The Build Your Own Video Package is for basic coverage of ceremony and reception events. Full Length Film Packages are better suited for full-day coverage and result in a fully edited "Movie" of the entire day in a very cinematic fashion. *Reception coverage is contingent on the hours of coverage that are booked. Some packages cover the first hour or two of the reception, others will cover the entire reception. A Second Videographer is included with some packages, optional with others. A Video Message Station is a camera we'd set up in the lobby or by the bar at your reception inviting guests over to leave well wishes at their leisure. It's generally possible with a second videographer and completely optional (you can choose not to have this at your wedding).
