

To be free - What does it mean

To be without restrictions
You have no control over me
You want to forget what has happened
Well it's already forgotten
Because I am unwavering in the spew of words given without thought
It only takes one act of disrespect
To stir me away to other direction
I have no sympathy for anyone who disrupts my peace
Because I demand respect
I worked hard for this confidence
To let anyone bring it down
Bring me to a level I know I've surpassed

I give love and respect in large quantities
I'm good in what I do so it's all quality
Don't get on my bad side
To be on that side - means I'm leaving

Some of you have been here longer
You think that makes you wiser
But I've gone to deeper places you never reached
Deepest zones embedded in the earth
Embedded in me

That's why I know things you don't know
That's why I am not a slave to the time and the body
My mind connects to the heart
And my heart connects to my mind
I'm only getting better
Coming back stronger each time
Someone gives me the opportunity to prove my native
This isn't just a word
It's a lifestyle
A belief system

Freedom is family
Freedom is love to provide for them
By any means necessary
To exclude any one not related
Not willing to integrate themselves in the family
And I can tell the difference between genuine intentions and pretending
So you should think very hard before you make your next move

I already thought of all the possibilities
Almost like mathematical statistics
But in relation to humans
I got the playbook in my head
Already open and bookmarked
Just waiting on you to see what move you make next

I was born to survive
Made to thrive
I am the adapted version of my ancestors
My mixed blood
DNA thick with the best ones
The strongest
The realest
I come from the dirt
Where freedom continues to grow
Under all this fing cement
Under all your fabricated shoes
That don't make long lasting imprints
We have become so disconnected from the earth
The mother you have forgotten in her old age
You think adapting is changing with the times and society
But is it biological
My DNA grants me my freedom
And No one can take that away from me
