To potential clients of Hunks and Punks,

When we were planning our wedding, we knew that hiring a live band to play at our reception was one of our dreams. We were uncertain if it was within our price range, but after quite a bit of research, we decided to reach out to Hunks and Punks and couldn't be happier with our decision!

Hunks and Punks were a wonderful and memorable addition to our wedding day. As this was our first time hiring a band, they helped guide us through the process from start to finish. Their pricing was more than reasonable, and worth every penny. From venue set up to selecting an awesome playlist and everything in between, they provided excellent advice and assistance.

Tim, the main contact in the band, was fantastic to work with. He was happy to accommodate any requests and always replied in a very punctual manner. He was a huge help, and we cannot thank him enough for his patience and support.

Hunks and Punks have a huge range of songs to choose from, and every single one they played on stage was incredibly well done and full of energy. After playing three full sets, they kept going for an encore that had everyone dancing and singing along until the very end. All of our guests raved about the incredible performance and we loved seeing our friends and family tear up the dance floor.

All we can say is a huge THANK YOU to Hunk and Punks, and that we would highly recommend them for any future events, especially weddings. We know that we would not hesitate to have them play again, and will definitely be seeking out their shows in the future.

Thanks so much!
