Flutes Unlimited is a Glasgow-based flute choir for advanced and intermediate flute players. It was set up in 2009 by Andrea Kuypers, with the aim of offering a friendly and supportive environment to enable flautists to play and perform together. Flutes Unlimited attracts members from across central Scotland and includes everyone from primary school pupils to those studying for music degrees and beyond. They enjoy a strong following in their local community and enjoy connecting with other flute choirs at home and abroad. Flutes Unlimited has collaborated with the Carluke Primrose Orchestral Flutes, Útnyrðingur - a flute choir from the Faroe Islands and now we are delighted to work with Flutes & Co. Flutes Unlimited are three times winners of the "wind orchestras and bands" category at the Glasgow Music Festival.

Andrea organises a popular flute Summer School of workshops, lessons, ensembles and a concert every year in the French Alps. To find out more, see www.flutesdusoleil.com
