WEYMOUTH IRISH HERITAGE PARADE

The museum was honored to participate in Weymouth's inaugural Irish Heritage parade and celebration on Sunday, March 24th. The Malden Tower joined our contingent and we made quite an impression with all of our apparatus.

And, yes, the Hendrickson made it, too.

RUN FOR PREVENTION

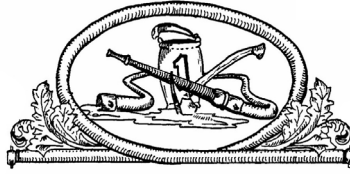

Saturday, March 30th, brought beautiful weather and the Run for Prevention to Bare Cove Park. With our doors open, we saw a steady stream of visitors to our museum. We hardly had enough volunteers to give tours and talk to folks about our museum.

AMMUNITION MUSEUM DISPLAY

Scott Mcmillan has kindly set up a display without our museum highlighting some of the artifacts from the Bare Cove Bark Ammunition museum that he runs out of the dock house. If you haven't yet stopped by to see it, it's worth a visit.
