

We here at Bryce Canyon Mule Days want you to know we have done everything to stay safe and healthy since the outbreak of COVID-19 in the United States. After much deliberation, and meeting with Garfield County Commissioners and the Mayor of Tropic, we have decided to move forward with Bryce Canyon Mule Days as scheduled. We hope you will use your best judgement to either cancel or join us in Tropic May 6-9.

We are ready to get back in the saddle and enjoy the wide-open spaces and red rocks of southern Utah.

This year, we have more open camp sites than we ever have had in years prior. This will give guests more room to spread out. We also have fewer attendees this year, which will help with social distancing.

Currently, 20 guests have cancelled due to the virus. This means groups will be limited to 3-4 people plus guides. You're encouraged to drive yourself to the trailhead while we transport your mule to and from the trails each day.

All trails planned are still open and will remain open for Bryce Canyon Mule Days.

The facility will be cleaned and sanitized throughout the day to remain safe for all users.

The group dinner has been cancelled. The concert featuring Utah country artist Brenn Hill will still be held, but this year it will be outside with plenty of room to keep a safe distance from others.

We ask participants to also practice safe measures during these times — wash your hands, use hand sanitizer, don't touch your face, sneeze and cough into your elbow, and keep 6 feet between you and others. If you feel sick or have been around someone that was sick, do not come. We will gladly refund your reservation and look forward to seeing you next year.

For any of our participants who would like to cancel and receive a refund, we will process them as soon as you contact us at brycecanyonmule@gmail.com. (6-8 days to process)

Chrome in the Canyon Premier Mule Sale will still be moving forward. There will be online bidding and online live video stream of the sale. Transport of purchased mules will also be available. Please contact Codi Gines for more information: (877) 725-3636

Ty Evans with TS Mules will be moving forward with his clinic May 4-6 at the Bryce Canyon Mule Days Arena.

Jeff Pace will be doing his pack clinic Thursday, May 7, and will have some of his tack available for purchase.

The town of Tropic has made changes as well. Restaurants are currently take-out only. Clark's Country Market is still open and stocked up on all your groceries. True Value Hardware store is open and Orton Farm Center in Panguitch will be open as well for all your tack, feed, and shavings. Lodging for BCMD is still available from Bryce Canyon Inn.

Thank you for helping us make Mule Days a fun and safe atmosphere. We look forward to sharing this beautiful part of the state with you.
