

To any potential client of Hunks and Punks,

We recently had the pleasure of hiring Hunks and Punks to perform at our Halloween wedding in 2022 and I can't say enough good things about them. From their energy onstage to their diverse and expansive repertoire, they exceeded all of our expectations.

Hunks and Punks provided a night of unforgettable entertainment for everyone in attendance. They provided an incredible evening of entertainment that all of our guests will be talking about for months. We have people that are STILL asking us about the band. Not only did they have a great stage presence, but their diverse selection of songs from both classic and modern genres kept everyone dancing all night long. From the beautiful ballads to the upbeat pop hits, there was something for everyone. These guys were playing all day and all night long and we were shocked. All night, they only had 3 breaks, and we couldn't believe that they just kept going. They really kept the party moving all night.

They played at both our cocktail hour and our reception and we had MANY people coming up to us mentioning how amazing the band was. There is absolutely nothing that compares to the incredible experience they gave us.

You will absolutely not regret hiring Hunks and Punks to play at your wedding, they are incredible and not to be looked over. We were adamant that we wanted to hire a wedding band and so glad we found them. We saw them play live before we hired them and we knew that they would be perfect for our wedding.

They started by giving us a list of songs that they know (that were by the hundreds!) and we got to hand select any songs that we wanted to hear. They also offered to learn any other specific songs that we wanted! I couldn't believe it!

Tim was a pleasure to deal with through the whole process both with me and my wedding planner (Erica Irwin). He never skipped a beat and made sure everything went seamless for all of us.

My husband and I spoke to a few other wedding bands and had HORRIBLE experiences that were uncommunicative and pricing that was out to lunch, but Hunks and Punks were the opposite. Their pricing is not only fair, but I sincerely feel they are under charging for the incredible performance that they delivered. Seriously do not look any further if you are looking for entertainment for your wedding. You need to hire these guys. Just do it!

If you would like to speak with us about our experience, please do not hesitate to contact. We will be more than happy to share videos and talk about how great it was to hire them.
