Financial Support:

Yantra-ji offers support and assistance for those in need who have a heart's calling to attend her Satsangs, Events, Retreats, Individual Consultations and Journey Sessions, please contact to discuss your situation, as some discounts and partial scholarships are made available by discretion.

An Opportunity for Ongoing Contribution:

Your personal journey of deepening discovery and Self-Inquiry is supported in many ways.

There is a suggested contribution for Satsang, Consultations and Retreats – please see the Fees Schedule. Some beloveds like to and are able to offer and contribute more generously, whilst others seek assistance to attend.

Over the years we have supported many beloveds experiencing financial hardship through the offering of partial scholarships, so those who really are called are able to attend. We would love for this to continue, if you feel called, any offer of ongoing financial assistance through a monthly or yearly contribution to the ongoing offering of Satsang, is warmly welcomed.

Yantra-ji also makes herself available for ongoing support for you at any time. Sometimes a brief chat on the phone may become a Self -Inquiry session or unplanned Satsang consultation, when this occurs, please do honour this offering to you, by offering a financial contribution in return. This way support can continue to be offered to you at all times through the Weekly Meetings, Weekend Retreats, Women's retreats, Journey Therapy sessions and Personal Consultations either in person, via Zoom or on the phone.

We would like to continue to offer new Satsang books that are being written, edited and published, as well as offering to make the recordings of Satsangs and retreats available, both for those of you who actively attend meetings and to the wider community. To enable this to continue, your generosity and ongoing contribution of time, assistance and financial support is invaluable.

In deepest gratitude — Yantra-ji
