YOU ARE IN Me AND I IN You.

JOHN 14:20

How well I remember the high regard that both of my parents had for the priesthood and for the men who were “the priests.” Most priests that I know, myself included, have been motivated toward the priesthood and priestly spirituality by their mothers.

In many instances, I’m sure that the faith, devotion and support of the fathers have likewise been a strong influence on our decision to serve God in the priesthood.

When I think of Mother’s Day, I also think of Mary, the mother of Jesus. Her special role in Jesus’ life and ministry has had a great influence on the life of seminarians and priests. Because Mary was Jesus’ mother, she, like all mothers, cradles her Son in her body for the first nine months of His life, nurtured Him, cared for His every need, taught Him about God and about life, and allowed Him to grow up and develop His potential.

Mothers know their children as no one else can. Their influence on their lives is without a doubt the greatest influence possible. Parents of teenagers may doubt this at times. However, I believe that a mother’s influence, especially her love and caring which also includes proper discipline, can overcome many of the bad influences of modern society. A mother whose love is characterized by prayer and trust in God is a blessing to any son or daughter.

As the world changes from generation to generation, so too does the role that mothers play in the raising of their children the ideals of faith, hope, love of God, self-respect, sacrifice for others, and openness to the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

It seems to me that the nursery of vocations continues to be in the home. If it were not for the example of good and holy parents, especially mothers, there would not be “the priests” of today. Pray for your priests and encourage vocations.

To all Mothers, living and deceased, may you never fail to know how much you are loved, needed and appreciated all year long.

This N That by Deacon Skip

Happy Mother's Day to all the women in the parish who or have been mothers. A special happy Mothers Day to all those women who have stepped up and served as mothers. Sadly, my mother passed away over 40 years ago but she has definitely left a legacy and made an impact on all seven of us.

I'm sure I share culture shock with all my fellow drivers who have had to fill their car tanks these past couple of weeks. At very least, the price of gas is astounding. The problem I have is that I remember when it ran 13 cents a gallon. I can't remember which news program I was watching, but I also saw that the annual income needed for a family to be considered lower middle class has risen to $100,000 per year. Our world has left me in the dust.

A few bulletins back I mentioned which National Parks I have visited. Someone asked me what was the biggest surprise I experienced in visiting somewhere. I have to point to the time when Kathy and I visited her aunt and uncle in California. They were Floyd and Ilene. They lived in a double wide in a trailer park in Desert Hot Springs in the Upper Mojave Desert. What grabbed my attention was when I went for a walk in the desert I saw blankets of flowers covered with swarms of honey bees. Not at all what I imagined in a desert.

Don't forget SVDP.
