Pope Francis has named Archbishop Paul Fitzpatrick Russell as the 31st auxiliary bishop for the Archdiocese of Detroit. He will be welcomed to the Archdiocese of Detroit at a Liturgy of Welcome and Inauguration of Ministry on July 7, 2022 at 2 p.m. at the Cathedral of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Detroit.

Having been given the title "Archbishop" ad personam by Pope Francis when he was appointed Apostolic Nuncio to Turkey and Turkmenistan in March 2016, Archbishop Russell will retain this title while serving as an auxiliary bishop in the Archdiocese of Detroit. An auxiliary bishop aids the ordinary (diocesan bishop) in the pastoral care of an archdiocese.

Archbishop Russell was born on May 2, 1959 in Greenfield, Massachusetts, to the late Isabelle Fitzpatrick and Thaddeus Russell. When he was in the third grade, his family moved to his mother's hometown of Alpena, Michigan where Russell attended St. Bernard of Clairvaux elementary school and Alpena High School. He entered St. John's Seminary in Boston, Massachusetts, and was ordained a priest for the Archdiocese of Boston on June 20, 1987. He served in parish ministry for five years and one year as personal secretary to the Cardinal Archbishop. Following further study in Rome at the Pontifical Ecclesiastical Academy and the Pontifical Gregorian University, he entered the diplomatic service of the Holy See, serving in the Secretariat of State and the Apostolic Nunciatures (Vatican embassies) in Ethiopia, Zimbabwe, Turkey, Switzerland (where he also served in parish ministry), and Nigeria.

On May 2, 2008, Pope Benedict XVI named him Chargé d'Affaires of the Apostolic Nunciature in Taiwan.

On March 19, 2016, Pope Francis appointed Russell as Apostolic Nuncio to Turkey and Turkmenistan. He was consecrated Titular Archbishop of Novi in Dalmatia on June 3, 2016 in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston by Cardinal Seán O'Malley. Archbishop Allen Vigneron of Detroit and Archbishop Leo Cushley of St. Andrews and Edinburgh (Scotland) served as co-consecrators. Pope Francis appointed Archbishop Russell as Apostolic Nuncio to Azerbaijan, in addition to his service in Turkey and Turkmenistan, on April 7, 2018.

"I am so happy with Pope Francis' decision to send me home and look forward to serving as an auxiliary bishop in the Archdiocese of Detroit and immersing myself in the mission and ministry of the local Church in southeast Michigan," Archbishop Russell said. "Since we first met in Boston 30 years ago, Archbishop Vigneron has shown me fraternal support on various occasions, and now his warm welcome to the Archdiocese is a source of special gratitude."

There seems to be a bad feeling in the air in this country. It's a kind of anxious feeling, sort of like the feeling we have when we look outside and see the western sky full of purple and black clouds. It might be a response to all the Covid fall out, or the political turmoil we are experiencing, or all the indiscriminate mass shootings. At the same time, those issues may be a manifestation of an even bigger problem we have not identified yet. Its almost like we are supposed to do something but don't know what.

We seem to be an unhappy country filled with unhappy people. I don't remember things being this way before. We certainly had our worries and concerns, but as a people we were happy in general and coping with our issues. We seemed to be able to disagree with one another, yet accomplish things. We don't seem to be that way now, and its hard to say why. Remember, we are all called to subdue this earth, to make it a better place, not just for ourselves, but for others as well. This may be a time when we need to rely on our faith and our hope.

On another note, summer vacation has finally arrived, and the grand kids seem to be enjoying it with a vengeance. . On the other hand, my son the school teacher, has to teach summer school this year, and is not looking forward to it. My grandson joined the ranks of licensed drivers; he now shares company with his cousin Gabriel. I don't remember growing older; when did they?

Don't forget the food pantry.
