

Nuggets of Fun and Nostalgia for Treasure Valley Golden-Agers

Wise Advice from a Farmer 's Wife

- ◆ Whenever you return a borrowed pie pan, make sure it's got a warm pie in it.
 - ◆ Invite lots of folks to supper. You can always add more water to the soup.
 - ◆ There's no such thing as woman's work on a farm. There's just work.
 - ◆ Make home a happy place for the children. Everybody returns to their happy place.
 - ◆ Always keep a small light on in the kitchen window at night.
 - ◆ If your man gets his truck stuck in the field, don't go in after him. Throw him a rope and pull him out with the tractor.
 - ◆ Keep the kerosene lamp away from the milk cow's leg.
- ◆ It's a whole lot easier to get breakfast from a chicken than a pig.
 - ◆ Always pat the chickens when you take their eggs.
 - ◆ It's easy to clean an empty house, but hard to live in one.

MARRIAGE ADVICE FROM 1886

Let your love be stronger than your hate or anger.

Learn the wisdom of compromise, for it is better to bend a little than to break.

Believe the best rather than the worst.

People have a way of living up or down to your opinion of them.

Remember that true friendship is the basis for any lasting relationship.

The person you choose to marry is deserving of the courtesies and kindness you bestow on your friends.

Wise Advice from a Farmer's Wife (Continued from page 1)

- ♦ All children spill milk. Learn to smile and wipe it up.
- ♦ Homemade's always better'n store bought.
- ♦ A tongue's like a knife. The sharper it is the deeper it cuts.
- ♦ A good neighbor always knows when to visit and when to leave.
- ♦ Always light birthday candles from the middle outward.
- ♦ Nothin' gets the frustrations out better'n splittn' wood.
- ♦ The longer dress hem, the more trusting the husband.
- ♦ Enjoy doing your children's laundry. Some day they'll be gone.
- ♦ You'll never catch a runnin' chicken but if you throw seed around the back door you'll have a skillet full by supper.
- ♦ Biscuits brown better with a little butter brushed on 'em.
- ♦ Check your shoelaces before runnin' to help somebody.
- ♦ Visit old people who can't get out. Some day you'll be one.
- ♦ The softer you talk, the closer folks'll listen.
- ♦ The colder the outhouse, the warmer the bed.

Here's My Opinion - Comments from 65 Years Ago

- "I'll tell you one thing, if things keep going the way they are, it's going to be impossible to buy a week's groceries for $20."
- "Kids today are impossible. Those ducktail haircuts make it impossible to stay groomed. Next thing you know, boys will be wearing their hair as long as the girls."
- "It won't be long before young couples are going to have to hire someone to watch their kids so they can both work."
- "I'm afraid to send my kids to the movies any more. Ever since they let Clark Gable get by with saying 'damn' in 'Gone With The Wind,' it seems every new movie has either "hell" or "damn" in it."
- "If they think I'll pay 50 cents for a hair cut, forget it."
- "Marriage doesn't mean a thing any more; those Hollywood stars seem to be getting divorced at the drop of a hat."
- "Have you seen the new cars coming out next year? It won't be long before $5000 will only buy a used one."
- "I read the other day where some scientist thinks it's possible to put a man on the moon by the end of the century. They even have some fellows they call astronauts preparing for it down in Texas."
- "I'm just afraid the Volkswagen car is going to open the door to a whole lot of foreign business."
- "If cigarettes keep going up in price, I'm going to quit. A quarter a pack is ridiculous."
- "Did you see where some baseball player just signed a contract for $75,000 a year just to play ball? It wouldn't surprise me if someday they'll be making more than the president."
- "Thank goodness I won't live to see the day when the Government takes half our income in taxes. I sometimes wonder if we are electing the best people to congress."
- "Did you hear the post office is thinking about charging a dime just to mail a letter?"
- "The drive-in restaurant is convenient in nice weather, but I seriously doubt they will ever catch on."

WHY ENGLISH IS HARD TO LEARN

We'll begin with box; the plural is boxes,
But the plural of ox is oxen, not oxes.
One fowl is a goose, and two are called geese,
Yet the plural of moose is never called meese.

You may find a lone mouse or a house full of mice;
But the plural of house is houses, not hice.
The plural of man is always men,
But the plural of pan is never pen.

If I speak of a foot, and you show me two feet,
And I give you a book, would a pair be a beek?
If one is a tooth and a whole set are teeth,
Why shouldn't two booths be called beeth?

If the singular's this and the plural is these,
Should the plural of kiss be ever called keese?

We speak of a brother and also of brethren,
But though we say mother, we never say methren.
Then the masculine pronouns are he, his, and him;
But imagine the feminine . . . she, shis, and shim!

Would you like it gift-wrapped?

The lingerie store where my aunt works was crowded with shoppers selecting Valentine's Day gifts for their wives.

A young businessman came to the register with a lacy black negligee.

My aunt noticed that the next customer, an elderly farmer, was holding a long red flannel nightgown and kept glancing at the younger man's sexier choice.

When it was his turn, the farmer placed the nightgown on the counter. "Would you have anything in black flannel?"

Still Getting Around

At the senior center a group of seniors were playing cards and talking about all their ailments.

"My arms have gotten so weak I can hardly lift this cup of coffee," said one.

"Yes, I know," said another.

"My cataracts are so bad I can't even see my coffee."

"What? Speak up! What? I can't hear you!" said a third senior.

"I can't turn my head because of the arthritis in my neck," said another, to which several nodded weakly in agreement.

"My blood pressure pills make me so dizzy I can hardly walk!" exclaimed another.

"I forget where I am, and where I'm going," said an elderly gent.

"I guess that's the price we pay for getting old," winced an old man as he slowly shook his head. The others nodded in agreement.

"Well, count your blessings," said one woman cheerfully.

"Thank goodness we can all still drive!"

Her Four Husbands

The local news station was interviewing an 80-year-old lady who had just gotten married for the fourth time. The interviewer asked her questions about her life, about what it felt like to be marrying again at 80, and then about her new husband's occupation.

"He's a funeral director," she answered.

"Interesting," the newsman thought. He then asked her what her first three husbands did for a living.

She paused for a few moments, needing time to reflect on all those years. Then she explained that she had first married a banker when she was in her 20's, then a circus ringmaster in her 40's, and a preacher in her 60's, and now - in her 80's - a funeral director.

The interviewer looked at her, quite astonished, and asked why she had married four men with such diverse careers.

She smiled and explained, "I married one for the money, two for the show, three to get ready, and four to go."

Will You Marry Me?

A widower and a widow had known one another for a number of years. One day they were at lunch at the Senior Center. They were at the same table across from one another.

As the meal went on, he made a few admiring glances at her and finally gathered up his courage to ask her, "Will you marry me?"

After a few seconds of careful consideration, she answered. "Yes. Yes, I will." The meal ended and with a few more pleasant exchanges, and they went home.

The next morning, he was troubled. "Did she say yes or did she say no?" He couldn't remember. Try as he would, he just could not recall. Not even a faint memory.

With trepidation, he went to the telephone and called her. First, he explained to her that he didn't remember as well as he used to. Then he talked about the lovely time they had. As he gained a little more courage, he then inquired of her, "When I asked if you would marry me, did you say 'Yes' or did you say 'No'?"

He was delighted to hear her say, "Why, I said, 'Yes, yes I will,' and I meant it with all my heart." Then she continued, "And I am so glad that you called, because I couldn't remember who had asked me."

How are you doing on those Resolutions?

We are a month in to the New Year and you are well on your way to completing all of your resolutions, right? No?! Well here is a message of encouragement for you?

Good Morning, and Welcome to Flight # 2020.

We are prepared to take off into the New Year. Please make sure your Attitude and Blessings are secured and locked in an upright position.

All self destructive devices should be turned off at this time. All negativity, hurt and discouragement should be put away.

Should we lose Altitude under pressure during the flight, reach up and pull down a Prayer. Prayers will automatically be activated by Faith. Once your Faith is activated you can assist other passengers.

There will be NO BAGGAGE allowed on this flight. The Captain has cleared us for takeoff. Destination GREATNESS.
