Empowering Women to Excel in Life & Business

ABOUT

SAMIRA

Samira L. Jones, is quite unique in her approach on life and the meaning of success. Samira offers life and business consulting services to individuals and organizations both nationally and internationally. It was through her own pain of being rejected and abandoned at a young age and again later in her marriage that she realized her strength and desire was the gift of helping other women recognize their strength as well.

In 2015, Samira started mentoring women who were in crisis and created programs that helped them achieve their goals. From this, she formally launched her company, Game Changer Life, LLC.

Also in 2015, Samira released her first book, "Tough Skin, A Journey of Survival and Persevering Life's Challenges" that speaks about her childhood and marriage.

Today after a 25 year separation from her mother, Samira's mother has re-entered her life. This has been a new dimension to Samira's teachings -- Forgiveness, which is also the title of her next work, "The Forgiveness Journey", a story focused on restoring her relationship with her mother, as well as advice on forgiving others.

"Often times in life, the storm is required in order to receive the blessing."

- Samira Jones

In 2016, Samira launched her first live retreat, "Girlfriends, Discovering Our Strength", which encompassed teachings in relationships, finance, health and wellness, perception, growth, and perseverance. Keynote Speaker, Kim Coles of the hit series, "Living Single", shared how important it is to speak your gifts. The audience was captivated by the many speakers who brought a wealth of knowledge and expertise to the stage that enabled them to live fully, their best lives.

Samira Jones' formal education includes a Bachelors in Administration of Justice, Masters of Business Administration, and Masters in Information Technology/Information Assurance. Samira used her skill set in careers that required analytical capabilities. These environments included, private investigations and compliance analysis for the federal government.

In her current role as a coach, her goal is to use her story to encourage other women to continue to stay strong for the fight, stay firm in doing what's right for them and their family, while also honoring their own self-care and fulfillment.

After becoming passionate about her gifts, Samira left her position as a federal government contractor to pursue her dreams of entrepreneurship and aiding others through her programs to own and grow businesses as well that will leave a respected legacy for their families generations to come.

A JOURNEY OF SURVIVAL AND
PERSEVERING LIFE'S CHALLENGES

SAMIRA L. JONES

"At the time of reading, Tough Skin I was already in the restoration process. I was and am determined; however, I still had a lot of questions that I was not going to ask because of past experiences. I opened Samira's book and within the first 10 pages I had those questions answered. I read the book in 1 day because I knew although our details were different our obstacles were yet the same. This book encompasses strength, focus, hope, perseverance, and forward motion action. I was honestly taken in by every chapter. It created a mirror effect and I loved every minute of it. There is no way you could read this book and not want to tackle the next phase of your life with a renewed sense of YOU. I am a person of many words and though I had many the only word manifestation was "Thank you".

I thought I had to wait until I was together and that is where I was losing time and momentum...reading your book —Start right where you are create a strong presence and call to action."

TESTIMONIALS

"I had the honor of meeting Samira Jones in 2015. I was in a dark season of my life and really needed someone to talk to who would be honest and direct with me. I had been reading her inspiring posts on Facebook and one day I had enough of feeling depressed and decided to reach out for help! God ordered my steps and I followed!! With the quickness Samira responded to my message and scheduled a time to speak with me. Our conversation was exactly what I needed to move me from a state of darkness into a state of light. I am truly blessed to have met her! Blessings and favor."

-Gina M. Thompson

"Before I met Samira, I accepted the myth that women had to "wait out" a life storm before they could aspire to their dreams. That the tough times had to actually END before the good could begin. But I've watched Samira build a thriving business while in the midst of the storm! AND best of all, she supports other women in doing the same thing. Through that example, which I am blessed to witness during our weekly accountability calls, I have been able to reach goals I at one point thought I wasn't ready for. Samira is The Bounce Back Strategist who works every day to move forward. Women seeking to overcome adversity will find comfort working with a coach whose "been there", and at times may even "be there" but will nevertheless guide them in moving forward despite their circumstances."

"I met Samira Jones last year after the Act Like a Success Conference. She is truly a powerful woman with the heart to help others. Samira is an inspiration to all who come in contact with her. She will go out of her way to help anyone. I cannot wait to work with her on my book project. Thank you Samira for being you."

-Deborah Phillips

"I first met and connected with Samira Jones in 2015 through a virtual training workshop we both were in attendance of for speakers and writers. After seeing how open, transparent and strong she was about sharing her story with us members of the accountability group she started on Facebook, I felt inspired to reach out to her to talk privately about my own personal storm I was also going through at the time, as I was finding my way own courage to end an emotionally toxic and abusive relationship.

Samira was quick to respond to my request to talk and made time out of her busy schedule to lend me an attentive ear, emotional support, spiritual encouragement, and solid words of wisdom. As a newly single mother myself I also appreciated her advice and support as a more seasoned vet in motherhood as well. I am very inspired by her clear resolve and determination to not allow what happened to her to overcome her but to instead use it as fuel to become even better because of it. Kudos to Samira Jones on her continued success with her book, and being an example for other women of how to overcome devastating hurt by having, Tough Skin, and faith in God to see you through whatever life throws your way."

Girlfriends

DISCOVERING OUR STRENGTH

This was an awesome retreat for women hosted by Samira Jones and it was titled for this year "Girlfriends: Discovering Our Strength Experience. I'm telling you, the conference was amazing and we had no idea that we were going to attend this conference. But God had destined us to be there. I recommend any and all women to attend this conference on next Year. You will not be disappointed and we were amazed by all of the speakers. The testimonies and the fun they had were so inspiring. Samira has a huge heart for people that touches so many people lives. Her book is amazing as well. I'm still reading this book and it's amazing so far and she has an amazing testimony. I hope I can convince as many women as I can to attend next year because I believe it will change so many lives.
