

Crys' Shopping Spree and a Taste of Home

For eight-year-old Crys and his family, the past year has been a difficult journey since his diagnosis with bone cancer. They relocated from their home in Brazil to Massachusetts so Crys could receive expert medical treatment, leaving behind their friends, family, and support system. That distance made the approval of Crys' shopping spree wish even more meaningful for him and his loved ones.

On the day of his wish, Crys was picked up in a limousine, a list of dream items in hand. He and his family visited Walmart and the South Shore Plaza, where he carefully chose brand-new treasures: a PlayStation 5 with video games, a big-screen TV, two pairs of sneakers, a new bicycle, and a stuffed character from Build-A-Bear. A highlight of the day was enjoying a meal at a Brazilian restaurant, which brought the warmth of home to this special celebration and made Crys feel truly honored and celebrated.

Thanks to you, Crys now has new sources of comfort and joy through his favorite games and toys. We are deeply grateful for your generosity in making this possible.
