Empire State
Council of Agricultural Organizations, Inc.

Dear Empire State Council of Agricultural Organizations Members:

The Board of Directors of the Empire State Council of Agricultural Organizations (CAO) is pleased to provide you with the 2023-2024 Membership Directory. This is a great resource that provides the contact information of all member organizations. Additionally, a membership application is included if you know of another organization that would benefit from being a member.

To assist in generating additional revenue, CAO offers an Agribusiness sponsorship level. Please consider passing along this opportunity to your vendor supplier service companies as a show of support. More information on this opportunity can be found in the Directory.

CAO's Lobby Day was held in-person in 2023 and our group met with many key legislators. In addition to CAO members' budget priorities, members discussed three key topics with legislators and staff:

- New York State Budget Recommendations
- Labor: Level the playing field so NY farms can stay competitive
- Positive Business Climate: public and private investment in agriculture
- Agriculture's Role in Environmental Policy

If you did not have the opportunity to participate, please consider joining us next year!

Plans are underway for our next Resolution Screening Meeting and the date/format/location will be announced soon.

If you have any suggestions for CAO or items to discuss, please don't ever hesitate to contact me, our other Executive Board members, or staff at the office. Please be sure to visit our website for membership information and past event photos at www.empirestatecao.info.

I look forward to working with all of you on the important issues facing the agriculture industry in New York State during the coming year.

Sincerely,

Sam Filler
Chair

Empire State
Council of Agricultural Organizations, Inc.

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

Thank you for your interest in becoming a member of the Empire State Council of Agricultural Organizations (CAO). The Council was formed to enable its members to develop a united effort on fundamental economic, social, legislative/regulatory and other state and national issues affecting agriculture in New York State. CAO is built on collective strength and policy statements are unanimously adopted by its entire membership, representing numerous facets of New York's agricultural industry.

A copy of the Council's most recent membership list can be found on the CAO website at www.empirestatecao.info. CAO's policy book and bylaws are the documents upon which basis CAO operates. In order to be considered for membership, applicants must agree with the principles contained within these documents. These documents can also be found on the CAO website.

Empire State
Council of Agricultural Organizations, Inc.

Agriculture in New York State is a vibrant, increasingly self-sufficient, innovative industry that takes control of its destiny.

- Goal & Objectives of CAO -

To improve the profitability of the agriculture and food industry in New York State.

- * Strengthen working relationships between all sectors of the industry (commodity sectors, support services, processing, retail and wholesale) and between the industry and government.
- * Improve the business climate for agriculture - reduce regulatory burdens and taxes, assure adequate support services and a trained labor force.
- * Develop markets by building on our advantages - close proximity to markets (large, urban consumer centers, areas of urban sprawl/tourism routes) and hubs of global trade.
- * Position members of the industry so they can adapt to change - economic, technological, marketplace (i.e. consumer demand) and environmental.
- * Enhance research (targeted to NY conditions, biotechnology) and assure an effective mechanism to transfer the information to end user.
- * Increase public awareness of the industry and improve agriculture's image with the non-farm sector. Identify those issues or matters where a coalition with the public can be developed.
- * Build leadership within the industry and establish a climate that not only maintains those involved in the industry, but encourages leaders to enter the industry.

The Empire State Council of Agricultural Organizations has, since its formation, enabled its members to develop a united effort on fundamental economic, social, legislative, administrative, and other local, state, and national issues affecting the viability of agriculture in New York State.
