PERSONAL PROFILE

I am a Clinical Psychologist in Neuropsychology and Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC) registered Practitioner (Clinical) Psychologist with a background in neuropsychological assessment and neurorehabilitation across NHS and private inpatient, outpatient, residential and community settings. I am a Chartered Member and Associate Fellow of the British Psychological Society (BPS) and its Division of Clinical Psychology, and I hold a Postgraduate Diploma in Clinical Neuropsychology from the University of Glasgow. I am entered on the BPS Register of Applied Psychology Practice Supervisors (RAPPS) and provide supervision to psychologists with a range of experience. I am currently an Associate of Rowley Clinical Neuropsychology Services Ltd, providing treating clinician services in the context of serious and catastrophic injury litigation, and I have completed the Cardiff University Bond Solon Civil Expert Witness Certificate.

Since returning to the UK in 2006 I have worked with people across the whole of the lifespan, in both clinical and forensic settings. This has involved neuropsychological assessment of the ageing brain and of the effects of acquired brain injury, work within dementia services, and the development and implementation of person-centred neurorehabilitation plans. Earlier in my career, in Adelaide, I worked with children and adolescents with a physical and/or learning disability, and with their parents, families and schools. I helped establish a Brain Injury Support Service for children with an acquired brain injury (ABI), and was instrumental in developing and delivering the first of what has become a bi-annual conference on working with children with ABI.

I graduated with a Master of Psychology (Clinical) from the University of South Australia and, upon return to the UK, gained an Advanced Diploma in Disability Psychotherapy from the CPCAB (Counselling and Psychotherapy Central Awarding Body). Following a Statement of Equivalence with the British Psychological Society, I completed a Doctor of Psychology (PsyD) at the University of Leicester, studying the role of implicit memory in the development of post-traumatic stress following an ICU stay.
