This Home's Tale:

Built in 2012, this home has seen three loving owners, each adding their own layer of warmth and charm. The first planted the trees that now sway out front, the second crafted the cozy reading nook by the window, and the third brought life to the backyard with twinkling lights and garden beds. It's more than walls and a roof—it's a story in motion, waiting for its next chapter. Will you be the one to write it?
