INQUIRY: REAL STRENGTH IN A CHALLENGING WORLD

In the wake of the coronavirus, we live in a challenging world.

When Inquiry, the central practice of the Diamond Approach, is infused with real strength our inner journey and our lives are enlivened. This essential strength and aliveness is needed in light of the challenges we encounter with Inquiry and in our lives.

True inner strength and aliveness give us a sense that we have the capacity to meet those challenges. This, in turn, energizes our inquiry, allowing us to discover who we really are at our depth.

Diamond Approach Florida, a new open group, is offering this free public webinar on September 26 and welcomes new attendees. There will be a talk evoking our depth, meditation and personal inquiry exploration. These teachings and practices have the potential to help us meet the challenges of these times.

TEACHERS: Ilene Buchalter, a Diamond Approach teacher since 2002, works in person and online with groups and individuals living in Florida, Colorado, the Southeast, across the U.S., and internationally.

Caroline Pietrangelo Owens, a Diamond Approach teacher since 2016, works in person and online with groups and individuals living in Florida, California, throughout the United States, and internationally.
