DRONE REGULATIONS

The Christmas rush is gone, winter is coming to a close, and we are all still obeying restrictions regarding the current pandemic. Since we are spending a lot of time outside, or at home, many of us may have picked up some new hobbies. One that is somewhat fascinating and quickly growing, is flying a drone, and drone operations. The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) calls this, unmanned aircraft systems, or UAS.

Because this is becoming so popular, let's just review some basic regulations regarding flying drones. They come in so many shapes and sizes. For a full breakdown on UAS, please review the FAA website at FAA.GOV/UAS/. They have divided drone usage into several categories. My focus here, is simply aimed at those who want to fly them for fun. They are fun!

Drones need to be registered with the FAA, regardless of size. There are two categories, 55 lbs. and under, and 55 lbs. and over. Once registered, your registration number needs to be on the actual drone itself. A drone operator must also indicate why they are flying a drone; for fun, for educational purposes, for business, or for government use.

Listed here are some basic rules for flying Drones. Be cautious as a violation of some of these rules, can result in a ticket or even an arrest. Violations may vary from civil, to misdemeanor charges all the way up to felony charges. (Although Phoenix Police Department officers are capable of enforcing the state laws on unlawful/unsafe drone flights, they are encouraged to educate the public on proper drone use when possible.)

1. Drones cannot be flown out of the line of sight. Some can be pre-programmed to fly a certain flight path, however, that is not an exception to this rule.
2. A drone cannot be flown higher than 400 feet above the ground.
3. You cannot fly a drone within a 5-mile radius of and airport or tower, or after sunset, without the approval of the tower, or a waiver from the FAA.
4. Drones cannot be flown over crowds of people or over vehicle traffic.

Both the city of Phoenix, as well as the State of Arizona have laws regarding drone use, too. The city code, PCC 24-49 addresses the use of drones in public parks.

This also includes using remote control planes as well. Under the city code, users must operate the drone in an area of the park that is unobstructed by objects within 400 feet on all sides, and children under 17 must be accompanied by an adult while operating one. Under ARS 13-3729 a person cannot fly a drone where it is prohibited by federal regulations, it cannot interfere with any law enforcement, fire department or other emergency service operation, and a person cannot use drones to intentionally photograph or loiter over or near a critical facility in furtherance of any criminal offense. Critical facilities include jails, police stations, power facilities, water facilities, and military installations to name a few. There is a full list of some of these locations on the FAA UAS section of their website.

The bottom line is, enjoy using your drone and educate yourself on what the rules are. These rules and laws are designed so that operators can use the drones safely, and not interfere with the community either. We want to protect our public, but at the same time, we want you to enjoy your new hobby! For further details and a more in depth review of drone regulations, please review the FAA website, then read up on local regulations as well.

District 1 Vice Mayor Thelda Williams

No April District One Breakfast...

Please continue to check here for updates on future District 1 community events.

IF YOU LIKE LIFE IN PHOENIX, YOU SHOULD KNOW (AND THANK)

THELDA WILLIAMS

(Reprinted with permission)

Opinion: Thelda Williams is a name everyone in Phoenix should know, because her city council career has touched virtually everyone in Arizona. Bryan Jeffries

When Arizonans think of political leaders who define the Valley or the state, our minds rightly gravitate to names like Barry Goldwater and John McCain. As someone who has spent his life in Arizona, I also think of names like Morris Udall, Dennis DeConcini, Calvin Goode and Gabrielle Giffords.

There's another name that should be on that list, a city of Phoenix icon about to leave the city council after serving across parts of the past five decades:

Vice Mayor Thelda Williams, who at 79 has decided to step down from public service.

Williams led with her head and heart

As a former member of the city council and someone who had the privilege of serving as Williams' chief of staff, I could not let her retirement happen without fanfare. From her first stint on the council beginning in 1989 up to her final days, Williams has been a force for efficiency in government, improved public safety, greater transparency and more robust transportation infrastructure.

She has done all of this with humility and without thirsting after headlines.

During my time working for her, I spent hours listening in admiration as she talked about water and roads like an engineer, spoke about the future like a professional planner and addressed the needs of the residents of Phoenix like a mother or a compassionate friend.

Williams' style always has been to lead with her head and her heart — to listen first, then speak, and to prioritize solving problems over playing politics.

Williams is also the answer to a cool trivia question: No other person in the 140-year history of the city has been named mayor on three separate occasions. Williams was appointed as the city's interim mayor in 1994, 2011 and 2018. That makes her the city's 54th, 59th and 61st mayors.

She made progress, without the ego

Of course, Williams has always been about far more than titles. During her time in office, she tackled and effectively moved the needle on big issues like the expansion of Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport, the planning and construction of light rail, preserving water resources and ushering in hundreds of street and infrastructure projects.

While tension has long existed between "the great state of Maricopa" and other communities, Williams has always bridged the divide and focused on the far-reaching Arizona benefits of the Phoenix economic machine.

Away from her council service, she found ways to improve quality of life in the region by serving on the Phoenix Aviation Advisory Board, the city's Transit Commission and Planning and Zoning Committee, the Maricopa Association of Governments board, the Women in Local Government Association, the Governor's Commission to Prevent Violence Against Women and the Maricopa County Adult Probation advisory board.

She did so with good cheer and grace and without ego. I've never met anyone engaged in political life in Arizona with a bad word to say about Thelda Williams.

Her name is one every resident should know, because her career has touched virtually every resident of this city and state. Thelda Williams for decades has planted seeds of positive impact, from which millions of Arizonans will benefit for generations to come.

Bryan Jeffries served as a Phoenix city council member in District 2 and Williams' co-chief of staff. A lifelong Arizonan, he is president of the Professional Fire Fighters of Arizona. Reach him at bryj@icloud.com.

FRIENDS OF TRANSIT PRESENTS VICE MAYOR THELDA WILLIAMS WITH FRIEND OF TRANSIT AWARD

On Friday Feb. 26, at the Friends of Transit's 19th Annual (Virtual) Conference, Vice Mayor Thelda Williams was presented with the organization's Friend of Transit Award. A $500 donation to the charity of Vice Mayor Williams' choice - The Arizona Humane Society - was also made as part of the award.

For 19 years, Friends of Transit has presented its Friend of Transit Award to a Champion of Public Transit. The list of the prior 21 recipients is prestigious - the first Friend of Transit award went to the late Congressman Ed Pastor. Other recipients include Neil Giuliano, former Phoenix Mayor Phil Gordon, Phoenix Mayor Kate Gallego, Congressman Greg Stanton, former Tempe Councilmember Shana Ellis, the Safe Place Program and 19 North to name just a few.

Like past honorees, Vice Mayor Williams has worked tirelessly to improve the quality of life in the region by working to plan and build the Greater Phoenix transportation systems we enjoy today. She has served on numerous boards and commissions, including acting chair of the Transportation, Infrastructure and Innovation Subcommittee and previously serving on the Phoenix Transit Commission. Vice Mayor Williams has logged hundreds of hours, over many years, to ensure a transportation system that will continue to grow to support the future of the Phoenix Metro Area. -- Founded in 2001, Friends of Transit's mission is to educate the public on the benefits and importance to the Greater Phoenix community of a well-designed and accessible mass transit system. Monthly Citywide PNP Meetings

For the foreseeable future we will continue to meet virtually and will continue to meet on the third Tuesday of the month from 6pm to 8pm. I am making a new reoccurring meeting in Webex for the upcoming year, so it will be the same meeting number each time.

If at some point, we are given the ok to meet in-person again, I plan on continuing to offer the virtual platform for people who want to join that way.

The next meeting is April 20, 2021 from 6pm to 8pm. Login details will be e-mailed out.

PNP Basic Classes for 2021

The 2021 flyers are on the webpages, phoenix.gov/police and pnpmembers.com. If you manage your own web page, please update them with this info.

The classes will continue to be virtual for the foreseeable future, and we will continue with the 2-day 2-hours each day format. The dates are as follows:

May 19 & 20
July 21 & 22
September 22 & 23
November 17 & 18

Anyone wishing to attend must register at pnp.coordinator@phoenix.gov to receive the login information and other needed documents.

Updates on Volunteer.phoenix.gov

PNP Log Sheet Entry Problems Have Been FIXED!

The old log sheet was not compatible with the updated program, so we built a new one that is. The new log sheet has been uploaded and has replaced the old log sheet. You access it the same way. It actually looks similar to the old sheet but with a few new fields. Please log in and catch up on your log sheets.

I uploaded a new video to the PNP YouTube channel, it explains the new log sheet and the couple of changes you need to be aware of. The changes are minor and should be self-explanatory, but the video is available just in case. A link to the video has already been placed on PNPMember.com and at the bottom of this email for your convenience.

Overview of the changes

- There is now a single Date field instead of a start date and end date.
 - If entering a log sheet for a span of time use the start date of the span of time. Explain the time span in Notes area

- There is now a single "Hours" field instead of separate Patrol Hours & Admin Hours fields.
- There is now a "Type of Hours" field where you select either "Patrol Time" or "Admin Time" to designate what type of time this is
 - It defaults to "Patrol Time" but to change to "Admin Time", click the drop-down and selecting "Admin Time" from the list
- Notes field, for time span log sheets please put a simple description of the time in the "Notes" field. i.e. "for the month of March" "Week of March 22" etc.

I will have to re-do some of the other videos too since they have references to the old log sheets and the system prior to the latest updates.

Thanks for your patience on this, please let me know if you have any issues with it.

PRESENTATION:

BUS TRANSIT ENFORCEMENT UNIT with Lt. Mark Schweikert

An excellent presentation on bus stop safety.
Frosty K. shared her article in The Tattler about this presentation:

BUS TRANSIT ENFORCEMENT: THE SPECIAL POLICE UNIT IS BACK by Frosty Kroening Lt. Mark Schweikert of the Bus Transit Enforcement Team at the Phoenix Police Department spoke at the March 10 Black Mountain Community Alliance zoom meeting. He reported that during the "year of Covid" and election demonstrations, the team was redeployed to take care of other police duties. But, now they are back policing buses and light rail and the bus stops and light rail stations. Some buses now will have protective barriers put in place to protect drivers from riders' abusive actions, including having items thrown at them. People need to take transit to work, so it is important to provide safe and clean transit experiences. Neighborhood group representatives pointed out problems around QT gas and food centers along the I-17 corridor. Food apparently is less expensive there for people and the QT company provides bathrooms for the public. QT's management has been cooperating with police and now will commission a new security unit of employees to help patrol their stores. And, the company also has dismantled its outside electrical outlets so people cannot charge their phones at the store. QT wants to be a good neighbor in communities. Other neighbors of Circle K stores are hoping that company will join this effort. Some convenience stores have pony walls that provide cover for homeless people's encampments. Solutions for this issue will be addressed. Citizens are urged to call Lt. Brian Rimsza at (602)495-5032 if we see overloaded trash cans or dirty or damaged bus stops or light rail stations. The City has cleanup crews who will go out and service these areas. Some bus stops are having chairs placed at safe distances from each other rather than using benches. This is more expensive than benches, but keeps people from sleeping on benches. If areas in back of and near bus stops are filled with trash, the property owner is called to clean up. Police are constantly challenged with keeping public transit functions clean and safe. The City upgrades lighting to LED brightness where appropriate. It is good to know that Phoenix has identified these needs and has assigned officers and cleaners to keep buses, bus stops, and light rail cars and stations safe and clean. We applaud the men and women who are our first responders. For homeless people, bus and light rail shelters may feel like safety and home. But, the police have information about how to access other city services that will not only provide true shelter but also food and jobs and health care. The City of Phoenix is trying really hard to address the needs of the people. The next BMCA meeting will be April 14th at 6:30 on zoom. Maricopa County Attorney's Office 2020 Annual Report

It's no understatement that the Maricopa County Attorney's Office is busy. While many may focus on the work that takes place in the courtroom, our office is involved in so much more. With more than 900 employees spread out over 11 divisions and 8 geographically structured community bureaus, there is extensive work that takes place behind the scenes. As a public agency we want to make sure residents of Maricopa County know about our programs, projects and accomplishments.

Last year, our employees went above and beyond in making sure our office fulfilled its role within the criminal justice system. Our 2020 annual report showcases just that. They developed innovative solutions to protect and support victims of crime, improved office processes to better serve our communities, helped transition our workplace to a virtual one and much more. They accomplished this all while making sure we were doing our part to help reduce the spread of COVID-19. We are especially proud of their work in what was an unprecedented year.

We look forward to continuing to support communities and keeping families safe this year.

Looking to Work from Home? A Summer Job? Know What to Look for to Avoid a Scam

Almost a year after the COVID-19 pandemic completely uprooted our day-to-day life and economy, many Americans are still looking for work. In addition to those that are unemployed, high school and college students are now planning for the summer and figuring out what job opportunities are available for them. Like always, where there is vulnerability there are scammers. Those desperately looking for work and students with limited job experience might fall victim to someone promising a great opportunity or an easy way to make money. According to the Better Business Bureau, reports of employment scams, especially work from home scams, grew last year and are expected to spike this year. Scammers use the same online platforms that legitimate employers do, they might have a logo and a website but, at the end of the day they are after your money or personal information. Luckily, there are trends and patterns you can look out for to prevent yourself from becoming a victim.

In a common employment scam, you interview for a job virtually and are offered the job in a short amount of time. You are then connected to a human resources representative that asks for personal and financial information such as your driver's license, social security, bank account number etc. to "set up your file" or "verify your identity". When you try to get in touch with them, you'll find the phone number is no longer in service and the website is gone.

In another example, scammers will send you a check with instructions to deposit it. After you do they will claim to have overpaid the employee and ask to send a certain amount back via wire transfer or gift cards. After the money is received and the initial check doesn't clear, the scammer will stop responding to all communication.

You see an ad saying you can earn a lot of money quickly and easily. You reach out and they begin by putting you through their "training program" or granting you "special access" to information, all for a fee. You get pressured into paying for more services and "certifications" but in the end you won't get anything in return and you'll be out of money.

Before you reach out about any job opportunity, consider doing the following to make sure you're dealing with a legitimate employer.

- Research the company and position that is being advertised. A quick way to know if the job posting is a scam is to research the name of the company with the word "scam", "complaint" or "lawsuit" next to it. You can also search the company on Better Business Bureau website for more insights.
- If the company or business requires a license or registration to operate, check online to see if they have one or call the agencies that provides the license or registration for verification.
- Look through the company's entire website. If it has suspicious language, broken links, blank pages, stock photos, and lacks contact information or a privacy policy, it's most likely a scam. You can also check to see when the website domain was created, if it was created recently or if it's set to expire soon it may be a scam.
- Likewise, review the company's address, phone number and email address. It's surprisingly easy to falsify this information. If you can, visit the company's physical address and search for the phone number and email address online to see if it's used anywhere else.

Getting a job can make a real difference in someone's life. The best way to ensure you are landing a good opportunity is to make smart decisions and not let the excitement distract you from warning signs and red flags that your personal or financial information is at risk.

Help stop scammers and prevent others from falling for their tricks by reporting any scam you come across to the FTC at ReportFraud.FTC.gov. This information is shared with more than 3,000 federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies across the country helping to fight fraud.

Maricopa County Expands Rent and Utility Assistance

With the CDC eviction moratorium set to expire at the end of the month, Maricopa County is providing a new way for individuals and families to get help with rent or utility payments. Today, the County began accepting applications for the federal Emergency Rental Assistance program. It's an effort supported by the Board of Supervisors with the goal of preventing evictions.

APPLY ONLINE

"Over the past eight months, Maricopa County has provided an unprecedented amount of assistance to individuals and families struggling to pay their bills, an increase of more than tenfold what we can typically provide," said Bruce Liggett, Director of the Maricopa County Human Services Department. "But we understand the need for help in our community is still immense and housing stability is critically important. This new federal funding allows us to continue the important work of supporting families and keeping people in their homes."

HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS

As part of the COVID-19 relief package recently passed by Congress, Maricopa County received $46.1 million through the federal Emergency Rental Assistance program (ERA). The money is intended to provide rental and utility assistance for people with the greatest need. The Board of Supervisors approved use of the funds last month, which will be administered through the Human Services Department, based on the most recent federal guidance updated on March 16, 2021.

Maricopa County will serve eligible county residents outside of the cities of Phoenix, Mesa, Glendale, Chandler, and Gilbert. Those five cities received direct federal funding and are operating their own programs. Maricopa County will serve all other cities, towns, and the unincorporated areas of the county.

Qualifying households may receive up to 15 months of assistance for rent and utilities. Per the federal guidelines, priority is given to households who have been unemployed for the past 90 days or for those at or below 50% of the County's median income, which is $38,900 for a household of three.

WHO QUALIFIES

To qualify, households must have an income at or below 80% of the County's median income, which is $56,050 for a family of three. In addition, under ERA guidelines, one or more individuals in the household must:

1. Qualify for unemployment benefits OR have experienced reduced income or increased expenses due to COVID-19; AND
2. Demonstrate a risk of experiencing homelessness or housing instability as evidenced by past due notices.

HOW TO APPLY

Households can apply through Maricopa County (via the website portal).

The portal will provide people with a screening tool to determine potential eligibility, and a secure link to submit a complete application, including uploading required documents.

Maricopa County will process applications on a first come, first served basis. We anticipate significant demand will exceed available funding, and processing and applicant notifications may lag. We ask that applicants are patient during this time.

"We understand the urgency felt by many families and will work diligently to process applications as quickly as we can," said Liggett. "I am grateful to the Board of Supervisors for approving this funding for our community, and I'm so appreciative of the tremendous work done by our staff and Community Action Program partners in response to this crisis."

For detailed information on how to apply, visit maricopa.gov/renthelp.

BACKGROUND

The Maricopa County Human Services Department has historically provided rent and utility assistance to low income households on a smaller scale, using multiple fund sources. Prior to the COVID-19 crisis, approximately 6,600 households received 10,000 months of combined utility and rent assistance from a budget of $5 million annually.

Over the past 8 months, in response to the pandemic, the County has expanded that assistance greatly. The Department developed policy, modified automated systems, hired and trained staff, and provided over $55 million in funding for 13,300 households and a total of nearly 45,000 combined months of assistance.

This effort was funded primarily through CARES Act dollars allocated by the Board of Supervisors. The County provided $46.25 million in rental assistance and $13 million in utility assistance between July 2020 and February 2021, largely through simplified eligibility and payment procedures for families impacted by COVID-19.

In addition to ERA funds, Maricopa County expects to receive an additional $30 million from the recently passed American Recovery Act.

BLOCK WATCH IMPROVES THE QUALITY OF LIFE WITHIN NEIGHBORHOODS

Block Watches come in all sizes. They can be a few houses in a cul-de-sac to a whole square mile neighborhood. They help to develop a "sense of community" and strengthen and sustain neighborhoods by bringing residents/neighbors together with a common interest.

Every Block Watch starts with one person and their concern for the safety and well-being of themselves and their families. Their motivation may be to meet or get to know their neighbors to protect the children, to keep property values up by eliminating blight and graffiti, to stop speeding on the streets by installing speed humps to protect the children, to have peace of mind by discouraging barking dogs and loud parties, and to be safe from crimes like burglary, theft and assault.

We all want to live in a safe and secure environment. Our homes should be safe havens. By rights there should be several layers of protection from the national level to our own neighborhoods. National and state governments provide control of our borders; state and city governments provide police and fire protection, education, and other resources, community member groups provide Phoenix Neighborhood Patrollers and the posting of PNP signs on neighborhood streets; Block Watch provides neighbors watching out for neighbors; and we provide our own home security alarms, lighting and burglary prevention measures.

Arizonans can now renew driver licenses online

Contactless option will allow older adults to make healthy choices

PHOENIX – Renewing a standard Arizona driver license and a commercial driver license can now be completed with a few clicks on a website.

As Governor Doug Ducey's Executive Order on deferring standard driver license expiration dates ends on Feb. 28, the Arizona Department of Transportation Motor Vehicle Division is giving many Arizonans the ability to renew their driver license online. Previously, renewals could only be processed during an office visit.

"Most Arizonans with a standard driver license must renew their license when they turn 65 years of age and every five years thereafter," ADOT Director John Halikowski said. "During the pandemic, ADOT wants to continue Governor Ducey's efforts to help protect our most vulnerable and we're pleased to be able to offer a contactless renewal option so people can continue making healthy choices."

An in-office visit will be required to renew a standard Arizona driver license if an individual's photo of record was taken more than 12 years prior to renewal, but most Arizonans will be able to renew their driver license without visiting an MVD office. Driver license-holders can log-in to their account at AZMVDNow.gov to see their eligibility for online renewal.

To renew a CDL online at AZMVDNow.gov, an individual's address must remain the same, a valid primary document is on file with MVD and their current credential must be in good standing. CDL holders with a hazmat endorsement will not be able to renew their license online.

This new, streamlined renewal option was made possible, in large part, when MVD implemented a state-of-the-art computer operating system last spring. That change replaced an obsolete system that contained elements that were older than 35 years and no longer sustainable. The new system has made it possible for MVD to offer customers the ability to complete most services online at AZMVDNow.gov, eliminating the need to visit an MVD office for many Arizonans.

"We've all seen a lot of change over the last year, but this is something new that everyone can embrace," MVD Director Eric Jorgensen said. "The website AZMVDNow.gov has added convenience for customers and made it easier for Arizonans to conduct their business with MVD. Adding driver license renewals to the long list of other services, like registration renewals, change of address and ordering a replacement license, will help keep Arizonans out of line and safely on the road."

When renewing online, an individual's official driver record will be updated with the new expiration date in the MVD system when the application and payment are submitted electronically.

When it comes time to renew a driver license, individuals can follow the below steps to renew online.

- Go to AZMVDNow.gov and sign-in to your account. If you need to activate your account – everyone with an Arizona driver license has an account – follow those steps.
- After logging in, select "Renew Now" in the "My Credential" section and follow the instructions.

Allow about 15 days for processing and mail delivery of your new driver license.

ADOT's dust detection system named as a 'Gamechanger'

System receives more national recognition for innovation, safety focus

The first-of-its-kind dust detection and warning system installed by the Arizona Department of Transportation has been named one of the "Infrastructure Gamechangers" by the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE).

The detection system, which was completed by ADOT on a 10-mile stretch of Interstate 10 between Phoenix and Tucson in 2020, is among only four highway-related projects recognized nationally this year by the ASCE. The organization recognizes groundbreaking projects that represent the latest advancements in the way engineers plan, build and adapt to infrastructure needs.

In announcing the national "Gamechangers," ASCE President Jean-Louis Briaud said, "With resources stretched thin, finding solutions that can make the most of the tools afforded us can driver safety, variable speed corridor, be a challenge, but is an essential component of improving the built environment. ADOT's dust-monitoring system will keep drivers safe and I-10 drivers moving efficiently. This project highlights the innovative nature of civil engineers, adapting to unique challenges to ensure our systems better serve the public."

ADOT State Engineer Dallas Hammit added, "This recognition by our engineering peers is gratifying because it acknowledges the tremendous innovation and creativity that has gone into developing a system that will greatly enhance safety for drivers travelling through what can sometimes be a very challenging environment."

Driving on Interstate 10 between Phoenix and Tucson during summer monsoon months can be hazardous when windblown dust reduces visibility, causing dangerous driving conditions. This technology has created an unprecedented innovation that helps increase driver safety.

"Safety is our first priority and this first-of-its-kind technology answers a real need to make a very busy portion of highway much safer for motorists. It has already proven its effectiveness in recent dust storm events," said Brent Cain, the director of ADOT's Transportation Systems Management and Operations Division "Being chosen as an ASCE Gamechanger is a great honor."

Drivers passing through the detection and warning zone encounter signs saying "Caution: Variable Speed Limit Corridor." Soon after, a series of programmable speed limit signs every 1,000 feet can change the legal speed limit from 75 mph to as low as 35 mph. Additional variable speed limit signs are placed every 2 miles.

Overhead electronic message boards in and near the corridor alert drivers to blowing dust and warn them to slow down. Speed feedback signs inform drivers of their actual speeds.

Thirteen visibility sensors mounted on posts along the freeway use light beams to determine the density of dust particles in the air. Once visibility drops to certain levels, the system activates overhead message boards and the variable speed limit signs.

The sensors are complemented by a weather radar on a 20-foot tower at I-10 and State Route 87. It can detect storms more than 40 miles away, providing additional warning of incoming storms to ADOT and forecasters at the National Weather Service.

This technology is monitored by ADOT's Traffic Operations Center in Phoenix, where staff can see real-time information on conditions such as the speed and flow of traffic. Closed-circuit cameras provide visual confirmation of conditions along the roadway and in the distance.

Taxpayers with Limited Income May Be Eligible for State Tax Credits

Arizona provides tax credits to taxpayers whose income is below a certain threshold and who are not required to file an individual income tax return. Individuals may be eligible for state tax benefits by submitting two forms available through the Arizona Department of Revenue - Form 140PTC Property Tax Refund Claim or Form 140ET Credit for Increased Excise Taxes.

These credits aim to provide low-income individuals and seniors with financial assistance in the form of tax relief.

- Form 140PTC is used by qualified seniors to claim a refundable income tax credit for taxes paid on property located in Arizona that is either owned by or rented by the taxpayer. Additionally, taxpayers under age 65 who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) can file Form 140PTC. Form 140PTC provides a tax credit of up to $502. To claim a property tax credit, you must file your claim or extension request by April 15, 2021. An extension will give you until October 15, 2021 to file the claim for this credit.
- Form 140ET is used by individuals not required to file an Arizona individual income tax return but qualify to claim the refundable excise tax credit. The increased excise tax credit allows a credit of $25 per individual with a maximum credit of $100 per household.

Individuals not filing an income tax return and claiming both credits only need to complete Form 140PTC. However, individuals not submitting a tax return and not claiming the property tax credit must complete Form 140ET to claim the credit for increased excise taxes. Taxpayers who do not file an income tax return cannot electronically file Form 140PTC or Form 140ET and must mail these forms to the department using the address provided on the form.

To determine eligibility for either Form 140PTC or Form 140ET, see form instructions at www.azdor.gov/Forms/Individual.

Taxpayers should remember to not staple any documents, schedules, or payments to the return. Additionally, check for math errors and sign the return.

DON'T GIVE TO INDIVIDUALS GIVE TO SHELTERS

To end panhandling, we have to end directly giving to people panhandling. Phoenix is full of compassionate and charitable citizens. They want to help those in need. However, giving money to people panhandling doesn't fix problems. In order to truly help those in need, stop giving money to panhandlers and instead support organizations and services that provide long-lasting care. – Central Arizona Shelter Services – Andre House – Salvation Army – St. Joseph The Worker – UMOM New Day Centers – The Phoenix Rescue Mission – St. Mary's Food Bank For more organizations and information that can provide housing, or other services, please visit the Homeless Shelter Directory at: <https://www.homelessshelterdirectory.org/cgi-bin/id/city.cgi?city=Phoenix&state=AZ> www.givesmartaz.org

CRIME TIPS:

DEBT RELIEF SCAMS CAN MAKE A BAD PROBLEM WORSE

When debt seems like a hole you'll never climb out of, an offer promising to settle your liabilities for pennies on the dollar can be tempting. But proceed with care: Some debt relief offers will line a scammer's pockets while digging you a deeper financial hole.

HOW IT WORKS:

Scam debt relief offers promise "guarantees" to get you out of debt quickly and cleanly.

They ask you to pay advance and ongoing fees for the "services" they provide.

They offer to enroll you in a debt relief program without reviewing your financial situation with you.

They might tell you to stop paying your creditors.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW:

There simply is no guarantee that any debt relief program will get you out of debt or stop collection calls or lawsuits. Anyone promising this is lying to you.

There is no way a debt relief plan can work for you if it isn't based on your specific financial situation. Offers to enroll you without that review are bogus.

It's illegal for debt relief companies to seek upfront payment before they provide services to you. Walk away when you learn about upfront fees.

In a scam scenario, you might be led to believe fees you are paying to the debt relief company are going to your creditors. If you follow their guidance to stop paying your creditors, you could end up being sued by them.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

Check with your state attorney general and consumer protection agency before working with a debt relief service to see if it has been the subject of complaints.

Consider negotiating with creditors directly or connect with a debt counselor through a nonprofit credit counseling organization, such as the National Foundation for Credit Counseling (www.nfcc.org).

Report any debt relief scams to the Federal Trade Commission by calling 1-800-382-4357 or going online to ReportFraud.ftc.gov.

FIRST CAME PHISHING, NOW THERE'S ... SMISHING

Most of us have heard of the term "phishing." But did you know that phishing done by SMS (that stands for Short Message Service) text message has its own name? That's right, it's called "smishing." (Get it? SMS + phishing?) And just like other types of phishing, smishing relies on the senders pretending to be someone they are not in hopes of getting ahold of your money or personal information.

HOW IT WORKS:

You receive a text message that appears to be from a government agency or a company you are otherwise familiar with.

The text asks for personal information, such as a Social Security number or an online account password.

It may direct you to click a link to resolve a problem or access a service — during the ongoing pandemic, it may relate to COVID-19 testing, vaccines or contact tracing.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW:

Scammers use technology to make it appear that texts are coming from a particular number, like the IRS or Social Security Administration, or from a company you may do business with.

The message will relay seemingly urgent information that requires you to act right away — your benefits have been suspended, your account has been compromised, or you need to sign up for a COVID-19 vaccine, for example.

The message will include a link for you to click on to address the situation.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

Develop a habit of pausing before clicking on texts. Surveys show we are more likely to read and react to a text message than an email, which is why scammers have flocked to smishing.

Don't click on links from suspicious texts; it may result in loading malicious software onto your device that will harvest your credentials, or sending you to a website that will do the same.

If you have reason to believe the text may be legitimate, reach out to the sender — the IRS, UPS, Amazon or whomever — at a number or web address you know to be legitimate.

ARE YOU SURE THAT'S YOUR BANK REACHING OUT?

Here at the Fraud Watch Network, we're seeing a rise in scammers posing as banks or other financial institutions with the hope of stealing sensitive information — including your account information or Social Security number. These ploys occur by phone, email and text.

HOW IT WORKS:

By phone, a call from someone claiming to be with your bank or other financial institution warns of suspicious account activity. They may even have some personal information, like the last four digits of your Social Security number.

By email, you receive a message that looks legitimate — complete with the bank's logo, directing you to click a link to take care of an urgent matter.

By text, a message seemingly from your bank urges you to click a link to address an issue.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW:

Between social media and data breaches, there's enough information floating around to help a scammer craft a personalized message that seems entirely legitimate.

Scammers often use scare tactics to get us to react emotionally — like claiming they have detected fraud on our account — making it difficult to access our logical thinking processes.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

Greet any message from your bank with caution — ask yourself, "Would my bank really text me?"

If you do get an email, a text or a phone call claiming to be from your bank, don't interact. Look at an account statement or the back of your credit or debit card for a number you can call to determine if the bank is trying to reach you.

If you, like so many others, are now banking online, protect your accounts by using unique passwords, opting for your bank's app if available for added security, and enabling two-factor authentication — the bank will send you a one-time code when logging in to ensure it's you accessing the account.

When it comes to fraud, vigilance is our number one weapon. You have the power to protect yourself and your loved ones from scams. BLIGHT AND ZONING LAWS

STRUCTURES: The maintenance of a home is the responsibility of the property owner. Any wood, siding, shingles, roof covering, railings, fences, walls, ceilings, porches, doors, windows, screens and other exterior parts of any structure on the property must be maintained in weather tight, sound condition and in good repair. The property owner is responsible for making sure there are no doors or windows left open and not secure to the outside. FOR HELP call the Preservation Division of the Neighborhood Services Dept. at 602-495-0700 to see if you qualify for a free Grant!

OUTDOOR STORAGE: All outside storage that can be seen from the street should be inside sheds or cabinets. Items should not be set in car ports in view of the street. Please use enclosed areas or backyards.

JUNK, TRASH & DEBRIS: Junk, trash and debris cannot be left in the yard or car port and must be properly disposed of. This includes junk auto parts, appliances, furniture, building and/or landscaping material, trash such as discarded papers, cardboard, plastics, etc. including tree trimmings and fallen limbs or any other items that appear to have been discarded. The only exception is during the Bulk Trash Collection weeks four times a year.

PARKING: Parking is only permitted for passenger cars and motorcycles on residential streets, on driveways or in garages. A driveway or parking area must be constructed with an approved dust free parking surface. The stone must be 1/4 - 3/4 in size with a permanent border holding it in. 1/4 minus size stone is not allowed for parking. There are limits to the amount of front yard area that can be used for parking. Only 35% of the front yard may be converted to driveway or dust free parking.

GRASS AND WEEDS: Grass and weeds must not be allowed to grow over 6 inches high due to fire hazard, allowing the weeds to go to seed and spreading throughout the neighborhood and insect infestation.

ELIMINATE GRAFFITI: Keeping the neighborhood graffiti free is something we can all do. If there is graffiti on your property, please remove it as soon as possible. The Graffiti Busters Program provides paint, supplies and training to assist groups with eliminating graffiti. The City will also remove the graffiti from private property with written permission from the property owner. Call 602-495-7014.

INFO OF THE MONTH

GARDEN SNAKES CAN BE DANGEROUS...

Snakes also known as Garter Snakes (Thamnophis sirtalis) can be dangerous. Yes, grass snakes, not rattlesnakes. Here's why.

A couple in Sweetwater, Texas, had a lot of potted plants. During a recent cold spell, the wife was bringing a lot of them indoors to protect them from a possible freeze.

It turned out that a little green garden grass snake was hidden in one of the plants. When it had warmed up, it slithered out and the wife saw it go under the sofa.

She let out a very loud scream.

The husband (who was taking a shower) ran out into the living room naked to see what the problem was. She told him there was a snake under the sofa.

He got down on the floor on his hands and knees to look for it. About that time the family dog came and cold-nosed him on the behind. He thought the snake had bitten him, so he screamed and fell over on the floor.

His wife thought he had had a heart attack, so she covered him up, told him to lie still and called an ambulance.

The attendants rushed in, would not listen to his protests, loaded him on the stretcher, and started carrying him out.

About that time, the snake came out from under the sofa and the Emergency Medical Technician saw it and dropped his end of the stretcher. That's when the man broke his leg and why he is still in the hospital.

The wife still had the problem of the snake in the house, so she called on a neighbor who volunteered to capture the snake. He armed himself with a rolledup newspaper and began poking under the couch.. Soon he decided it was gone and told the woman, who sat down on the sofa in relief.

But while relaxing, her hand dangled in between the cushions, where she felt the snake wriggling around. She screamed and fainted, the snake rushed back under the sofa.

The neighbor man, seeing her lying there passed out, tried to use CPR to revive her.

The neighbor's wife, who had just returned from shopping at the grocery store, saw her husband's mouth on the woman's mouth and slammed her husband in the back of the head with a bag of canned goods, knocking him out and cutting his scalp to a point where it needed stitches.

The noise woke the woman from her dead faint and she saw her neighbor lying on the floor with his wife bending over him, so she assumed that the snake had bitten him. She went to the kitchen and got a small bottle of whiskey, and began pouring it down the man's throat.

By now, the police had arrived.

Breathe here...

They saw the unconscious man, smelled the whiskey, and assumed that a drunken fight had occurred. They were about to arrest them all, when the women tried to explain how it all happened over a little garden snake!

The police called an ambulance, which took away the neighbor and his sobbing wife.

Now, the little snake again crawled out from under the sofa and one of the policemen drew his gun and fired at it. He missed the snake and hit the leg of the end table. The table fell over, the lamp on it shattered and, as the bulb broke, it started a fire in the drapes.

The other policeman tried to beat out the flames, and fell through the window into the yard on top of the family dog who, startled, jumped out and raced into the street, where an oncoming car swerved to avoid it and smashed into the parked police car.

Meanwhile, neighbors saw the burning drapes and called in the fire department. The firemen had started raising the fire ladder when they were halfway down the street. The rising ladder tore out the overhead wires, put out the power, and disconnected the telephones in a ten-square city block area (but they did get the house fire out).

Time passed! Both men were discharged from the hospital, the house was repaired, the dog came home, the police acquired a new car and all was right with their world.

A while later they were watching TV and the weatherman announced a cold snap for that night.

The wife asked her husband if he thought they should bring in their plants for the night.

And that's when he shot her.

PARKS & RECREATION UPDATE

PARK AMENITIES NOW OPEN

The Phoenix City Council approved a plan during its recent meeting to begin reopening the city's outdoor recreational amenities, as well as procedures to resume athletic field reservations and local tournaments this month, and open select city pools this summer. The Council also approved Easter weekend restrictions for parks citywide.

Effective Wednesday, March 17, the process to reopen ramadas and picnic tables, basketball and volleyball courts, fitness equipment and sports complexes began in all city parks. All other park amenities have been open since Oct. 8, 2020, following a Council vote one day earlier, and all city parks, hiking trails and golf courses have maintained normal hours of operation throughout the pandemic. Use of some city park amenities has been restricted intermittently since a Council decision on April 2, 2020. Athletic field reservations and local tournaments at facilities managed by the city's Parks and Recreation Department will resume effective March 22. Reservations and tournaments at those facilities have been paused since Dec 3, 2020. Organizations and teams participating in activities on these fields will be required to follow various safety procedures; including having spectators, officials and coaches wear a mask or face covering; maintaining six feet between the field and spectators; and having an on-site contact to work with city staff.

The Parks and Recreation Department will open the following 12 city pools this summer: Cortez, Deer Valley, El Prado, Encanto, Falcon, Maryvale, Paradise Valley, Pecos, Perry, Starlight, Sunnyslope and University. Those pools will operate at a reduced capacity, have modified open swim and swimming lesson formats and staff will follow an enhanced cleaning protocol. Youth age 17 and younger will receive free admission for open swim at all pools through the city's Kool Kids program. The pools will operate on the city's normal seasonal schedule and be open six days a week from May 29 to Aug. 1 (closed Fridays), and on Saturdays and Sundays only from Aug. 7 to Sept. 6. Swim and dive teams, the water basketball league, and other aquatics activities and special events will not be offered this summer. Additional details about the 2021 pool season, and information regarding registration for swimming lessons, will be available later this month.

During the Easter holiday weekend (April 3 - 4), all city parks and amenities will remain open, but parking lots will be closed (those with an accessibility placard will be allowed access). Additionally, grilling and large gatherings will be prohibited. Historically during Easter weekend, thousands of visitors gather in city parks. Being outdoors is important for health and wellness, and the Parks and Recreation Department encourages residents to get outside and exercise.

Community members using the city's outdoor recreational amenities should continue to follow these guidelines.

- Do not use public recreational amenities if you are exhibiting symptoms of illness.
 - Wear a mask or face covering.
 - Bring your own wipes and hand sanitizer.
 - Keep a safe distance of six feet or more from others.
- Detailed information about the city's outdoor recreational options and free virtual recreation and fitness programs is available at Phoenix.gov/Parks.

The City of Phoenix Parks and Recreation Department is hosting virtual classes for all ages. They can visit the website www.phoenix.gov/parks for more information about classes.

WHEN YOU CALL 911 - KNOW THE 10 W'S

“Call if you can. Text if you can’t.” was the key message rolled out during a press conference on April 2nd as text to 9-1-1 service capability becomes available for the first time in the greater Phoenix region. If you are in imminent danger and unable to talk to a 9-1-1 operator, you now have the ability to text to 9-1-1. The service goes live following months of collaboration between numerous public agencies and advocates for the disability community.
