This upcoming November 4, election, the Deer Valley Unified School District (DVUSD) will ask voters to decide on two measures: the renewal of a 15% Maintenance and Operations (M&O) Override and the approval of a district land sale.

Both items will appear on a mail-in ballot for all residents living within DVUSD boundaries.

This marks the district's third attempt to pass the override after unsuccessful efforts in 2023 and 2024. The failed votes forced DVUSD to cut $11 million from its current 2025–26 budget in the first year of a three-year phase-out of the existing override. If voters do not approve the measure this year, the district projects an additional $22 million reduction in funding over the next two years.
