra Boyd for her excellent CPI training, and Tammy Cooper and Eileen Dawson for providing lunches to the COVID online test takers. Then lastly, thank you to Josh Neideffer for cleaning classrooms and always being kind to the students. He will be greatly missed.

Elementary Principal Shannon Waggoner opened with exciting news that elementary enrollment has reached 304. They are now down to 32 days until the end of the school year. IREAD 3 has had great results. Leah Bullock has done a phenomenal job with the students. ILEARN coming up will begin April 19.

NWEA will be completed in May. Multiple teachers have been attending digital fab lab training. Upcoming events include preschool registration on April 16. Preschool Graduation will be on April 21 at 1:30 p.m. Awards day (grades 3-5) will be May 25 at 1 p.m. IREAD remediation will be June 2-4. Summer camp which will be an amazing time for any student interested, will be held June 21 through July 9. If interested, please contact the office as spots are limited. A big thank you to Myrna Greene. She goes above and beyond for the students and they really appreciate everything she has done for them. She has made a difference in many students' lives.

High School Principal Kindra Hovis was excited to share that all high school students are now back in person. The Spring Fling was a success as well as the freshman orientation. They had approximately 50 enrollments. Overall enrollment in the high school is continuing to grow. The master schedule was emailed out in January and will be finalized before the end of the school year. Jug Rox Make a Difference Day will be on April 14. They had 50-plus students sign up and will be going to eight locations so far. Upcoming events: Area Academic Meet (virtual) on April 20. Prom will be on April 24. The theme will be "Hollywood Nights". Homecoming/Senior night will be April 30. AP Exams are scheduled for May 3-6. The band spring concert will be May 11 at 7 p.m. Lastly, a big thank you to Reva Troutman, she has jumped right in and done a fantastic job working with the students while Danielle is out. Also, they are excited to welcome Baby Cornette!

Superintendent Dr. Candace Roush notified the board of a new school partnership with Vincennes University and the Mitchell and Orleans Schools. She talked about the three schools coming together to launch two new SEALs. SEAL stands for Student Earn and Learn which will allow students to combine dual credit college courses and local paid apprenticeships. The first two SEALs will be in education and nursing.

She notified the board that the school does have plans to continue the summer lunch program similar to last year. The school will also be working on some AC units and the middle school ceilings over the summer.

Finally, she thanked custodian Josh Neidiffer for his years of service to the Shoals School Corporation.

Before adjourning, Reva Troutman wanted to thank the board for giving her a chance. She is thankful that she can give back to the community and teach at the school where she graduated from.

Also, the board wanted to thank Josh Neidiffer for his years of service at the school.

The meeting adjourned at 6:49 p.m.

Councilman's Corner

Update on actions your council has taken the first 99 days of 2021!

Local government gets it done faster than 100 days!

-Grants, wayfinding and award for town signage and severe weather warning siren.

-Beautification Board and Park Board received several grants also.

-No smoking in building policy.

-Exterior of property's are tidier and in order.

-Shop is more organized/less clutter.

-Monthly meetings organized/streamlined.

-2019 - clean up resolution update passed (charged for if the town cleans up property).

-2020- unfit dwellings ordinance update passed to coincide with property clean up ordinance.

-Park and beauty boards more empowered.

-Local business engagement.

-Clear communication with employees (written work orders from council).

-Park developments (Exploring future park development located in east and west Shoals)

-Built a foundation and relationship with the school. (Working relationship between industrial trades class and town hall building updates).

-Inter-county agency relationships being built.

-Better safety and security measures being taken in the utilities departments.

-Accounting software installation (more accurate accounting of your tax money).

-Community outreach and information provided more and transparent.

-Issued seven property clean up violations and two unfit dwellings violations..

This is a team effort from you council and clerk-treasurer, and town marshal. Grant writing is a very time consuming and daunting process done by our clerk treasurer, beautification and park board members. This is all done on their own free time (unpaid time)!

Citizen sting operations create dangerous situations and hamper law enforcement

Recently, Indiana has seen an increase in the number of social media 'vigilante' groups attempting to go after suspected online predators without the support of law enforcement. While these groups may have the best intentions in mind, operating outside the scope of law enforcement can be extremely dangerous for both themselves and others.

Private "investigations" created through this kind of activity where citizens pretend to be minors in order to lure and then confront suspected online predators (which they usually live stream on social media) face legal challenges and other hurdles that impact whether charges could be filed. When citizens take matters into their own hands, it can usually be harmful to a successful prosecution, leading to someone who may well have been guilty walking free.

Law enforcement officials are the only ones qualified to conduct these kinds of investigations. Having gone through extensive training, these officials know the right techniques in collecting and preserving the digital evidence that is necessary to prosecute these kinds of cases.

Martin County Prosecutor Aureola S. Wright wants to encourage the residents of Martin County not to take the law into their own hands. These citizen sting operations could lead to injury or death to the person attempting to expose a suspected predator, the person they are confronting or innocent bystanders. Confrontations of this nature are capable of turning violent quickly. Vigilantes also open themselves up to potential lawsuits for libel and slander should the person they are going after, decide to bring a lawsuit.

If a resident has a reason to suspect someone may be attempting to lure minors online, please pass that information along to local law enforcement who can then conduct a legal investigation, collect the necessary evidence which, if warranted, will lead to charges and a prosecution.

Safety grant -Photo provided

The Indiana Public Employers' Plan, Inc. (IPEP) announced Martin County as a recipient of its 2021 safety grant award. IPEP partnered with Deputy Auditor Teresa Winger among others, along with David Welch with German American, to maximize opportunities to promote a safe work environment and assist with stretching their risk management resources. The grant funds will be used to purchase safety equipment or safety training programs that will reduce or limit workers compensation exposure. IPEP was created in 1989 as a risk-sharing pool for public entities, as a response to the need for public employers to find affordable workers' compensation coverage. IPEP has grown to provide workers' compensation claims administration for more than 700 public entities including cities, towns, counties and schools.

More Neat Stuff

By Ann Ackerman

As most of you know, I'm a dog person and even though I love all animals, I have found cats to be more difficult to own and care for. When I saw the following article, I remembered the only time I tried to give KitKat (the feline that lived in my house when I bought it) a bath and one attempt was enough for me.

HOW TO WASH A CAT:

1. Put both lids of the toilet up and add 1/8 cup of pet shampoo to the water in the bowl.
2. Pick up the cat and soothe him while you carry him towards the bathroom.
3. In one smooth movement put the cat in the toilet and close the lid. You may need to stand on the lid.
4. At this point, the cat will self agitate and make ample suds. Never mind the noises that come from the toilet, the cat is actually enjoying this!
5. Flush the toilet three or four times. This provides a "Power-Wash" and "Rinse."
6. Have someone open the front door of your home. Be sure that there are no people between the bathroom and the front door.
7. Stand well back, behind the toilet as far as you can, and quickly lift the lid.
8. The cat will rocket out of the toilet, streak through the bathroom, and run outside where he will dry himself off.
9. Both the toilet and the cat will be sparkling clean.

Yours sincerely, The Dog

THOUGHTS

*Sometimes Alexa ignores me or makes me repeat myself three times, or doesn't do what I ask, so I'm claiming her as a dependent on my taxes.

*Everyone has the power to make someone happy. Some do it by entering the room, while some do it by leaving.

*Old age is like underwear – it creeps up on you.

*Wine improves with age. The older I get, the more I like it.

*Got up at 5 a.m., five-mile run completed, came back prepared for a vegetable smoothie for breakfast. Don't remember the rest of the dream.

*Where can I find a microwave that doesn't beep so loud it lets my family know I'm eating again.

*If you see a toilet in your dream, do not use it.

*The officer said, "You're staggering. I said, "You're quite handsome yourself."

We just laughed and laughed. I need bail money.

NICE THOUGHTS

*Don't get all worried about getting older. Our age is merely the number of years the world has been enjoying us.

*Good things come to those who work their butts off!

*You know all those things you've always wanted to do? You should go do them.

*There are two things you should never waste your time on – things that don't matter and people who think that you don't matter.

*Be the reason someone feels welcomed, seen, heard, valued, loved and supported.

*Doing nothing is hard. You never know when you're done.

Make someone smile today!

Entrepreneurs, inventors and start-ups invited to participate in second royalty-free pitch competition

Entrepreneurs, inventors and start-ups can pitch innovative proposals to south-western Indiana defense and economic development industry leaders on June 23 at Radius Indiana's second annual "Crane IP Defense Innovation Pitch Competition" with royalty-free IP.

The competition offers unprecedented, royalty-free opportunities to commercialize the patented technologies and concepts developed at Naval Surface Warfare Center-Crane Division, Indiana's only federal research laboratory. Individuals or teams are invited to develop an innovative proposal for one of the intellectual property areas selected for the competition.

"Our desire is that businesses and entrepreneurs will be able to make use of these technologies, which will ultimately lead to job creation and economic growth," said Jenna Dix, technology transfer director at NSWC Crane. "The engineers and scientists at Crane create valuable technology to help the men and women who protect our nation, and we would love to see this technology be applied to increase innovation in our communities."

The competition is hosted by Radius Indiana, in coordination with Elevate Ventures, Naval Surface Warfare Center-Crane Division, Indiana Innovation Institute, and the Indiana Small Business Development Center. Entrepreneurs will have the opportunity to connect with industry leaders from these organizations, and cash prizes totaling $7,000 will be available to the top three contestants. Additional prize funds will be available for competitors with locations in the Radius region of southern Indiana.

"Radius continues to make important investments in small business and entrepreneurship," said Keeley Stingel, vice president of innovation and economic development at Radius Indiana. "The continuation of the pitch competition and the strength of the relationships between our partners positions our region and defense ecosystem to attract top talent and emerging technologies."

Virtual informational sessions given by NSWC Crane's Technology Transfer program on April 29 and May 11 are available for participants in advance of the competition. The sessions will provide an overview of available technologies and highlight opportunities for engaging with Crane and include an introduction to Crane's IP portfolio. Participants can also receive individual coaching sessions through the resources of Elevate Ventures and ISBDC.

"Pitch competitions give entrepreneurs valuable feedback, new connections, and increased confidence ahead of future ventures," said Hunter Hawley, the winner of Radius Indiana's 2019 regional pitch competition and CEO of Blueprint Stats. "Radius delivers all three in this event, and the environment is fun, supportive and competitive."

The competition is free for participants. Entrants will receive a template to create a slide presentation for the competition.

The registration deadline is June 1, 2021. Visit www.radiusindiana.com to learn more and register for the competition.

Matthew 5:16 Day marks 10th year

This year marks the 10th year the community will share Matthew 5:16 Day with others. "In the same way, let your good deeds shine out for all to see, so that everyone will praise your heavenly Father." Matthew 5:16 Day was first held in French Lick in 2009 as a day of community service where people worked to shine Christ's love through good deeds around for the Springs Valley area, and Loogootee was added in 2010 and Shoals joined in 2015 to this day of service. This year on Saturday, May 8 from 8-12 p.m. will be Matthew 5:16 Day, even though it may look a little different this year due to the pandemic.

Volunteers will meet at Loogootee Christian Church at 8 a.m. There will be a variety of jobs to choose from.

All workers will be wearing a yellow t-shirt to make them stand out in the communities. Each volunteer is asked to give your t-shirt size when you sign up. Churches who would like to be a part of the day can contact Chris Walker at 812-295-6275 or email christinewalker1986@gmail.com. Churches are asked to help pay for the cost of t-shirts for their volunteers.

Anyone interested in signing up to volunteer on Matthew 5:16 Day should do so at their church by April 25.

Loogootee Girls' Tennis defeated at Invitational

The varsity Lady Lions Tennis Team were defeated in the final game of the Loogootee Invitational last Saturday, April 10. The girls beat Pike Central in the semi-finals 5-0 but lost to Gibson Southern in the final matches, 1-4. Super tie-breakers were played in lieu of third sets.

Head Coach Mike Tippery said, "This was a great match that could have gone either way. In the end, Gibson Southern capitalized on their opportunities to win the match."

CITY

pick up the letter. He provided a quote from a company who would push the house down for $500. Hudson said the grass is very tall however they can't get someone in to mow it due to the debris around the property. The council agreed to bill the property owner for the demolition and if unpaid, they will place a lien on the property. Mayor Harty noted that the way the house is now, it is unsafe. He said knocking it down will at least help with the safety issue.

City Attorney Isha Wright-Ryan said it's the first she is hearing of the issue and requested time to check into the law prior to any work being done. The council went ahead and approved the $500 contingent on Wright-Ryan giving the go ahead.

Hudson also informed the council that letters went out to residents in the city who were in any way blocking sidewalks. He said 80 percent of the residents cleared the obstructions. He requested the city set aside money to repair the sidewalks now that they are no longer blocked. Mayor Harty said they may be able to use American Recovery Act funds. Hudson said there is also issue with residents driving and parking on curbs and sidewalks. He asked if the police can start writing tickets now that the city has cracked down on obstructing the sidewalks. The mayor said they can talk to the chief of police and see what they can come up with.

A couple residents in the audience asked why the city is suddenly concerned with residents parking on sidewalks when those sidewalks haven't been in existence in a long time. One resident said that if the city plans to maintain or replace the sidewalks then that is understandable but to start issuing letters out of the blue doesn't make sense. He said that there are buildings downtown on the square that are crumbling, and nothing is done about those. "Some things are noticed, and some things are turned a blind eye to," he said.

The mayor replied that they are aware of the issues with buildings downtown and have been in contact with those property owners.

Clerk-Treasurer Roger Downey reported the city will received $560,000 from the American Recovery Act to reimburse the city for lost revenue related to COVID-19. The money can be spent through 2024. He provided the council with a list of expenditures that qualify for use of the money.

Council Member Teresa Nolley asked if Downey knew how much the city lost due to COVID. Downey replied that he doesn't have that information at this time.

During the board of public works and safety meeting, prior to the city council meeting, the board tabled a list of unpaid water bills that were uncollectable. Board Member Rick Norris said he would like to look over the list before the board approves writing off the amounts. He said he knows several of the people on the list and sees them often.

Fire Chief JD Flynn requested to get quotes for a used rescue truck or tanker due to their current model being outdated. The council gave permission.
