

Empire State
Council of Agricultural Organizations, Inc.

2024 SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES
AVAILABLE TO THE AGRI-BUSINESS COMMUNITY!

Be a supporter of the only agricultural advocacy group that represents the full spectrum of production agriculture and agribusiness associations in New York.

Currently, the Empire State Council of Agricultural Organizations is comprised of 30 members, including farmer-owned cooperatives and farm, commodity and agribusiness organizations. CAO provides an umbrella organization that considers issues relating to all components of the farm and food sector and develops a policy book based on unanimous approval by all members. Our policy book is distributed to the State Legislature and to Executive Branch officials and we conduct an annual lobby day in Albany. CAO members are committed to working together on programs and policies that will strengthen Empire State agriculture. While most of the policies that we deal with are state issues we do have national policies, as well.
