

Zuhri Yusof is the CEO of Contigo Mobility and a seasoned corporate leader with over 22 years of automotive experience focusing on business and digital transformation in many different capacities. He currently sits on multiple automotive and mobility companies as an executive board member and advisory board member. He is also a serial investor in the automotive and mobility space with portfolios spread globally. Previously, he headed the automotive industry practice as part of one of the Big 4 consulting firm and have served multiple automotive companies globally in a management capacity including the role of CIO for an automotive OEM before moving into consulting where he has advised multiple companies with focus on disruptive technologies to enable them to transform and stay ahead in the market.

Emilia Mospan is the Head of International Business of Contigo Mobility. She is a highly experienced professional in the area of management consulting, international expansion, recruitment, foreigner affairs and business development. With over 20 years of industry experience, she has built significant global networks.