

Empire State
Council of Agricultural Organizations, Inc.

EXHIBIT / SUPPORTER OPPORTUNITIES
AVAILABLE TO THE AGRI-BUSINESS COMMUNITY!

Be a supporter of the only agricultural advocacy group that represents the full spectrum of production agriculture and agribusiness associations in New York.

Currently, the Empire State Council of Agricultural Organizations is comprised of 25 members, including farmer-owned cooperatives and farm, commodity and agribusiness organizations. CAO provides an umbrella organization that considers issues relating to all components of the farm and food sector and develops a policy book based on unanimous approval by all members. Our policy book is distributed to the State Legislature and to Executive Branch officials and we conduct an annual lobby day in Albany. CAO members are committed to working together on programs and policies that will strengthen Empire State agriculture. While most of the policies that we deal with are state issues we do have national policies, as well.

Your organization is an important part of the food and agriculture industry. We would greatly appreciate your support consideration to help assure that the CAO continues to advocate for New York's food and agriculture system. Be recognized for your support through logo placement on a sign at CAO's Annual Meeting, Annual Meeting program brochure, Annual Meeting exhibit space, and email blasts to our members (see breakdown of opportunities under levels below).
