Notice to European Union Users

Mad Viking Design's operations are located primarily in the United States. If you provide information to us, the information will be transferred out of the European Union (EU) and sent to the United States. (The adequacy decision on the EU-US Privacy became operational on August 1, 2016. This framework protects the fundamental rights of anyone in the EU whose personal data is transferred to the United States for commercial purposes. It allows the free transfer of data to companies that are certified in the US under the Privacy Shield.) By providing personal information to us, you are consenting to its storage and use as described in this Policy.

Security

Mad Viking Design uses a non-coding platform (Adalo) to develop their apps. We are not yet using EU-US Privacy Shield, and also do not currently offer EU-based servers, however this is something that is rapidly approaching on for us and definitely some we will be addressing in the coming months. In terms of other aspects of GDPR (data processing, transmission, right to be forgotten, storing & transmitting encrypted data), Adalo is in compliance. Adalo—and Mad Viking Design—does not transmit, sell, or other use any data from users of your Adalo apps. We can also commit to notifying our customers of breaches to their users' data in 24-48 hours from when we are made aware.

We are committed to keeping our users' data safe and secure. We currently use industry leading encryption for data in-transit and at-rest, and we have added layers of security for some extra-sensitive pieces of data like credit cards (stripe) and passwords (bcrypt). We have several items on our roadmap that will let us automatically track which users have accessed which data, for things like HIPAA compliance, but that is not yet complete. We don't currently offer 2FA or Face ID currently, but we plan to adding this or other security mechanisms (like SMS-based logins) in the near future.
