

The Short Brothers put up aero sheds at Shellbeach in which the new planes could be built. The Wright Brothers came to see their new planes in what was one of the world's first aircraft factories.