

KIM CLARK COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

OVERVIEW OF SERVICES

Kim Clark
Communications

Helping organizations build Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) communication skills and engage their folks in DEI work

We continuously face social and global events that impact us daily, weekly, and annually, which can shake our confidence. We've been leaning on what we've always done.

However, we will get what we've always gotten and we're in a time in history when we must go beyond what we know.

By learning and applying DEI Communication skills, we'll be able to carve a path and future that aids our organization in meeting business goals with DEI and prepares us for a to-be-determined future state.

Kim Clark Communications, Inc. specializes in working with folks in your organization who are key to messaging and communications. We'll work together to empower culture champions, Employee Resource Groups, people managers, while bringing hesitant, questioning colleagues along in the process.

We customize our approach to meet your unique culture and tie objectives and results to your organization's strategy and business goals.

DEI isn't the problem but rather a catalyst for solutions to organizational problems.

DEI efforts cannot be successful without aligned communications and messaging to tell a compelling story and vision which leads to action and includes every employee as part of the work.

"Your approach to DE&I is bold and challenging. At the same time somehow you also always make me feel ok about being human and not always getting it right."

"It was the best webinar I have attended. Kim made what is often a fear-inducing topic very approachable. Her very practical tips were encouraging and motivating. I'd love to have follow up sessions by her."
