

The Wright Brothers built bicycles at first, but wanted to design and build the world's first powered aircraft . They didn't give up and eventually on December 17th 1903 at Kitty Hawk U S A, their plane made the first ever successful flight.

