A MESSAGE FROM JANELLE MOORE, OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

It's unpopular to put a long message on a website. My time is limited and I want you to know some seriously amazing and important stuff is happening.

I would like you to imagine a traditional event in which Industry pays big bucks to the middle man (or middle woman) to put "butts in seats". Then, Industry makes a sales pitch and attendees endure a process to pay for tuition and attend with a mission to learn something to help take back to work. Everyone only gets a limp salad and some rubber chicken for lunch, and some scalded coffee. Then there may or may not be follow up and people start to wonder if it was even worth the trouble or time. Are you shuddering with disdain yet?

FITGovSummit is different than other Summits because FITGovSummit is a culmination of producing events for years for Educational Partners and working closely fostering public private partnership at a variety of levels of government. FITGovSummit is the essence of re-imagining and re-defining event success. FITGovSummit is education combined with amenities and action plans for those "next steps" to take back at the office. That's not enough in my opinion, so I've negotiated access to CPIC Forum's collaboration portal, where you can continue the conversations for a year until next May's FITGovSummit: with tools, templates, white papers, artifact examples, links and group connectivity a. For a year, included in your tuition are these helpful tools as much as you need to use them. Now you don't have to worry about a business card or a missed connection or a list- it's all there at your fingertips. I've listened to everything you've told me and I've designed this concept with feedback from the Forum's membership as well as thought leaders and experts in fields throughout the federal enterprise.

I am a firm believer everyone has something to teach and something to learn. I'm pairing wisdom givers and wisdom-seekers for educational reciprocity. I am leveraging over twenty years of my experience and my network to bring together some of the top niche talent in the District and beyond, at a variety of levels in agencies, department, and the Oversight branch in order to provide access to deep knowledge ordinarily lost in the silos and swim lanes of the federal enterprise. Each Wisdom-Seeker will benefit from a theatre-style series of Executive Keynote presentations and the annual CPIC Forum's popular draw: the CIO Panel. The Cooper-Godlove Awards of Excellence Luncheon Banquet will be open to all participants to recognize and celebrate our community's accomplishments.

After lunch on Monday, Wisdom-Givers begin presenting hour-sessions on a variety of project, program, and portfolio and investment management topics- diving into guidance, policy, compliance, governance and capital planning. Additionally, I am teaming up with Artifact Academy by adding high-demand tracks on Hot Topics to include Technology Business Management (TBM), Acquisition Reform (FITARA) implementation, Diversity & Inclusion, Cybersecurity, Cryptocurrency, Artificial Intelligence and much more. Monday will conclude with a reception. These sessions will continue after breakfast Tuesday morning until lunchtime.

Those in Project/ Portfolio Management swim-lanes will improve their access and knowledge in core areas where the federal government is heavily investing in technology - and the upper echelon of those practitioners involved in the programming, planning, budgeting, acquisition, procurement and governance of these emerging technologies can gain insights into how to review the justifications for these programs and investments to be funded and prioritized in the President's Budget Requests and the Congressional Justifications. Everyone needs to know where they stand- and where their work matters in the process of translating tax dollars to missions like protecting, securing and defending the homeland, providing world-class care to our Nation's Veterans, or providing aid to suffering nations as we remind ourselves of the deep importance of being responsible global citizenry. FITGovSummit is the intersection where strategy, modernization, solutions architecture and planning meet implementation and execution. FITGovSummit is appropriate for skill levels ranging from Junior to Journeyman (Journey-woman) to Expert and Executive.

I hope you will join us at the FITGovSummit on May 13th and 14th. There are a variety of ways to participate and my vision is to be inclusive, inspiring and innovative. I welcome you to be a part of the best thing to happen in FEDucation in a very, very long time. Click here to see WHAT IS COMING FitGovSummit 2019 / fedgovsummit.org

WHAT'S COMING IN MAY? Click here

Federal CPIC Forum presents the Federal Information Technology (FIT) Government Summit. FITGovSummit conjoins the Annual CPIC Conference, now in its 12th year, with the project management Artifact Academy to bring expansion to this unique learning event. Capital Planning and Investment Control (CPIC) continues to be a mandated Investment and Portfolio management activity within the federal government. Its purpose is for properly managing and governing Capital Planning Investments in accordance with guidance such as the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular No. A-11, Preparation, Submission, and Execution of the Budget and the OMB Circular No. A-130, Managing Information as a Strategic Resource. CPIC reporting roles continue to evolve. Changes within the Administration, strained media relationships, emerging new initiatives such as Technology Business Management (TBM) and Entrepreneurial government and evolving project, portfolio and programmatic management are some examples of the core impacts to niche project management career fields and what is being reported.

Frequently the layers of the federal government personnel who perform project, program or portfolio management responsibilities centered on major investments do not understand CPIC, and CPIC people don't always understand how to evaluate project management artifacts for compliance and submittal with business case justifications and budget requests. The FITGovSummit brings together the Wisdom-givers who are experienced with artifacts, processes, guidance, best practices and tools to enable "FIT" Government; a core differentiator from other training that provides only the highest-level overview or courses intensive and subject specific. The FITGovSummit pairs practitioners and educational partners for inclusive learning combined with issuance of Continuous Learning Point (CLP) credit applicable for continuing professional education.

Participating in the FITGovSummit allows the CPIC Forum to continually evolve our educational value to meet the expanding needs of the project management and financial management communities. With the support of our sustaining educational partners, CPIC Forum provides year-round value to FITGovSummit participants, to include:

CREATING PATHWAYS FOR ACTIVE COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

CPIC Forum has the following active Special Interest Groups (SIGs).

- Community Outreach (Social Networking, Recruiting, Events, Newsletter, Meetings, Elections)
- Technology Business Management
- Certification & Education
- Performance Metrics and Value Measurement
- Business Development & Networking
- FITARA
- Elections Committee
- Awards
- Identity & Branding

Need a different one? Let the team know. We are forming a list of other SIG topics.

MAKING ORGANIZATIONAL & STAFFING IMPROVEMENTS

This year, the Management and Operations duties of the Forum continue with our internal staff. Christy Davenport-Everett continues handling our marketing, communications and registrations. Laura Johnson continues to work the annual event, agenda, speakers, and awards - making it look easy while she does the heavy lifting.

OVERHAULING OUR WEBSITE, FORMS AND MATERIALS

You will notice the rebranding of Forum materials and the website as we make updates and improvements. There will be more opportunities for each of you as members to assist in taking the Forum's presence to the next level - via the Special Interest Groups. There is a seat at the table for every member who wants to participate. Launch of new websites and content at:

EXTENDING THE C2AI PROGRAM

After four successful years in the initial stages of the C2AI program, and a 100% success rate defined by graduates securing full-time employment, we have extended the program and launched a commercial about the program available for viewing and sharing at cpicforum.org. We need your help referring applicants into the program and sponsoring applicants within the program, so please share our commercial liberally on your LinkedIn, Twitter, YouTube, Facebook, and other Apps.

Thank you for being at the 2019 FitGovSummit. Thank you for being part of the community. Thank you for being a Forum member.

COOPER-GODLOVE

CPIC AWARDS OF EXCELLENCE

PURPOSE: The Federal Capital Planning and Investment Control (CPIC) Forum Awards Program was established in 2007, as set forth in the CPIC Forum Charter. It is designed to encourage support for the Mission and Goals of the Forum by recognizing outstanding individual and organizational achievements and contributions in capital planning and related areas (Enterprise Architecture (Ea), Portfolio Management (Pfm) and Earned Value Management (EVM)), and for promoting and supporting the Forum.

NAME CHANGE: In 2013, The CPIC Forum Conference Executive Steering Committee and Advisory Board was to change the name of the CPIC Awards of Excellence to the Godlove-Cooper CPIC Awards of Excellence, recognizing the significant CPIC community contributions of Mrs. Stacey Godlove and Mr. Terry Cooper; posthumously. Mrs. Godlove and Mr. Cooper are survived by their wonderful and amazing families.

THE CONSULTANTS-TO-ANALYSTS INITIATIVE (C2AI)

Zen Federal, The ArcSource Group and Oxford Government Consulting are proud to be founding partners of the Consultants-To-Analysts Initiative (C2AI) with Forum. C2AI is an innovative recruitment and training initiative to address the disparity between the current demand for qualified, current, knowledgeable professionals in the CPIC, budget, acquisition and governance career fields and the existing supply. The most significant disparity in CPIC and Governance- qualified professionals are those who are certified in these processes through the Capital Planning Professional (CPP) certification. Companies are teaming with the Federal CPIC Forum to bring innovation and new, freshly-trained and qualified CPIC and governance talent to our clients.

We are developing an initiative to address growing demands for qualified and certified analysts. Our goal is to grow an annual cohort of new resources for recruitment, training and placement into junior and mid-level positions. This includes a combination of required study and reading, attendance in required training courses, conference attendance, webinar training, as well as coaching and mentoring via the Federal CPIC Forum, all of which complies with the core knowledge and competency requirements to obtain the Capital Planning Professional (CPP) certification, when combined with applied experience and a passing exam score.

This Candidates-to-Analysts Initiative (C2AI) is currently accepting applications for the second year cohort. Ideal candidates may come from a variety of different backgrounds: college graduates, wounded warriors, retiring veterans, military spouses or those interested in making a career transition. For more information, or to apply, visit cpicforum.org.

CPP CERTIFICATION

The Capital Planning Professional (CPP) certification was developed by the FitGovSummit and Certification Special Interest Group. The purpose of the certification is to provide a formal level of distinction for the best and brightest subject matter experts in the field of federal capital planning and investment control. In addition, it also acknowledges individuals who share the same combination of professional ethics, knowledge and experience that are the hallmarks of excellence within the profession. The FitGovSummit will provide for the administration of the CPP, which will include independent verification and validation of references and content of applications, approvals, and certification of appropriate applicants, denials of certification (when appropriate) and management tracking of certified CPP members.

For more information, email assistant@cpicforum.org or call 877-469-6790.

In 2019, the Federal CPIC Forum launched the certification process for the Capital Planning Professional Instructor (CPP-I) certification. Individuals who have been working in the field of capital planning for a minimum of 6.5 years may be eligible to qualify if the applicant has completed at least four training courses. The applicant will need to complete an application to apply in order to obtain the CPP-I certification.
