County heading to red status with COVID-19, two more dead

BY COURTNEY HUGHETT
Martin County Journal Publisher

Public Health Nurse Julia Albright told the Martin County Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night, November 17, that the county currently sits in the orange zone for COVID-19 cases but could soon see that go to red, the worst zone. She said that so far this month, there have been 86 cases of COVID reported, double the amount already from the two previous months. "Now is not the time to become lax in our sanitation," she said. She said she has already been notified of seven new cases today, for tomorrow's numbers.

On Wednesday, Albright reported two additional deaths due to COVID, bringing the total to four deaths in just one week.

Albright attributed the spread of cases, in part, due to residents breaking quarantine when they are supposed to be staying home. She said it is imperative that anyone who is sick, has been around a COVID positive person, or is awaiting test results, to stay at home for the full quarantine period. She encouraged anyone with questions to contact her at the health department. She noted the importance, also, of social distancing, good hygiene, and wearing a mask.

In the orange zone, social gatherings are limited to 50 people or less. Any gathering planned with more than 50 has to be submitted to the health department for approval. Albright said if the county moves to red status, gatherings are limited to 25 people or less and all community events are encouraged to be cancelled. "We are almost to that point," she said.

Albright added that flu season is coming up so that will be a battle on top of COVID-19.

"It's getting pretty rough," said Commissioner Paul George. "It's going to get rougher." Albright agreed.

Danielle Murphy, jail matron, reported they received a COVID-related grant from the criminal justice institute for $22,850 to be used to purchase an outside freezer to store food for the inmates. She hopes the freezer will be able to hold a three-month supply of protein products.

The sheriff's department also received a grant from IPEP to purchase AEDs (automated external defibrillators), and bullet proof vests. The grant is for $6,805 with a 20 percent match of $1,361 from the county.

Murphy also reported there are 72 inmates currently in the jail with 27 of them from Vigo County.

Bridget Redmon, the county's health insurance representative, said she was able to negotiate Anthem down to just a two percent increase for next year, over the 14.06 percent they initially quoted. Redmon said she requested sympathy for Martin County due to the recent budget shortfall and income tax increase and Anthem relented.

Redmon provided other plan options to the commissioners, below the two percent increase, but with higher deductibles and co-pays. She provided information on the cost savings to the county if they moved to an 80/20 on premiums – the county paying 80 percent and the employee paying 20. Currently the county pays 90 percent, and the employee pays 10. She also told

Multi-agency efforts result in charges of dealing meth for mother and son in Shoals

In the morning of Monday, October 26, Martin County Sheriff's Deputy Larry Gibson met Shoals Town Marshal Todd Eckert at Rox Storage in Shoals, while they both were on patrol. When they exited their vehicles, they immediately smelled the odor of raw marijuana in the area. They attempted to pinpoint the odor and determined it was coming from the set of storage units on the northwest side.

Deputy Gibson then deployed his narcotics certified K9, Spike, for a free air sniff of the exterior of that set of storage units. K9 Spike gave a positive indication for the odor of narcotics at a specific unit door. Marshal Eckert then deployed his narcotics certified K9, Adele, for a free air sniff of the exterior of that set of storage units. K9 Adele gave a positive indication for the odor of narcotics at the same unit door. Marshal Eckert and Deputy Gibson then approached the unit, and both smelled the odor of raw marijuana emanating from the crease of the door. Martin County Sheriff's Office Sergeant Tyler Reed arrived on scene to assist. Sgt. Reed could smell the odor of raw marijuana in the area as he approached. Sgt. Reed then deployed his narcotics certified K9, Virka, for a free air sniff of the northwest set of storage units. K9 Virka also gave a positive indication for the odor of narcotics at the same unit door. Sgt. Reed also smelled the odor of raw marijuana emanating from the crease on the door of the unit.

Marshal Eckert called the owner of Rox Storage, advised the owner of the situation, and inquired as to the renter of the unit. The owner advised that the renter was Danny Krodel, 34, of Shoals, and had been for several months. Deputy Gibson and Marshal Eckert had seen Krodel at the storage unit multiple times in the last several weeks. Officers stood by at the storage unit for scene security and integrity during the application of a search warrant.

Deputy Gibson applied for and was granted a search warrant for the storage unit by the Honorable Martin County Circuit Court Judge Lynne E. Ellis. Deputy Gibson, Sgt. Tyler Reed, Marshal Eckert, and Loogootee Police Officer Aaron Means then executed the search warrant. A search of the storage unit resulted in officers recovering approximately two pounds of marijuana, approximately one gram of suspected heroin (that field tested positive), suspected methamphetamine (that field tested positive), and paraphernalia.

Later in the morning hours of Monday, October 26, Deputy Larry Gibson applied for and was granted a search warrant for Krodel's residence by the Honorable Martin County Circuit Court Judge

-- OUR COMMUNITIES --

The Martin County Community Foundation is fortunate to be able to help our county and our communities in the ways that we have. The MCCF has grown considerably since we were formed over 21 years ago. Our county owes a lot to those that, so long ago, were thinking of our future needs. From scholarships, support to designated non-profit organizations and cemeteries, yearly grant cycles, and meeting unplanned and emergent needs in our communities, the MCCF is able to respond because of the generous and thoughtful donors that have held our future so close to their hearts and giving plans.

-- OUR QUALITY OF LIFE --

A big part of the MCCF's mission is to improve the quality of life in our county with the grants we provide through endowments. These grants help non-profit organizations provide services to support and improve our communities. Those services are far-reaching and cover a variety of needs. Those needs include keeping our communities desirable places to live and grow.

-- BEAUTY --

When you see something that is pleasing to the eye or makes you smile, your attitude generally improves. Those things bring a level of enjoyment to you and likely to others as well. And in Martin County, we have a lot of beauty that brings enjoyment not only to us, but our visitors too.

-- CITY OF LOOGOOTEE, TOWN OF SHOALS --

The City of Loogootee and the Town of Shoals both have been busy with plans and projects to improve their communities and to highlight the beauty and things they have to offer. In Loogootee, for example, they have the projects for downtown beautification and renewing the fountain on the square. And in Shoals, they want to install new street/stop sign posts and start a "Wayfinding" project that will highlight their history and local places of interest.

The MCCF recently awarded the City of Loogootee and the Town of Shoals each $25,000 to help with these projects. Not only will they keep our communities places that you can enjoy, but also for visitors that will spread the word about what we have to offer. More visitors to our county means more business, leading to stronger communities.

More Neat Stuff

By Ann Ackerman

The other day a not so elderly (I say 75) lady said something to her son about driving a jalopy; and he looked at her quizzically and said, "What the heck is a jalopy?" He never heard of the word jalopy! She knew she was old. But not that old.

Well, I hope you are Hunky Dory after you read this and chuckle. So, let's illuminate some old expressions that have become obsolete because of the inexorable march of technology.

Phrases like: Don't touch that dial, carbon copy, you sound like a broken record, and hung out to dry. Back in the olden days we had a lot of moxie. We'd put on our best bib and tucker, to straighten up and fly right. Heavens to Betsy! Gee whillikers! Jumping Jehoshaphat! Holy moley!

We were in like Flynn and living the life of Riley; and even a regular guy couldn't accuse us of being a knucklehead, a nincompoop or a pill. Not for all the tea in China! Back in the olden days, life used to be swell, but when's the last time anything was swell? Swell has gone the way of beehives, pageboys and the D.A.; of spats, knickers, fedoras, poodle skirts, saddle shoes, and pedal pushers. Oh, my aching back!

Kilroy was here, but he isn't anymore. We wake up from what surely has been just a short nap, and before we can say, "Well, I'll be a monkey's uncle!" Or, "This is a fine kettle of fish!" We discover that the words we grew up with, the words that seemed omnipresent, as oxygen, have vanished with scarcely a notice from our tongues and our pens and our keyboards. Poof, go the words of our youth, the words we've left behind.

We blink, and they're gone. Where have all those great phrases gone? Long gone: Pshaw, The milkman did it. Hey! It's your nickel. Don't forget to pull the chain. Knee high to a grasshopper. Well, Fiddlesticks! Going like sixty, I'll see you in the funny papers. Don't take any wooden nickels. Wake up and smell the roses.

It turns out there are more of these lost words and expressions than Carter has little liver pills. This can be disturbing stuff! (Carter's Little Liver Pills are gone too!) We of a certain age have been blessed to live in changeable times. For a child each new word is like a shiny toy, a toy that has no age. We at the other end of the chronological arc have the advantage of remembering there are words that once did not exist and there were words that once strutted their hour upon the earthly stage and now are heard no more, except in our collective memory. It's one of the greatest advantages of aging. Leaves us to wonder...

SERIOUSISMS

*You might feel worthless to one person, but you are priceless to another! Don't forget that.

*When you learn to let go of the things that aren't good for you, you make room for the things that are.

*One day someone is going to hug you so tight that all of your broken pieces will stick back together.

*Everyone is a genius. But if you judge a fish on its ability to climb a tree, it will spend its whole life believing that it is stupid.

*Be selective with your battles. Sometimes peace is better than being right.

*Forgive others, not because they deserve forgiveness, but because you deserve peace.

Christmas Toy Store needs your help

This year has brought hard-times and changes to many people in Martin County. There are a lot of families in our communities that are struggling to make ends meet, to figure out how to stay in their homes, feed their families, pay the bills, etc. And now Christmas is coming, and those same parents are trying to figure out how to bring some joy to their children in a little over a month. Love goes a long way, but kids like to see the toys on the floor when they wake up Christmas morning and maybe know that Santa hasn't forgotten about them.

So, this pandemic is hitting the Christmas Toy Store hard on both fronts. They average 460 kids a year that get toys from the Toy Store. This year it'll be more. They need your help to help families and kids in Martin County see some joy and happiness during a time when those seem hard to find. Please open your heart and your pocketbook to get a present for a child and see that it gets to the Toy Store by Friday December 11 at the Loogootee United Methodist Church.

Known collection points for toys are the Loogootee United Methodist Church, Redemption Christian Church, St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church, Family Dollar, Loogootee Dollar General, Crane Credit Union, Old National Bank, and German American Bank. If you want to start a collection point somewhere else too, organizers thank you. Just be sure to get the toys to the LUMC by December 11 or contact Curt Johnson, 812-296-7013, to arrange pick-up.

The Naval Surface Warfare Center, Crane Division (NSWC Crane) K-12 Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) program was honored with a regional innovation award on October 13.

Regional Opportunity Initiatives (ROI) announced its 2020 winners of the third annual Indiana Uplands Regional Innovation Awards, which recognize people, organizations, and projects that have made “meaningful improvements to education, workforce, economic development, and quality of place within the eleven counties of the Uplands region.”

The STEM Innovation Award recognizes a program or organization that has made meaningful and novel contributions to STEM education or training in the Indiana Uplands. NSWC Crane is a major employer in the Indiana Uplands region, which includes Brown, Crawford, Daviess, Dubois, Greene, Lawrence, Martin, Monroe, Orange, Owen, and Washington counties.

Since the launch of the STEM program in 2010, the team has provided educational opportunities for youth grades K-12 throughout these counties.

Tina Closser, the NSWC Crane STEM Coordinator, says the award expresses the importance of STEM education.

“We were very excited to learn that we were nominated and won the 2020 STEM Innovation Award from ROI,” says Closser. “Being recognized as an organization that has made contributions to STEM education and training is very important. We are committed to serving our community and growing our pipeline of future STEM professionals.”

The award recognizes that “in the decade since its inception, the NSWC Crane STEM program has grown to support more than 5,000 students, 100 teachers, and 30 schools each year across the Indiana Uplands region.”

The STEM Team provides curriculum for students designed to provide hands-on activities geared towards students’ learning levels such as coding, robotics, tinkering, circuit boards, and more. In early 2020, the STEM program pivoted and worked with schools to provide virtual learning to students.

NSWC Crane STEM Team provides a wide variety of programming to local youth, including summer STEM Camps and after-school programming at Westgate Academy. The team also supports science fairs, a STEM club, and VEX and First Robotics competitions for students. More than one hundred NSWC Crane employees support the STEM program. These volunteers participate in sponsored school partnerships and mentor students in classrooms.

The award recognizes that the STEM program has created a pipeline of NSWC employees who have benefited from the STEM program, with many serving as STEM mentors in local schools. The STEM program was recognized for its service to the region in building and attracting the next generation of STEM workforce.

HERBERT and LORETTA ROACH

Roach 70th Wedding Anniversary

Navy Machinist’s Mate 2nd Class Herbert G. Roach and Miss Loretta M. Jones were married on November 26, 1950 in Minden, Nevada. They had met in a roller-skating rink in Vallejo, California where MM2 Roach was stationed with the United States Navy. The first 18 years of their life together took them all over the world with Herb’s service to the country. During that time, they were blessed with three children, Michael D. (Susie) Roach of Odon, Robert Dale (Mona) Roach of Bloomfield and Debra Ann (Tim) Gunnoe of Navarre, Florida. They also fostered Loretta’s niece, Donna.

The family returned to Herb’s hometown of Vincennes, Indiana in 1966 while he completed his last tour of duty. Upon his retirement from the USN, both Herb and Loretta went to work at Naval Surface Warfare Center, Crane where they both retired after many years of service. They moved to the Odon/Epsom area in 1974 and in 1977 they moved to their current residence on the Raglesville Lake.

They have been blessed with six grandchildren, one of which is deceased. There are also 12 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

NSWC Crane hosts nearly one thousand job seekers in first-ever virtual career fair

BY SARAH K. MILLER

NSWC Crane Corporate Communications

Nearly one thousand participants from across the country attended Naval Surface Warfare Center, Crane Division's (NSWC Crane) first-ever virtual career fair on October 22. NSWC Crane was seeking qualified applicants in business and technical positions and the public was welcome to participate.

The annual career fair started in 2018 and was structured this year to take place virtually to ensure public safety. Christopher Goodwin works in Recruiting and Student Outreach for NSWC Crane and was integral in organizing the virtual event.

Goodwin says there were benefits to hosting the career fair virtually this year.

"While we have had large numbers of job-seekers at our in-person events in the past, conducting the fair using a virtual platform allowed us the ability to reach a much wider audience than previous in-person events," says Goodwin. "The platform we chose enabled us to list positions in a way that job-seekers could easily identify which organizations at Crane fit their education, experience, and backgrounds. The ultimate success of the fair can be attributed to the over 150-volunteers who devoted the afternoon to advancing NSWC Crane's workforce."

Goodwin says there were unique opportunities for job seekers.

"Attendees had the ability to research the different departments and divisions at NSWC Crane, as well as five government contract partners and NAVFAC," says Goodwin. "Once they researched, they could then select which area to speak to an expert. Attendees uploaded their resumes into a database, which are now searchable by our organization if the need arises later for candidates meeting their qualifications. This could all be accomplished from remote locations and did not necessitate driving to Southern Indiana and potentially taking time off from work or classes."

Command's strategic intent for the next decade includes growth of a rigorous and expert workforce. Goodwin says that going virtual helped to access talent.

"Through social media and our affiliation with professional organizations, we had the ability to reach candidates that would otherwise not have had access to speak with NSWC Crane employees regarding our mission and focus areas," says Goodwin. "This allowed us to grow our recruiting pool to areas we typically cannot visit due to financial and time constraints."

Goodwin says the event was organized to be informative, feature-rich, and easy to use for participants.

"We had access to ten virtual booths and forty chat rooms," says Goodwin. "Each department identified a Point of Contact to build their booth and create chat rooms for divisions within them. Some of the Corporate Operations and Business function areas were grouped together outside of their normal organization in order to make things easier to understand from a job-seekers perspective."

Local teachers recognized as 2020 McDonald's Teach it Forward Outstanding Educators

Local teachers were selected as 2020 McDonald's Teach it Forward Outstanding Educators from a pool of more than 880 nominations. The award honors educators who exhibit the ultimate dedication to their students and contribute to the improvement of education in our most challenging times. Local McDonald's Owner/Operator Jami Kasprzyk says supporting teachers is always a top priority, but this year is more important than ever.

"Our teachers are constantly adapting to whatever is thrown at them, while making sure our students succeed," said Kasprzyk. "We're excited to recognize those who go above and beyond for our students through the Outstanding Educator awards."

Kasprzyk and her husband Nick partnered with other area McDonald's operators including Matt Comte, Robert Jedele, and Wally Nowakowski to honor the following area educators:

Shoals Business Association meets

The Shoals Business Association met Wednesday, October 21 at the Shoals Overlook. Those in attendance were President Joyce Foerster, Vice-President Earl Boyd Jr., 2nd Vice-President Kari Goodman, Secretary Sierra Rutledge, and Annette Taylor, with the Town of Shoals Beautification Board.

President Foerster stated that the treasurer for the association had to resign and she suggested Vice-President Goodman take over the duties. Goodman stated that it would be fine. Secretary Rutledge made a motion for Goodman to handle the treasurer duties with Vice-President Boyd making the second and all were in favor.

Foerster then stated starting with the next meeting the alternate location of Jug Rock Cafe would be used with cold weather coming.

Secretary Rutledge stated that memberships were coming in and to date 22 businesses have joined the association for 2020-2021 with 10 of them being new (not previous) members.

Foerster stated she thought it would be a good idea to change the location of the passport stamp from Spring Water Soaps to Jug Rock Cafe. Vice-President Boyd made a motion to change the location with Secretary Rutledge making the second and all were in favor. Foerster stated she would work on getting the information on the current signs changed to name the new location.

Rutledge stated several businesses had signed up as a trick-or-treat location and she was sending the list to be published the week of Halloween. A bill was presented from the Martin County Journal for an advertisement. Vice-President Boyd made a motion to pay the invoice with Goodman making the second. Annette Taylor, with the Town of Shoals Beautification Board, gave several updates on their plans for the holidays. Taylor stated there were plans to decorate the four large black flower pots located in town. Taylor said the nativity set had arrived and an exact location for placement was still being discussed. She has wreaths for any businesses that would want to display one. Taylor said they have banners to be placed at two locations, swags for the Main Street lamp posts, and that Chastain's Flower Shop had donated cutout gingerbread figures.

Taylor stated the beautification board is also hosting an event on December 5 after the parade at the Shoals Volunteer Fire Department with local vendors, cocoa and cookies, and a Christmas story reading. Earl Boyd said Main Street Closet would be turned into a Christmas Store. After discussion, it was decided to have the judging for the associations decorating contest on December 5 take place from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. and to announce the winners at 2 p.m. at the fire station. Boyd made a motion to make a $200 donation from the association to the beautification board for the nativity and Christmas decorations with Goodman making the second and all were in favor. Goodman stated Jug Rock Cafe was trying to organize a Breakfast with Santa event.

With no further business Boyd made a motion to adjourn with Rutledge making the second and meeting closed at 10:35 a.m.

The next Shoals Business Association meeting will be Wednesday, November 18 at 10 a.m. at the Jug Rock Cafe.

The Shoals Business Association is still accepting memberships. Any business or individual that loves the community of Shoals is welcome to join. Contact Secretary Sierra Rutledge at (812) 709-0636 if you would like to join.
