As I know he joined this company as an assistant electrical engineer however his hard works and commitment has given him many promotions such as senior engineer after two years, assistant manager and then general manager when he managed to handle many contracts. On behalf of him, we also enjoyed many bonuses till date. I just want to say that he is not an ordinary leader. He is very passionate person and has will to learn new things in his life. He asked daily about our well-being, took care of us, and never feel ashamed of talking poor people. Really we have been blessed with such a big boss like him in this company.

Farewell Speech in honour of Mr. Satish Kulkarni by Mr. Pravin Mulay

Immense contribution within the educational environment has always been recorded and adored. He is none other that our Satish Kulkarni Sir, a person who elevated himself above the post of a Vice - Principal and offered us marvelous lessons of excellence. Sir, we are so used to such a pleasing and comfortable association that we can hardly imagine anybody else in your place.

Satish Sir means a complete professional who qualifies all the prerequisites of the worthy post as being fundamentally a teacher and a teacher trainer, perfect communicator, a proficient administrator, a soft skills expert and an updated resource person.

Four years in Oman as an education inspector for many schools and paper reading and presentation in UK have added many a feathers in his cap. Both these international assignments have added colours in his life and have bought many a laurels to our institution. It was due to this inspiration that I took an assignment abroad for two years as an English Satish Sir, a man of perfection and excellence elevated the spirit at the college at all levels. His accessibility to committed colleagues always paved ways for new horizons and dimensions. It was only due to his openness and freedom that some of us could administer and manage documents for academic correspondence. He has never forgotten to thank each one even for the slightest contribution in curricular and extra-curricular activities held in the campus. As a strong believer of creativity, he supported me a lot to go for novel projects and comprehensive plans.

A man who always took his staff into confidence and never dictated rules but constantly tried to convince what is good and what is more right in his own specialized way of communication. As simple as he appears, he gained respect wherever he stood and walked. This was only because of the freedom given to the staff and his strong belief that; yes, we too are responsible. This made every colleague enter his cabin without any nervousness or anxiety.

His confidence at every mission and approach at every assignment is exceptional and his trust in himself is extraordinary. What has made him so unique and amazing is his candidness and Really, he will be missed a lot by all of us here. I would like to say him good luck before starting new journey and wish him a great success in his life. Thank you sir for giving us such a wonderful years which will be stored in our heart forever. Thank you all. Farewell Speech for Boss on Retirement God morning to all. My dear colleagues, do you know why we have gathered here. I think you are imagining right, Yes! it is the farewell party of our boss on his retirement. How sad to say that he is getting retired. May be he gets retired from this office however he will never get retired from our heart. He will always be in our heart like our boss forever because no one can compare him and take his place. We are here today to give him farewell, it is very sad moment however we have to make it a happy moment in order to see him off very happily on his last working day. Farewell parties becomes very emotional and even much more, however we have to organize it. Our boss is a beloved person for everyone of us who has given his nice moments to us in this organization. He has been the part of our daily office life over a decades however he needs to go now as he has completed his full term of office here. We will miss him a lot especially his ever-smiling face, greeting in every morning and very polite commanding nature. In the official term, it is said that retirement becomes a nice and permanent relief for everyone from daily hectic life after long years of strenuous journey. Retirement is the time for getting relief from all those strains. We should not take retirement as sorrow because it brings good moments for the family and relaxed and refreshed life to the person retiring from the job. After retirement, one has not any time limitation for his activities. Retirement is a time to live life fully with the family and fulfill all the dreams he wishes. On the other hand, the person will be free from the burden of the office and can do whatever he wants to do.

Before I give an example, allow me to recap some key ideas one should know when preparing a farewell speech. I will assume this is a farewell speech from a person who is leaving.

The best way to prepare for a farewell speech is to consider the following:

- Where one is departing from (e.g., stepping down from a committee).
-  Different scenarios also mean different kinds of audiences. Consider the situation and the audience and how they perceive the upcoming leave.
- Highlight the wonderful things about the place in which you are departing from.
- Why one is departing.
- What one accomplished/moved/experienced before the departure.
- Where one plans to go after departure.
- The people effected by departure.
-  A farewell speech is an expression of goodwill and politeness. One does not have to be a professional to give a farewell speech.
- Anything else that will be effected by departure.
-  For example, what changes will be made at a faculty department when a professor retires.

With that outline, here's an example of a farewell speech in the context of a somebody retiring after working at the XYZ corporation for 20 years.

I would like to thank each and every one of you for gathering here this evening. It was 20 years ago since I was hired to work at XYZ corporation. I was just a young boy then, but I have learned a lot since then. The people who helped me to get my groundings. This corporation could thrive on its friendliness alone. That friendliness has rubbed off me since then.

But sadly, I must say that all things must come to an end. After 20 years of working for this wonderful corporation I need to retire. My health is not what it used to be and my family at home would like to see more of me. Don't get me wrong, I have certainly a big family at this corporation, and I will certainly miss that too.

Let me recount some of my favorite memories over the years. Do each of you recall at the 97 Christmas party when Larry showed up in a Santa suit and gave everyone surprise gifts? Or when the boss gave everyone the day off just because he was in a good mood? Wow, there's just too many good memories that I will leave behind.

He is good example of inspiration to us to earn name and fame by giving full commitment to the work. Everyone feel his physical absence from tomorrow in the office from tomorrow and miss him. I would like to say him thanks for everything and wish him a very healthy, wealthy and happy life after retirement. Thank you all. Farewell Speech by Boss himself! A very good evening to all. Well thank you, Mr. ... for your kind words on behalf of this company. I ma getting retired today and this is my farewell party arranged by you. Again thanks for giving me such a nice farewell. I would like to share you all my some nice moments in this office. It has been almost 23 years of working in this office. It was really a nice track for me on which I worked hard and enjoyed a lot with you all. When I joined the office I was on junior post working under my boss however my hard works and your love made me able to handle the post of boss very successfully. We have spent together many years however we were totally unaware of that and how fast the day has come when I have to take off from the office work. I was very innocent when I joined the office however it is truly said that time taught everyone. Gradually I became more responsible according to my post and salary offered. It was a nice journey which I can never forget and would be in my memory forever. It was Mr. ... whom I met first in this office. He was the person who taught me everything about my responsibilities. There was a day when I gave speech on his farewell party of retirement however I was totally unaware that one day I will also be retired and hear speech by someone you on my retirement.

My dear friends, I would like to say you a goodbye and thanks for everything especially the love and care you have given to me. I am sorry to you all for my unknown mistakes and wish you all for your bright career and peaceful life. Thanks for your wonderful presence at my farewell. Thank you very much.
