501st LEGION COSTUME REFERENCE LIBRARY – PAGETTI ROOK

Description: Weequay:Pagetti Rook

Prefix: DZ

Detachment: Underworld Detachment

Context: Star Wars: Episode VI

Pagetti Rook is a Weequay, a species native to the desert world of Sriluur. The tough leathery skin helps them endure the harsh conditions of their home world, while also providing natural resistance to blaster fire, making them ideal bodyguards and bounty hunters.

This Visual Guide has been reviewed by the detachment staff and the LMO team and is certified for use as a minimum approval guideline for GMLs. GMLs are free to approve this costume type.

- This document is not intended to be a detailed how-to on costume construction; rather a visual guide to be used for 501st costume approval. Details on construction may be found on the respective costume detachment web forum.
- GMLs uncertain about an aspect of submitted costume shall post questions in the appropriate DL/GML peer review section of the Legion forum.
- Measurements given in this document are intended to be approximate and generalized; not criteria for approval.
- Requirements for all 501st costumes are proportional to the wearer in scale, fit and size.
- Text descriptions are only one part of the guideline. GMLs and costumers must consider both text and pictures (CRL and Reference) when reviewing the costume.
