Commissioners hire Milestone for next round of road paving

BY COURTNEY HUGHETT
Martin County Journal Publisher

Of the two bids opened at the last Martin County Commissioners' meeting for the paving for the Community Crossings grant, Milestone was the low bid at $1,091,667.66. The commissioners approved their bid at their meeting Tuesday night, June 29.

The 11.3 miles of roads to be completed as part of this round of grant funding include Mill Road, from Lauck Lane to Albright Store Road; Mt. Olive Road from Cale Road to Low Gap Road; Chicken Farm Road, from the Shoals town limits to East River Road; Rusk Road, from Emmons Ridge Road to the county line; Reinhart Road, from Mt. Calvary Road to Wildman Road. The paving is scheduled, per the bid, to be completed by October 29 of this year.

Sheriff Travis Roush brought his hiring, referral and retention bonus plans to the commissioners for approval. He presented the bonus structure to the county council at their last meeting however the commissioners are in charge of approving new policy. The hiring bonus he suggested would give $500 to a new employee after they reach 90 days of employment and then another $500 after 90 more days. The referral bonus would give the referring employee $500 after the person they recommended is employed for 180 days.

The retention bonus has tiers based on how long the employee is with the department. After 2 years, the employee would receive a $500 bonus; at six years, the employee would receive $1,000; at 11 years, the employee would get $1,500 and at 16 years, the bonus would be $2,000.

Roush explained to the commissioners that the bonuses would be contingent on how well the commissary fund does each year. If there are not funds available in commissary, no bonuses will be given. No money will come from the general fund.

The commissioner approved each bonus policy.

Sheriff Roush also requested approval to create two new positions for assistant jail commander and assistant dispatch commander, with each person receiving a $1,000 salary increase. Roush had told the council at their last meeting that he needs to have the assistants to keep the flow going when the jail commander and dispatch commander are on vacation or are out sick. The positions will not be hired as new employees, they will be promotions from within the jail.

Commissioner Paul George asked the sheriff if the council will be able to fund the salary increases. Roush replied that he presented the idea to the council at their last meeting and although he doesn't want to speak for them, they seemed to be ready to approve the increases. The commissioners agreed to create the positions but left the salary increases up to the council.

Martin County's jobless rate at 3 percent for May

BY COURTNEY HUGHETT
Martin County Journal Publisher

Martin County's unemployment rate edged up slightly in May to 3 percent, from 2.9 percent the month before. The county had the eighth lowest jobless rate in the state for May.

In May, the county had 5,435 residents in the workforce and 161 of them were unemployed. In April, there were 5,278 residents able to work and 153 of them were without jobs.

In May of last year, Martin County's unemployment rate was 5.6 percent with 5,407 residents in the workforce and 303 of them were without jobs.

Daviess County's jobless rate also bumped up slightly from 2.5 percent in April to 2.9 percent in May. The county had the seventh lowest unemployment rate in the state for May.

In May, the county had 16,966 residents in the workforce and 484 of them were without work. In April, there were 16,557 residents able to work and 418 of them were unemployed. In May of 2020, Daviess County's jobless rate was 5.4 percent with 16,424 residents in the workforce and 883 of them were without work.

Dubois County's unemployment rate went unchanged from April to May, staying at 2.8 percent. The county had the fourth lowest jobless rate in the state for May, tied with Hamilton and Union counties.

In May, the county had 23,623 residents in the workforce and 668 of them were without jobs. In April, there were 23,179 residents able to work and 653 of them were unemployed. In May of last year, Dubois County's jobless rate was 5.5 percent with 22,445 residents able to work and 1,233 of them unemployed.

Greene County's unemployment rate also went unchanged from April to May at 4.2 percent. The county had the 25th highest jobless rate in the state in May, tied with Brown and Tippecanoe counties.

In May, the county had 13,485 residents in the workforce and 565 of them were unemployed. In April, there were 13,336 residents able to work and 562 of them were without jobs. In May of 2020, Greene County's jobless rate was 8.8 percent with 13,068 residents able to work and 1,155 of them were unemployed.

The top ten spots in the state for lowest unemployment rate for May were Adams County at 2.5 percent, LaGrange County at 2.6 percent, Boone County at 2.7 percent, Union, Hamilton and Dubois counties at 2.8 percent; Daviess County at 2.9 percent, Martin County at 3 percent, and White, Wells, Steuben, Spencer, Ohio, Kosciusko, and Gibson counties at 3.1 percent.

The top ten spots in the state for highest jobless rate for May were Lake County at 8.3 percent, Howard County at 7.7 percent, LaPorte County at 6.2 percent, Vigo County at 5.5 percent, Fayette and Marion counties at 5.4 percent, Miami and Porter counties at 5.3 percent, Madison County at 5.1 percent, and St. Joseph and Starke counties at 5 percent.

Indiana's unemployment rate stands at 4.0 percent for May, and the national rate is 5.8 percent. The monthly unemployment rate is a U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) indicator that reflects the number of unemployed people seeking employment within the prior four weeks as a percentage of the labor force.

Indiana's labor force had a net increase of 6,370 over the previous month. This was a result of an increase of 3,292 unemployed residents and an increase of 3,078 employed residents.

COMMISSIONERS

Sheriff Roush reported there are currently 70 inmates in the jail and 33 of them are from Vigo County.

Ernie Abel, of Burns City, came to the commissioners to update them on the progress of clean-up at his property, after complaints were brought to the commissioners several months ago. Abel said he has removed everything except a car trailer from the county-owned lot next to his property. Commissioner George said they will be at the county-owned lot the weekend of July 12 to mow and asked that the trailer be removed by then. George asked Abel to return at the end of the month to give another clean-up update.

Auditor Bobbie Abel said that Jamison Hibbs submitted two recommendations for replacing Carol Richer on the Innkeepers' Board - Amy Todd and Crystal Machino. The commissioner approved Crystal Machino for the position.

Commissioner George requested the next commissioners' meeting be moved to Wednesday, July 14 instead of July 13. He said he would like to attend a livestock auction. The other commissioners agreed. The meeting will remain at 5:30 p.m.

Clerk Gerald Montgomery presented a bid from Wagler & Sons for the remodel of the clerk's office with the painting costs removed for $13,778.60. Another firm was hired to do the wall prep and painting, so Wagler & Sons was asked to modify their bid. The commissioners approved the new bid.

Highway Superintendent Scott Seals said they are still doing mowing and filling potholes around the county and getting things ready for the Catfish Festival this week.

RATE

Indiana's total labor force, which includes both Hoosiers employed and those seeking employment, stands at 3.34 million, and the state's 63.2 percent labor force participation rate remains above the national rate of 61.6 percent.

Learn more about how unemployment rates are calculated here: <http://www.hoosierdata.in.gov/infographics/employment-status.asp>.

Employment by Sector

Private sector employment has increased by 234,800 over the year and decreased by 2,700 over the previous month. The monthly decrease is primarily due to losses in the Manufacturing (-3,600) and the Trade, Transportation and Utilities (-700) sectors. Losses were offset by gains in the Leisure and Hospitality (1,900) and the Construction (400) sectors. Total private employment stands at 2,620,800, which is 119,700 below the December 2019 peak.

Making A Difference

-- INDEPENDENCE DAY --

Independence Day. Such a great day in our history. 245 years ago, 13 American colonies, as a new nation, declared independence from the British Empire. We all celebrate this very important day on July 4th. But did you know that we actually (and legally) became separated from Great Britain on July 2nd when Congress voted to approve the resolution of independence? Two days later they then approved and adopted the Declaration of Independence, which was an explanation of the decision to separate from Great Britain.

-- OUR INDEPENDENCE --

The actions by those people so long ago set the stage for our great county to grow and prosper as it has. Each of us are very fortunate to live here. Just ask anyone who has traveled abroad. Here we can voice our opinions and make our own decisions. We are free and independent to make our own choices, hopefully within the laws established by this great county.

-- OUR CHOICES --

When we make our choices and decisions, we typically do it to better ourselves, help someone else, or in some way improve something. Even though we do occasionally see that some people sometimes make decisions and choices that cause harm or don't do good. Our country's laws, set in motion 245 years ago, deal with those instances.

-- DOING GOOD --

So, when you decide to do something good, you can choose your time, your talent, or your treasure to meet your goals. If you choose your treasure (your money or other assets) to improve the quality of life in your community, the Martin County Community Foundation is always here to provide a way to do that. There are other ways and organizations to donate to a charity or to help a good cause, but with the MCCF, your choice will have an impact and make a difference for many, many years to come, for another 245 years and more.

-- BECAUSE WE CAN --

So, with our independence, we can choose what or who we can help, decide why we do it, choose how we do it, and choose when we do it. You can do it now, do it later, or do it with a will or bequest when you're gone. Remember the MCCF when making your decisions and your choices. We offer some unique alternatives to help you help others. You are free to help others any way you can because of some actions by a few men those many years ago.

-- CELEBRATE --

Celebrate that freedom every day, not just once a year on July 4th. There is no reason not to be thankful for living in these United States of America. Each of us is fortunate to live here. Be thankful for what you have been given. Not just for an opportunity to do good, but the ability and freedom to actually take some actions and improve the quality of life around you and in your community. Give back for what you have been given. So many years ago...

HERSHEL GRABER

Hershel Lynn Graber went home to be with his Lord June 21, 2021, after a year-long valiant battle with cancer. He was surrounded by his wife, Karen, and other family and friends at the time of his passing. A resident of Loogootee, he was 72.

Hershel was born November 19, 1948; son of John "Ervin" Graber and Martha Mae (Slaubaugh) Graber. He married Betty Jean (Stoll) in 1968, they raised two sons together in Loogootee. They later divorced. He married Karen (Risk) on August 31, 2002. They worshipped at Harvest Community Fellowship in Washington.

Hershel was the fifth of 11 children. He grew up on a dairy farm near Loogootee.

HERSHEL GRABER

He graduated from Barr-Reeve High School in 1967.

Following graduation, he worked at Deaconess Hospital in Evansville for two years in the I-W Service to fulfill his military requirements. The hospital offered him a job managing medical supplies for the entire hospital, but he decided to go into partnership with his father and brother, Keith, on the dairy farm. After 10 years, he farmed on his own raising grain and livestock.

In 1995, Hershel and his son, Brian, started Graber Insealators, a foam insulation business. He was a pioneer to bring this service to the southern Indiana/Kentucky area. He attended a lot of trade shows to educate the public about foam insulation. The business grew and expanded to the Louisville area. Hershel trained and mentored his employees and treated them like family. In September 2018, he sold the business and worked under the new ownership as a salesman for 2+ years.

Hershel enjoyed the water. He and Karen and the grandchildren spent a lot of time on Boggs Lake, skiing, jet skiing, swimming, boating, and fishing. He recently competed in antique tractor pulling with his Allis-Chalmers WD-45 tractor, winning many of his events.

Hershel had an unwavering faith in God which he shared with those who surrounded him. Hershel was reunited in Heaven with his parents, J. Ervin and Martha Graber; brothers, Nathan Graber and Curt Graber; sister-in-law, Carol (Knepp) Graber; brothers-in-law, Dan Weare, Harold Johnson, and Dave Green, and niece, Camilla (Graber) Lengacher.

He is survived by his wife, Karen; sons, Brian (Melissa) Graber and Kevin (Darby) Graber; seven grandchildren, Jakob Graber, James (Katrina) Graber, Jayce Graber, Jordan (fiancé' Chrystina Kidwell), Joshua (Brittany) Graber, Jaleena Graber, and Janae Graber; four great grandchildren, Libby, Akron, Bricklynn, and Parker; siblings, Glenda Weare, Keith (Gwen) Graber, Violet and Nelson Gusler, Perry (Diane) Graber, Nadine Johnson, Velda Green, Marlin (Debbie) Graber, and Marjean and Darrel Swartzentruber. He is also survived by several nieces and nephews.

Visitation will be held on Sunday, July 4, from 4 p.m.-7 p.m. at Providence Mennonite Church Fellowship Hall in Montgomery. Funeral Services will be held on Monday, July 5, at Providence Mennonite Church. There will be a graveside service for close family and friends at 10 a.m. followed by a Celebration of Hershel's life at 11 a.m. A fellowship meal for all will follow the service.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation to the Cup of Joy Project in Louisville, Kentucky, a favorite ministry of Hershel's. Esther Lyon is the founder of The Haven Ministries and Cup of Joy Project, whom Hershel met while working in Louisville. The Haven Ministries or Cup of Joy buys old bars and turns them into coffee shops/cafes, homes for women. They feed the homeless, minister to the neighborhood, and help those with addictions. They help people obtain their GED's, with legal matters, and life skills. This organization became very dear to Hershel. The upcoming building is being dedicated to Hershel for all this help and support. Checks may be payable to: The Haven Ministries or Cup of Joy, 2415 Portland Ave., Louisville, KY 40212. PERKS OF BEING OVER 50

1. You still look amazing, as long as you don't put your glasses on.
2. No one expects you to run –anywhere.
3. Kidnappers are no longer interested in you.
4. You can still touch your toes, but now it's with your boobs.
5. You can still eat whatever you want—but now it lives on your waist-line.
6. You no longer care what anyone thinks about you.
7. There's nothing left to learn the hard way.

THOUGHTS

*I admire people who grow old gracefully. They age like a fine wine. I'm aging like milk – getting sour and chunky.
*My swimsuit told me to go to the gym, but my sweatpants are like – "Nah, girl, you're good."

BY DARLA WAGLER
Librarian, Loogootee Public Library

The library will be closed in observance on Independence Day on Monday, July 5, 2021.

The July activity calendar is available with summer reading program events listed. Some of the programs require registration and limit supplies so I suggest you register the kids soon. It has been fun watching the kids attend the various programs. Makenzie Wagoner is doing a terrific job with the programming.

Friends of Loogootee Library (FOLL) will have a huge book sale on Saturday, July 10 from 8 a.m.-12:30 p.m. in the library community room. Materials for sale include nice hardbacks, paperbacks, AudioCDs, DVDs, and lots of children's books.

New Books

Mystery Fiction: "The Third Grave" by Lisa Jackson,

Fiction: "Santa's Sweetheart" by Janet Daily, "The House Guests" by Emilie Richards, "Someone to Cherish" by Mary Balogh, and "Ralph Compton: The Wrong Side of the Law" by Robert J. Randisi.

Inspirational Fiction: "Chasing Shadows" by Lynn Austin.

Library hours: Monday 10-7, Tuesday 10-5, Closed on Wednesday, Thursday 10-7, Friday 10-5, and Saturday 9-1. The library phone number is 812-295-3713 and check out the website www.loogootee.lib.in.us or like us on Facebook. The library has free Wi-Fi service available for patrons.

Back to school vaccine clinics

The start of a new school year will be here before we know it. Kindergarten students, students in grade 6 and 12, and college students may need immunizations before they can begin classes this fall. Students in all grades need to get the Hepatitis A vaccine if they have not already received it. The Martin County Health Department clinic is open on the following dates with extended summer hours: Wednesdays, July 7, July 14, July 21, July 28, and August 4.

Clinic hours are from 8:30 a.m.-noon and 12:30-6 p.m. by appointment only. Please note these are the only dates a nurse will be available for immunizations. The health department office is located at 127 Water Street, Shoals (next to the Shoals Fire Station)

The Martin County Health Department is contracted with VaxCare and can bill most insurance companies that pay for vaccines. The patient must bring their insurance card, or no vaccines can be given on that day. The health department can vaccinate children on Medicaid, the uninsured and those who have insurance that does not pay for vaccines through the Vaccines for Children (VFC) program. They also provide TB testing for a fee.

If you have questions about immunizations, you can contact your child's doctor or call the health department at 812-247-3303.

In the Garden

By Ralph Purkhiser,
Purdue University Master Gardener

What a difference a week makes. Even with a lot of preparation for a trip, one comes home to a garden that has changed dramatically. That is not necessarily all bad. Yes, the weeds have continued to grow, and a few plants disappeared from the garden (probably because of some bunnies in the area), but the gardener's absence does not keep the progression of the garden in check.

I spent last week on vacation with family and returned home to a kaleidoscope of color. I had been concerned that I would miss some of my favorite blooms while I was traveling, but I think they all managed to hang on for my return. Daylily blooms had begun prior to my departure, but I returned to find the mid-season varieties in full bloom. The weather this year has made for a phenomenal year for the daylilies. The scapes all seem to have multiple blooms and many buds for extending the show.

Another favorite that has reached its peak is the Queen of the Prairie or Filipendula. This tall native sports pink plumes high above most other plants in the garden. They are beautiful as they blow in the wind. While these particular specimens are in the perennial border, I also enjoy them in the meadow. While not as bright and tall, the graceful blooms of some white callas also greeted me in the perennial border. Oriental lilies in several colors are also providing dramatic accents. The first flush of coneflowers, tall

DNR recommends removal of bird feeders statewide

The Indiana DNR has received reports of sick and dying songbirds from 15 counties statewide. As the investigation continues, the DNR recommends all Hoosiers remove their birdfeeders statewide.

The 15 counties are Clark, Delaware, Hamilton, Jackson, Jefferson, Johnson, LaGrange, Lake, Marion, Monroe, Newton, St. Joseph, Union, Washington, and Whitley.

DNR is working with the Indiana Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory (IN ADDL) and the USGS National Wildlife Health Center to determine the birds' cause of death.

The affected songbirds showed neurological signs of illness as well as eye swelling and crusty discharge.

Several samples have been sent to IN ADDL. All bird samples submitted have tested negative for avian influenza and West Nile virus. Final laboratory diagnostic results are pending.

The following steps are recommended statewide:

- Use the DNR sick/dead wildlife reporting tool at on.IN.gov/sickwildlife to alert DNR staff.
- Stop feeding birds until the mortality event has concluded.
- Clean feeders and baths with a 10 percent bleach solution.
- Avoid handling birds. If you need to handle birds, wear disposable gloves.
- When removing dead birds, wear disposable gloves and place birds and gloves in a sealable plastic bag to dispose with household trash.
- Keep pets away from sick or dead birds as a precaution.

Additional information will be shared when final diagnostic results are received.

phlox and black-eyed Susans in swaths around the border complete the picture. I can live with the weeds for a while.

While my plans to visit a botanical garden this trip were nixed by the weather and a foot injury, I did spend a day riding a trolley through the Dogwood Canyon Nature Preserve in Blue Eye, Missouri. This place is landscaping on steroids. It is a place of great natural beauty, but that has been enhanced by some additional manipulation. There are many natural waterfalls along the trolley route, but some have been modified to increase the amount of water. The natural streams have been dammed in numerous places to create the pools favored by trout. They have also planted additional dogwood trees to create a dramatic display in the spring. Although not completely natural, this attraction allows visitors a chance to enjoy great beauty of the Ozarks in a variety of ways. One may hike, ride horses, bicycles or segways, take the trolley or go on a jeep tour. The buildings are all rustic to blend in with the natural area. They include a chapel in the woods, an impressive treehouse with educational features, a restaurant, a working mill, a gift shop and even a covered bridge constructed entirely with antique hand tools. Bridges and other hardscape are built of stone and blend in perfectly.

In addition to the trees, wildflowers and other foliage, a visitor will have the opportunity to see a variety of wildlife. We saw Missouri mink along the way. The streams are stocked with brown, rainbow and golden trout and one may fish for an additional fee. They also have bison, elk and long-horn cattle in pastures at the top of the mountain, when one has passed from Missouri into Arkansas.

The property totals 10,000 acres, but only about 2,000 are open for visitors. The other acreage includes a working farm and acreage that has been preserved in its natural state. It is only a short drive from Branson and offers a different venue to visitors to southwest Missouri. I highly recommend it and I hope to go back sometime when the dogwoods are in bloom.

Remote work learning opportunities announced

On Tuesday, Lt. Gov. Suzanne Crouch and the Indiana State Department of Agriculture (ISDA) announced that 20 remote work learning scholarships are being provided across nine agriculture organizations in partnership with the Purdue Center for Regional Development (PCRD). Scholarships fully cover the cost for participants to complete PCRD's Remote Work Certificate Program (<https://pcrd.purdue.edu/remoteworkcertificate/>).

"I am excited to announce these opportunities for rural Hoosiers to develop critical skills," Crouch said. "This comes at a great time as Indiana further invests in expanding broadband infrastructure."

In 2020, the Lt. Governor's family of business agencies announced the Rural Road to Recovery (RRR) initiative which resulted in the creation of blueprints for supporting Indiana's small cities and towns in the wake of COVID-19. Under RRR, ISDA prioritized increasing access and deployment of broadband services needed to support on-farm and farm household activities, with a particular focus on enhancing online remote workforce training opportunities for farm households seeking off-farm income options.

"Our goal here is to further support Indiana's rural agricultural communities in the wake of COVID-19," said ISDA Director Bruce Kettler. "As part of supporting our farm families and industry culture, we have new and creative possibilities to enable off-farm income and to close those skill gaps more quickly."

The below agriculture groups have teamed up with ISDA to allocate the 20 scholarships across Indiana. Each group received at least one scholarship to provide to awardees they selected:

- Agribusiness Council of Indiana
- American Dairy Association of Indiana
- Indiana Beef Cattleman Association
- Indiana Corn Marketing Council
- Indiana Farm Bureau

- Indiana Grown
- Indiana Pork Producers
- Indiana Soybean Alliance
- Indiana State Poultry Association

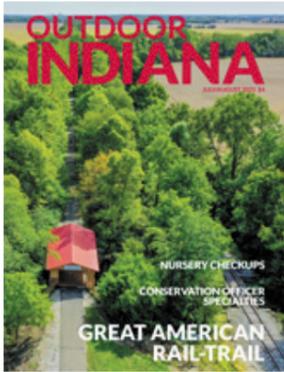

"Since 2005 remote work has grown by 173 percent," said Roberto Gallardo, Director of the Purdue Center for Regional Development. "Thirty percent of U.S. jobs could be done from home full time, and we are excited about this certificate program and the opportunities it gives to Indiana residents."

Scholarship awardees will be trained via cohorts on project management, critical thinking, problem solving, time management, collaboration and professional organization. The certificate program has 9 modules totaling 30 hours of expected work. Upon completing the program, participants earn a dual certificate through Purdue University Extension and Utah State University. In addition, participants receive career coaching and are added to a large and growing networking community of program alumni.

Magazine features Great American Rail-Trail

Outdoor Indiana magazine's July/August issue features a cover article on the Great American Rail-Trail. The Great American, as the improved-surface trail is branded by the Rails-to-Trails Conservancy, will, when finished, stretch between Washington, D.C., and Washington state. The trail includes a route through Indiana. Both the overall trail and the Hoosier portion are more than halfway finished.

Outdoor Indiana is available now at most

Barnes & Noble stores in Indiana for $4. Subscriptions are $15 for one year (six issues, a 38 percent savings off cover) and $28 for two years (12 issues, a 42 percent savings off cover).
